Great Tween Buying Machine:

Branded Alissa Quart, 2008-12-17 Generation Y has grown up in an age of the brand bombarded by name products In Branded Alissa Quart illuminates the unsettling new reality of marketing to teenagers as well as the quieter but no less worrisome forms of teen branding the teen consultants who work for corporations in exchange for product the girls obsessed with cosmetic surgery who will do anything to look like women on TV and those teens simply obsessed with admission into a name brand college We also meet the pockets of kids attempting to turn the tables on the cocksure corporations that so cynically strive to manipulate them Chilling thought provoking even darkly amusing Branded brings one of the most disturbing and least talked about results of contemporary business and culture to the fore and ensures that we will never look at today's youth the same way again The Great Tween Buying Machine David L. Siegel, Timothy J. Coffey, Gregory Livingston, 2001

Middle Schoolers, Meet Media Literacy Jim Wasserman, David W. Loveland, 2019-01-19 In a world of media saturation children today are not future consumers of information and goods but targeted participants involved in a game in which they don't know the rules or even that they are playing yet one that will affect them throughout their lives This book is a teaching manual that helps teachers not only explain the concepts of consumer economics and media literacy to middle schoolers but supplies lessons for students to get hands on experience recognizing deconstructing evaluating and choosing for themselves whether to accept the tangible product or intangible message offered Teachers can use the lessons to help students build a toolbox of analytical skills that they can carry with them and develop further throughout the rest of their lives to distinguish information from persuasion from what people tell them they should believe to what the students through critical thinking decide is worthy of their belief Teaching Literacy in Fourth Grade Denise

Johnson, 2013-10-21 Fourth grade is a momentous year for literacy learning Having left the primary grades behind students must grapple with more demanding texts and content material and effective motivating instruction can help them succeed This book helps teachers vanquish the dreaded fourth grade slump by creating an energized and organized learning environment in which all students can improve their reading and writing strategies Taking readers into the classroom of an exemplary fourth grade teacher the book includes useful assessment tools differentiation techniques mini lessons unit plans reproducibles and examples of student work Special attention is given to meeting the challenges of high stakes testing without sacrificing instructional quality Entering Cultural Communities Diane Grams, Betty Farrell, 2008-03-26 Arts organizations once sought patrons primarily from among the wealthy and well educated but for many decades now they have revised their goals as they seek to broaden their audiences Today museums orchestras dance companies theaters and community cultural centers try to involve a variety of people in the arts They strive to attract a more racially and ethnically diverse group of people those from a broader range of economic backgrounds new immigrants families and youth The chapters in this book draw on interviews with leaders staff volunteers and audience members from eighty five nonprofit cultural organizations to explore how they are trying to increase participation and the extent to which they have been successful. The insiders accounts point to the opportunities and challenges involved in such efforts from the reinvention of programs and creation of new activities to the addition of new departments and staff dynamics to partnerships with new groups. The authors differentiate between relational and transactional practices the former term describing efforts to build connections with local communities and the latter describing efforts to create new consumer markets for cultural products. In both cases arts leaders report that although positive results are difficult to measure conclusively long term efforts bring better outcomes than short term activities. The organizations discussed include large medium and small nonprofits located in urban suburban and rural areas from large institutions such as the Smithsonian the Walker Art Center the Museum of Fine Arts Houston and the San Francisco Symphony to many cultural organizations that are smaller but often known nationally for their innovative work such as AS220 The Loft Literary Center Armory Center for the Arts Appalshop and the Western Folklife Center.

