2023 01 book inventory vladimir djambov talmach html Paul's Anthropology in Context Geurt Hendrik van Kooten, 2008 Expanded version of a collection of essays published elsewhere previously between 2005 and 2008 plus one new essay published here for the first time The Problem of Evil in the Ancient World Mark Edwards, 2023-06-22 The aim of this book is to ascertain how ancient Greek and Latin authors both pagan and Christian formulated and answered what is now called the problem of evil The survey ranges chronologically from the classical and Hellenistic eras through the Roman era to the end of the pagan world Six of the twelve chapters are devoted to Christianity including Manichaeism as one thesis of the book is that the problem of evil takes an acute form only for Christians since no other philosophy of antiquity posits a personal God exercising providence over individuals without having to overcome countervailing forces None the less it will also be shown that Greek philosophies Platonism in particular come close to the Christian formulation Being conscious of the affinity between Greek thought and their own early Christians respond to the problem of evil in the same way as the philosophers by questioning the existence of evil rather than of the divine Coping With the Gods Henk Versnel, 2011-05-10 Inspired by a critical reconsideration of current monolithic approaches to the study of Greek religion this book argues that ancient Greeks displayed a disquieting capacity to validate two or more dissonant if not contradictory representations of the divine world in a complementary rather than mutually exclusive manner From this perspective the six chapters explore problems inherent in order vs variety chaos in polytheism arbitrariness vs justice in theodicy the peaceful co existence of mono and polytheistic theologies human traits in divine imagery divine omnipotence vs limitation of power and ruler cult Based on an intimate knowledge of ancient realia and literary testimonia the book stands out for its extensive application of relevant perceptions drawn from cultural anthropology theology cognitive science psychology and linguistics Animals and their Relation to Gods, Humans and Things in the Ancient World Raija Mattila, Sanae Ito, Sebastian Fink, 2019-03-11 While Human Animal Studies is a rapidly growing field in modern history studies on this topic that focus on the Ancient World are few The present volume aims at closing this gap It investigates the relation between humans animals gods and things with a special focus on the structure of these categories An improved understanding of the ancient categories themselves is a precondition for any investigation into the relation between them The focus of the volume lies on the Ancient Near East but it also provides studies on Ancient Greece Asia Minor Mesoamerica the Far East and Arabia Paul and the Gentile Problem Matthew Thiessen, 2016 Paul and the Gentile Problem provides a new explanation for the apostle Paul's statements about the Jewish law Instead of understanding his arguments against circumcision to be criticisms of Judaism or the law this book makes the case that Paul meant to oppose gentile judaizing Image, Word and God in the Early Christian Centuries Mark Edwards, 2016-05-13 Christianity proclaims Christ and the incarnate word of God the Bible is described as the Word of God in both Jewish and Christian tradition Are these usages merely homonymous or would the ancients have recognized a more intimate relation between the word incarnate and the word proclaimed This book investigates the concept of logos in pagan Jewish and Christian thought with a view to elucidating the polyphonic functions which the word acquired when used in theological discourse Edwards presents a survey of theological applications of the term Logos in Greek Jewish and Christian thought from Plato to Augustine and Proclus Special focus is placed on the relation of words to images in representation of divine realm the relation between the logos within reason and the logos without speech both in linguistics and in Christology the relation between the incarnate Word and the written text and the place of reason in the interpretation of revelation Bringing together materials which are rarely synthesized in modern study this book shows how Greek and biblical thought part company in their appraisal of the capacity of reason to grasp the nature of God and how in consequence verbal revelation plays a more significant role in biblical teaching Edwards shows how this entailed the rejection of images in Jewish and Christian thought and how the manifestation in flesh of Christ as the living word of God compelled the church to reconsider both the relation of word to image and the interplay between the logos within and the written logos in the formulation of Christian doctrine
