The Great Eastern Railway, The Late 19th and Early 20th Century, 1862-1924 Charles Phillips, 2024-08-30 This is the second volume of the history of the Great Eastern Railway from 1811 to 1924 This volume covers from 1862 when the Great Eastern Railway was formed to 1924 when with the absorption of the Colne Valley and Halstead Railway and the Mid Suffolk Light Railway into the LNER the cessation of locomotive building at Stratford and the departure of the Company's last General Manager Sidney Parnwell the GER could finally be said to exist The history covers many things including the building and the subsequent expansion of Liverpool Street station and the development of the extensive suburban system The Company's attempts to gain direct access to the northern coal fields which resulted in the formation of the Great Northern and Great Eastern Joint Line is mentioned as is the abortive proposed working union with the Great Northern and the Great Central railways Relations with London Tilbury and Southend Railway including the battle for the Southend traffic from 1911 are dealt with as is the effect of Midland Railway takeover of that Railway How the GER dealt with the threat of electric tube railways at the turn of the 20th century receives attention as do the abortive proposals in 1918 for the electrification of the Company's suburban services

The Great Eastern Railway, The Early History, 1811-1862 Charles Phillips, 2025-08-05 This book is the first of two which covers the history of the Great Eastern Railway and its predecessors from the first proposal for a railway in the eastern counties in 1811 for a railway from Islington to Wallasea Island and Mucking to its absorption into the London and North Eastern Railway under the 1923 Grouping of Railways This volume covers the period from 1811 up to the formation of the Great Eastern Railway in 1862 The history is the first history of the GER since Cecil J Allen's history of the railway which was first published in 1955 and which has long been out of print The book makes use of both previously published works on the GER and its predecessors but also contemporary documents such as the Directors reports to shareholders of the Eastern Counties Railway timetables reports in local and national newspapers as well as extracts from selected peoples diaries Some of which were not easily available to Allen when he wrote his history of the GER Incorporating these other sources means the book sheds new light on the Railway's history The book is intended for anyone who is either interested in railways and particularly the Great Eastern Railway and the railways of the east of England but also for anyone who is interested in general in the history of that part of England