Girl Culture Claudia Mitchell, Jacqueline Reid-Walsh, 2007-12-30 Never before has so much popular culture been produced about what it means to be a girl in today's society. From the first appearance of Nancy Drew in 1930 to Seventeen magazine in 1944 to the emergence of Bratz dolls in 2001 girl culture has been increasingly linked to popular culture and an escalating of commodities directed towards girls of all ages. Editors Claudia A Mitchell and Jacqueline Reid Walsh investigate the increasingly complex relationships struggles obsessions and idols of American tween and teen girls who are growing up faster today than ever before. From pre school to high school and beyond Girl Culture tackles numerous hot button issues including the recent barrage of advertising geared toward very young girls emphasizing sexuality and extreme thinness. Nothing is off limits body image peer pressure cliques gangs and plastic surgery are among the over 250 in depth entries highlighted. Comprehensive in its coverage of the twenty and twenty first century trendsetters fashion literature film in group rituals and hot button issues that shape and are shaped by girl culture this two volume resource offers a wealth of information to help students educators and interested readers better understand the ongoing interplay between girls and mainstream culture.

Marketing to the New Super Consumer Timothy J. Coffey, David L. Siegel, Gregory Livingston, 2006

Consuming Innocence Karen Brooks, 2008 This is an academic look at the contribution of popular culture to the loss of innocence in today's children. Publisher

What Makes Kids Kick Fran Kick, 2005 What Makes Kids Kick is the groundbreaking first book in Fran Kick's insightful series exploring the Millennial Generation. This essential guide serves as a comprehensive compass for educators youth group leaders parents coaches and anyone working with today's postmodern kids born between 1980-2000. Drawing from over two decades of nationwide experience speaking and working with both young people and the adults who guide them author Fran Kick delivers a unique blend of research backed insights and real world wisdom. The book weaves together an extensive collection of studies surveys research articles and news stories with compelling personal anecdotes to create a fresh framework for understanding this dynamic generation. What Makes Kids Kick goes beyond surface level observations to explore the deeper influences and inspirational factors shaping Millennial minds Readers will discover the cultural technological and social forces that drive today s youth gaining valuable perspective on what motivates and inspires them This engaging and informative resource transforms how adults view and interact with the Millennial Generation Rather than focusing on generational gaps or challenges Kick provides practical strategies for raising teaching managing leading and mentoring young people more effectively The book s ultimate goal is empowering adults to help cultivate a more self motivated generation of kids one equipped with the attitude and skills necessary to KICK IT IN TAKE THE LEAD Whether you re struggling to connect with young people in your classroom home or community this book offers the tools and understanding needed to bridge generational divides and unlock their potential What Makes Kids Kick is both entertaining and educational making complex generational research accessible and actionable It s an indispensable resource for anyone committed to understanding and successfully working with the Millennial Generation Tweenhood

Melanie Kennedy,2018-10-30 A powerful female pre adolescent consumer demographic has emerged in tandem with girls becoming more visible in popular culture since the 1990s Yet the cultural anxiety that this has caused has received scant academic attention In Tweenhood Melanie Kennedy rectifies this and examines mainstream pre adolescent girls films television programmes and celebrities from 2004 onwards including A Cinderella Story 2004 Hannah Montana 2006 and Camp Rock 2008 Her book forges a dialogue between post feminism film and television celebrity and most importantly the figure of the tween Kennedy examines how these media texts which are so key to tween culture address and construct their target audience by helping them to choose an appropriately feminine identity Tweenhood then she argues is transient and a discursive construct whose unpacking highlights the deification of celebrity and femininity within its culture

Understanding Children as Consumers David Marshall,2010-04-30 Looking at consumption from the child s perspective this book differs from the competition by uncovering what being a consumer means to the children themselves from their perspective giving them a voice in the debate Youth Culture 101 Walt Mueller,2008-11-04 CPYU President Walt

