Nuth, 2001 Examines the extraordinary flowering of English spirituality in the fourteenth and early fifteenth centuries      Treating the New Anxiety Kirk A. Bingham, 2007-09-16 A new form of anxiety has emerged stemming in part from our post 9 11 reality but even more stemming from the influence of supermodernity Whereas postmodernism theorizes an anxiety that results from the collapse or loss of meaning through the lens of supermodernity it appears that the new anxiety is evoked more by an excess of meaning generated by the rapid acceleration of human life and the media's daily bombardment with serious global national and local concerns This book explores the nature of the anxiety our supermodern condition provokes and proposes that with the void left by the diminishment of religious involvement and practice the therapy session becomes the definitive place for meaning making Building on a cognitive therapy approach that emphasizes the client's belief system Bingham demonstrates that to treat this new anxiety most effectively practitioners must help clients identify and explore their core theological beliefs and spiritual values      The Consolations of Theology Brian S. Julian of Norwich and the Problem of Evil Richard Norton, 2023-10-26 Julian of Norwich's Revelations of Divine Love grapples with the same fundamental question that has vexed philosophers and theologians since the advent of monotheistic religion and continues as a barrier to belief for many today Namely if God is so good how can natural disaster genocide trauma and my present suffering occur Historically there have been two apparently very different approaches to the problem the pastoral or practical on the one hand and the systematic on the other However Richard Norton suggests that these two lines of thought may not be as separate as they seem and may indeed be dependent on one another for their cohesion Drawing on Julian's medieval experience of personal and population wide suffering alongside that of more recent theologians such as Dorothy Solle and Jurgen Moltmann Norton constructs a compassionate model of theodicy that can be of use to both pastoral and systematic theologians Throughout he remains sensitive to the raw atrocity of evil while preserving a vision of God as the one who ensures that all shall be well
