Great British Gardeners Vanessa Berridge,2018-05-15 Through the stories of twenty six inspiring figures from Capability Brown, Humphry Repton and Vita Sackville West to lesser known figures and present day gardeners such as Beth Chatto and John Brookes, this book brings the colourful history of British gardening to life.

Great English Gardens Andrew Lawson, Jane Taylor,1996 Andrew Lawson has journeyed the length and breadth of the land photographing English Gardens at their most glorious. Through all seasons from magnificent country houses through to many private gardens full of character, charm and eccentricity to those of tiny cottage plots bursting with a colourful array of flowers and vegetables. With its index and list of gardens to visit, it can also be used as a guide to the most ravishing gardens in the country.

Trees & Shrubs for English Gardens Ernest Thomas Cook,1902

British Gardens in Time Katie Campbell,2014-03-20 As seen on BBC, an illustrated visit to four iconic gardens, each a product of its age with stories of the creators and events that shaped them. The stories of these gardens' creation include obsession, escape, social ambition, political intrigue, heartbreak, bankruptcy and disaster. In unravelling these remarkable stories, we reach back over the centuries to see these great gardens through fresh eyes. From the magnificent landscape garden at Stowe created by Bridgeman, Kent and Lancelot Capability Brown, the Victorian masterpiece of Biddulph Grange, the romantic Arts and Crafts garden at Christopher Lloyd's plantsman's paradise at Great Dixter, you will hear of adventure, innovation and visionary individuals who changed the way we create our gardens and the plants we grow. Katie Campbell weaves the stories of these four exemplary gardens into a history of British gardening from the earliest cultivated spaces to the present day, exploring trends, influences and pioneers. Fascinating historic detail and atmospheric storytelling make this a compelling read. Includes a foreword by Chris Beardshaw, specially commissioned photography by Nathan Harrison and extensive archive illustrations. A worthy accompaniment to the BBC series of the same name. The Irish Times: Campbell treads a nice line between juicy facts and the aesthetic qualities of the gardens. I adore her description of Jane Austen-ish tourists turning up in carriages, buying guidebooks and filling up the local inns while commendably tipping the head gardener. The Independent.
