Great Sikh Martyrs:

The Great Sikh Martyrs Piārā Singhā Dātā, 1999 Baba Deep Singh Daljeet Singh Sidhu, 2016 Baba Deep Singh is one of the most revered martyrs in Sikh history Throughout his life he exemplified the saint soldier spirit of the Khalsa He first joined Guru Gobind Singh and then Baba Banda Singh Bahadur to fight several wars against the Mughals When Ahmad Shah Abdali was returning to Kabul after enslaving hundreds of men and women from Hindustan Baba Deep Singh rescued them in valiant attacks upon the Afghan army He ultimately sacrificed his life at the age of seventy five when he mounted an attack to drive out the Afghans from Harmandir Sahib the holiest Sikh shrine thus restoring it to the Sikhs Martyrdom, Self-sacrifice, and Self-immolation Margo Kitts, 2018 Suicide in the forms of martyrdom self sacrifice or self immolation is perennially controversial Should it rightly be termed suicide Does religion sanction it Should it be celebrated or anathematized At least some idealization of such self chosen deaths is found in every religious tradition treated in this volume from ascetic heroes who conquer their passions to save others by dying to righteous warriors who suffer and die valiantly while challenging the status quo At the same time there are persistent disputes about the concepts used to justify these deaths such as altruism heroism and religion itself In this volume renowned scholars bring their literary and historical expertise to bear on the contested issue of religiously sanctioned suicide Three examine contemporary movements with disputed classical roots while eleven look at classical religious literatures which variously laud and disparage figures who invite self harm to the point of death Overall the volume offers an important scholarly corrective to the axiom that religious traditions simply and always embrace life at any cost Dead for Good Hugh D. Barlow, 2015-12-03 An easily accessible account of the development of martyrdom Barlow presents a masterful account of how religion death and sacrifice developed into the cult of martyrdom of today Mia Bloom University of Georgia and author of Dying to Kill The Allure of Suicide Terror Thoroughly researched yet full of novel like gripping narratives this book succeeds in giving the reader a glimpse of what might happen in the mind of candidates to martyrdom while never losing sight of the overall context that brings this phenomenon into being and fuels it Gilbert Achcar author of The Clash of Barbarisms Hugh Barlow is a gifted writer In this book he uses his skills as a renowned sociologist to bring the reader a refreshing and engaging analysis This is a must read for anyone who is interested in understanding martyrdom operations from a broad historical and cultural perspective Ami Pedahzur University of Texas at Austin Dead for Good vividly describes how history gave rise to the suicide bombers of today The passionate submission of ancient Jewish and Christian martyrs was largely supplanted by militant self sacrifice as Islam spread and holy war erupted in the Crusades In the Indian Punjab the Khalsa Sikhs made warrior martyrdom an instinct and policy in their defense of community and of justice In a last ditch effort to defeat the Allies in World War II the Japanese transformed warrior martyrs into martyr warriors trained to sacrifice themselves in attacks on enemy carriers The current suicide bomber is the latest phase Whether motivated by nationalism religious ideology or a combination of both the new
