Organization Development in the Largest Global Organization Robert L. Reinhard, Peter F. Sorensen, Therese F. Yaeger, 2022-01-01 The U S military as the core constituent of the Department of Defense collectively represents the largest and most complex organization on earth As such the U S military implemented the largest formal OD programs in the world These programs from inception to present day utilized diverse and evolving OD intervention typologies to garner congruence with the environment. The research for this book accomplished using an inductive grounded theory approach examined the initiatives that fostered the use of OD intervention typologies. The findings revealed three major epochs of OD interventions that span a 50-year timeline. The epochs include 1 Traditional OD, 2 Total Quality Management (TQM), and 3 Continuous Process Improvement (CPI). The epoch of Traditional OD represents the use of human process interventions, while TQM and CPI represent the use of technostuctural interventions. In the end, the relationship between organization design and culture and the selection of OD intervention typologies were best explained using variables that explicate diverse environmental occurrences that influenced senior military leaders' perceived need for specific OD interventions. These perceived needs were predicated on the requirement to exploit vital resources in an effort to bolster warfighting operational readiness in support of the American citizenry.

Redesigning the Nursing and Human Resource Partnership Yupin Aung, Suroch, Joko Gunawan, Mary L. Fisher, 2021-11-05. This book focuses on the partnership between nursing and human resource management in hospital administration. In doing so, it addresses the barriers and challenges in the process of competence-based recruitment and selection, training and development, rewards and benefits, performance appraisal, career planning, and development and succession planning of nurses in the hospitals, specifically to face the new normal era. There is no doubt that the demand for nurses has been great during the COVID-19 pandemic. Nurses have become the heroes in the battle of the virus, and their hard work should be appreciated. Yet, burnout, stress, and depression among nurses have become the main issues during the pandemic. Some nurses leave their jobs and profession due to an excessive and stressful workload.
