Great Historians:

The Great Historians of the Ancient World (illustrated) In 3 vol. Vol. I

Thucydides, Herodotus, Xenophon, Polybius, Plutarch, Strabo, 2021-11-10 Most of what is known of the ancient world comes from the accounts of antiquity's own historians. Ancient history is the aggregate of past events from the beginning of writing and recorded human history and extending as far as post-classical history. Historians have two major ways of understanding the ancient world: archaeology and the study of source texts. Primary sources are those sources closest to the origin of the information or idea under study. Some of the more notable ancient writers include Herodotus, Thucydides, Arrian, Plutarch, Polybius, Livy, Josephus, Suetonius, and Tacitus. This three-volume edition presents exactly such primary sources of classical antiquity historians. This volume contains: 1. Thucydides: The History of the Peloponnesian War; 2. Herodotus: The Histories by Herodotus; 3. Xenophon: Anabasis; 4. Xenophon: The Polity of the Athenians and the Lacedaemonians; 5. Polybius: The Histories of Polybius in 2 vol; 6. Plutarch: Lives of the noble Greeks and Romans by Plutarch; Lives A. H. Clough; 7. Strabo: The Geography of Strabo in 3 vol. The Standard History of the World, by Great Historians, 1914 The Past Recaptured Matthew Anthony Fitzsimons, 1983 Great leaders: Historic portraits from the great historians Various Authors, 2022-01-17 Great Leaders: Historic Portraits from the Great Historians is a compelling anthology that assembles insights and narratives from some of history's most revered historians, showcasing the lives of remarkable leaders whose legacies have shaped the world. This work employs a rich tapestry of literary styles, blending narrative biography with analytical exposition, allowing readers to engage with the multifaceted characters of these leaders through various lenses, including political, cultural, and social dimensions. In this compilation, the editors provide context, situating each leader within their respective eras and illuminating how their choices resonated across time, making it a vital contribution to both historical literature and leadership studies. The diverse authors featured in this anthology come from a range of scholarly backgrounds, including history, political science, and sociology, providing a well-rounded perspective on leadership that is both analytical and narrative-driven. Their experiences and scholarly pursuits inform their portrayals, offering nuanced interpretations of historical figures such as Alexander the Great, Cleopatra, and Nelson Mandela. This work reflects their commitment to understanding the complexities of leadership and the impact it entails, drawing from both primary sources and critical analyses. This anthology is essential reading for students, scholars, and anyone interested in the dynamics of leadership and its historical evolution. With its engaging prose and rich insights, Great Leaders invites readers to reflect on the characteristics that define influential leaders, encouraging a deeper understanding of how history is shaped by these formidable figures. Whether you are a history aficionado or a casual reader, this book commands attention and appreciation. History for Ready Reference, from the Best Historians, Biographers, and Specialists: Greece-Nibelungenlied Josephus Nelson Larned, 1895 History for Ready Reference from the Best Historians, Biographers and Specialists Josephus Nelson Larned, 1895 Great Historians

The Historians' History of the World in Twenty-Five Volumes Various Authors, 2020-09-28 Broadly speaking the historians of all recorded ages seem to have had the same general aims They appear always to seek either to glorify something or somebody or to entertain and instruct their readers The observed variety in historical compositions arises not from difference in general motive but from varying interpretations of the relative status of these objects and from differing judgments as to the manner of thing likely to produce these ends combined of course with varying skill in literary composition and varying degrees of freedom of action As to freedom of selective judgment the earliest historians whose records are known to us exercised practically none at all Their task was to glorify the particular monarch who commanded them to write The records of a Ramses a Sennacherib or a Darius tell only of the successful campaigns in which the opponent is so much as mentioned only in contrast with the prowess of the victor With these earliest historians therefore the ends of historical composition were met in the simplest way by reciting the deeds real or alleged of a king as Ramses Sennacherib or David or of the gods as Osiris or Ishtar or Yahveh As to entertainment and instruction the reader was expected to be overawed by the recital of mighty deeds and to draw the conclusion that it would be well for him to do homage to the glorified monarch human or divine A little later in what may be termed the classical period the historians had attained to a somewhat freer position and wider vision and they sought to glorify heroes who were neither gods nor kings but the representatives of the people in a more popular sense Thus the Iliad dwells upon the achievements of Achilles and Ajax and Hector rather than upon the deeds of Menelaus and Priam the opposing kings Hitherto the deeds of all these heroes would simply have been transferred to the credit of the king Now the individual of lesser rank is to have a hearing Moreover the state itself is now considered apart from its particular ruler The histories of Herodotus of Xenophon of Thucydides of Polybius in effect make for the glorification not of individuals but of peoples This shift from the purely egoistic to the altruistic standpoint marks a long step The writer now has much more clearly in view the idea of entertaining without frightening his reader and he thinks to instruct in matters pertaining to good citizenship and communal morality rather than in deference to kings and gods In so doing the historian marks the progress of civilisation of the Greek and early Roman periods In the medi val time there is a strong reaction To frighten becomes again a method of attacking the consciousness to glorify the gods and heroes a chief aim As was the case in the Egyptian and Persian and Indian periods of degeneration the early monotheism has given way to polytheism Hagiology largely takes the place of secular history A constantly growing company of saints demands attention and veneration To glorify these to show the futility of all human action that does not make for such glorification became again an aim of the historian But this influence is by no means altogether dominant and though there is no such list of historians worthy to be remembered as existed in the classical period yet such names appear as those of Einhard the biographer of Charlemagne De Joinville the panegyrist of Saint Louis Villani Froissart and Monstrelet the chroniclers and Comines Machiavelli and Guicciardini