Mueller s critically acclaimed book Understanding Today s Youth Culture is widely recognized as one of the most thorough and comprehensive overviews of youth culture today This Gold Medallion Book Award winner is used as a seminal text in colleges universities and seminaries around the world but is especially noted for its honest and easy to read style The book approaches youth culture from a distinctively Christian perspective and contains chapters on a variety of topics including music media sexuality materialism drugs and alcohol and spirituality A great resource for parents educators youth workers and pastors The Material Child David Buckingham,2013-04-26 Children today are growing up in an increasingly commercialised world But should we see them as victims of manipulative marketing or as competent participants in consumer culture The Material Child provides a comprehensive critical overview of debates about children s changing engagement with the commercial market It moves from broad overviews of the theory and history of children s consumption to insightful case studies of key areas such as obesity sexualisation children s broadcasting and education In the process it challenges much of the received wisdom about the effects of advertising and marketing arguing for a more balanced account that locates children s consumption within a broader analysis of social relationships for example within the family and the peer group While refuting the popular view of children as incompetent and vulnerable consumers that is adopted by many campaigners it also rejects the easy celebration of consumption as an expression of children s power and autonomy Written by one of the leading international scholars in the field The Material Child will be of interest to students researchers and policy makers as well as parents teachers and others who work directly with children

Consuming Kids Susan Linn,2005 Looks at the way corporations and advertisers target children as a profitable demographic as well as their methods for getting past parental safeguards to make products of all kinds appeal directly to even the youngest children

Elementary Schoolers, Meet Media Literacy Jim Wasserman,David W. Loveland,2020-02-07 In a world of media saturation children today are not future consumers of information and goods but targeted participants involved in a game in which they don t know the rules or even that they are playing yet one that will affect them throughout their lives This teaching manual will help educators to not only introduce the concepts of economics financial literacy and media literacy to elementary students but supplies lessons designed to provide hands on experiences recognizing deconstructing evaluating and choosing for themselves whether to accept the tangible product or intangible message offered The lessons help students to build a toolbox of analytical skills that they can carry with them and develop further throughout the rest of their lives to distinguish information from persuasion from what people tell them they should believe to what the students through critical thinking decide is worthy of their belief

Baby Boomers and Their Parents George P. Moschis,Anil Mathur,2007 Lots of marketers paint a rosy picture of the lifestyle of baby boomers as they enter the retirement years But authors Moschis and Mathur basing their findings on 20 years of surveys among baby boomers and their parents tell it like it is Many baby boomers have saved little money for retirement their health is worse than that of their parents and while both generations say travel is in their futures many will not have money enough to rent a budget motel a few miles from home But the picture is not all bleak Moschis and Mathur use their findings to discuss how people can live longer more satisfying lives In addition they apply those findings to marketing and advertising advising businesses how to use the attitudes and mindsets of mature consumers to create products and services for them as well as to make those products and services more appealing to older customers

Social and Behavioral Foundations of Public Health Jeannine Coreil,2010 This book is intended as a core textbook for courses in public health that examines current issues in health from a social and behavioral science perspective It is a cross disciplinary course public health medical sociology health psychology medical anthropology and thus there are many ways to teach the course based on a particular instructor's perspective. The authors wrote the book because they were dissatisfied with the way other texts apply social science to public health and found that many texts being used were from related fields such as medicine, nursing, or general health. The authors are planning to do a major revision based on reviews they have collected and the reviews we have collected. We believe the revised edition will essentially be a new text based on rich feedback. They will include new theory, new cases, new research, and a rich ancillary package. They will also reduce the frameworks presented to make the book more readable to students.

Brand Busters Chris Wirthwein, 2008. No matter how good a marketer you are, it is easy to slide into behaviors that ultimately make your marketing less effective. Chris Wirthwein has identified the seven most common mistakes made by marketers of technical and scientific products, and he explains how to avoid them. With wit and passion, he helps you learn how to overcome the mistakes of marketers of technical and scientific products and how you can learn from these mistakes, no matter what kind of product or service you are offering. You learn how to avoid the mistakes and get on with efficient marketing and advertising.

The seven mistakes:

1. Talking Needs Instead of Wants
2. Falling in Love With your Product Instead of Your Customer
3. Believing that Marketing is a Science or an Art
4. Trying to Please Everyone
5. Forgetting that People Forget
6. Believing Your Price is Too High Without Proof
7. Believing You Must Sell Your Product on an Economic Basis

Wirthwein's 20 years of experience with marketing and selling technical and scientific products at his agency, 5MetaCom, translates into easily understood principles that will help you become and remain a better marketer.
