Heading Out The New Saskatchewan Poets:

The Literary History of Saskatchewan David Carpenter, 2014-02-01 Progressions presents another batch of erudite and entertaining essays on a variety of topics covering Saskatchewan's literary development as well as tributes to some of the major contributors to that history and a pictorial glimpse into the past. Writers stopped using typewriters and even moved beyond the Kaypro computer box for their compositions. The Saskatchewan School of the Arts was shut down ending the Fort San writing experience. But the Sage Hill Writing Experience quickly rose to replace it. Saskatchewan literary presses really found their feet and published important and lasting books. A wave of new writers joined the founders of the province's literary tradition. Responding to this growth in the community the Saskatchewan Book Awards and the Saskatchewan Festival of Words in Moose Jaw came into being. The Saskatchewan writing community stormed out of the 20th Century in a frenzy of creativity and accomplishment. Essay contributors to Volume 2 include Dave Margoshes, Jeanette Lynes, Aritha Van Herk, Alison Calder and seven more. The eleven essays include such topics as To House or House Not The New Saskatchewan Women Poets, Contemporary Nature Writing in Saskatchewan, Fort San, Sage Hill and Brave and Foolish Nonconformists. In addition literary tributes are offered for Caroline Heath, Pat Krause, Martha Blum and Max Braithwaite. Saskatchewan Writers University of Regina. Canadian Plains Research Center, 2004. The more than 175 biographies in this volume together tell the story of writing in Saskatchewan. As David Carpenter notes in his Introduction to the volume, "The writers whose lives are told in these pages are part of an extraordinary cultural community that has touched and been touched by the people and landscape of this province." International Who's Who in Poetry 2005 Europa Publications, 2004. Provides up to date profiles on the careers of leading and emerging poets. Outlier Walter Hildebrandt, 1997. The poetry in Outlier discovers in the margins of society the forgotten stories, those tales that lie outside traditional histories. Hildebrandt is a guide who takes the reader beyond the well worn tracks of the official tour into landscapes of word or earth that offer hints of where the real bones are buried. 15 Canadian Poets X 3 Gary Geddes, 2001. This is the fourth edition of Gary Geddes' highly successful anthology of Canadian poetry. All of the poets included in the previous editions have been retained although their selections have been carefully reconsidered. Among new poets added to this edition are Anne Carson, Dionne Brand, Daphne Marlatt, bpNichol, Louise Bernice Halfe and Fred Wah. Most poets are represented by several poems to allow students to gain greater understanding and appreciation for their work. With the Whales in the Water Martha Gould, 1997. Gullivers July 2003.

Reading the River Myrna Kostash, Duane Burton, 2005. Framed within her own view of this great river, well known prairie writer Myrna Kostash has combed the available literature to compile this compendium of writings, poetry, fiction and non-fiction from those who spent time reading the river. Beginning with Saskatchewan River Crossing at the river's source, she takes the reader through 21 communities along the North Saskatchewan from Edmonton to Prince Albert, from Shandro Crossing, Alberta to The Pas, Manitoba. Included are the words of people from writers like Hugh McLennan, Eli Mandel, Aritha van Herk John V Hicks and Tomson Highway to the explorer Alexander Mackenzie 19th Century mountaineer James Monroe Thorington to a Cree legend Reading the River opens with an introduction by Myrna Kostash and a charting of the geological origins of the North Saskatchewan River and closes it with The Future River a commentary in several voices on among other things the river's likely return to a place of prominence in prairie lives not as a transportation route but this time as a source of crucial fresh water Each author has a concise biography setting their remarks in the context of their time and their works What emerges is a portrait of this vital lifeline the terrain and the culture that grew and is growing on its shores to be appreciated by anyone who travels on along or merely to the great river