Great Historians of the Modern Age Lucian Boia, International Committee of Historical Sciences. Commission of the History of Historiography, 1991-06-25 This book an international collaboration sponsored by the Commission on the History of Historiography is devoted to historians of the 19th and 20th centuries Offering dictionary entries for historians from more than 35 countries the editors have sought to illustrate specific domains of history and focus on those scholars who were important to particular cultures and histories Consultants from each area suggested historians for inclusion thus providing a unique national perspective The volume begins with an explanatory preface and a detailed introduction to the time period covered The entries are then arranged by national or geographical areas and alphabetized within each regional section As a general rule the editors have excluded living historians from the dictionary Cross references are indicated within the text for those individuals who are also the subjects of separate entries and the editors have provided both an index of historians and a general subject index English translations of books and articles in non Western languages are also cited This book will be an important reference source for studies in world history and historiography as well as a significant addition to public college and university libraries The Standard History of the World, by Great Historians, 1914

Theoretical Perspectives on Historians' Autobiographies Jaume Aurell, 2015-07-24 E H Carr wrote study the historian before you begin to study the facts This book approaches the life work ideas debates and the context of key 20th and 21st century historians through an analysis of their life writing projects viewed as historiographical sources Merging literary studies on autobiography with theories of history it provides a systematic and detailed analysis of the autobiographies of the most outstanding historians from the classic texts by Giambattista Vico Edward Gibbon and Henry Adams to the Annales historians such as Fernand Braudel Philippe Ari s and Georges Duby to

Marxist historians such as Eric Hobsbawm and Annie Kriegel to postmodern historians such as Carolyn Steedman Robert A Rosenstone Carlos Eire Luisa Passerini Elisabeth Roudinesco Gerda Lerner and Sheila Fitzpatrick and to interventionist historians such as Geoff Eley Jill Ker Conway Natalie Davis and Gabrielle Spiegel Using a comparative approach to these texts this book identifies six historical autobiographical styles humanistic biographic ego historical monographic postmodern and interventionist By privileging historians autobiographies this book proposes a renewed history of historiography one that engages the theoretical evolution of the discipline the way history has been interpreted by historians and the currents of thought and ideologies that have dominated and influenced its writing in the 20th and 21st centuries The Roman

Historians Ronald Mellor, 2002-01-31 The Romans devotion to their past pervades almost every aspect of their culture But the clearest image of how the Romans wished to interpret their past is found in their historical writings This book examines in detail the major Roman historians Sallust Livy Tacitus Ammianus as well as the biographies written by Nepos Tacitus Suetonius the Augustan History the autobiographies of Julius Caesar and the Emperor Augustus Ronald Mellor demonstrates that Roman historical writing was regarded by its authors as a literary not a scholarly exercise and how it must be evaluated in that context He shows that history writing reflected the political structures of ancient Rome under the different regimes

Great Leaders ,1889 The Historians' History of the World Vol.2 (of 25) (Illustrations) Henry Smith Williams, Many a nation has walked God s earth has long enjoyed its good things has come into being and passed away without our knowing anything of its history or even whether it had a history at all For no nation has a history except one that makes history that is to say that influences the course of human development It is with races as with individuals none is kept in mind by posterity save those who have distinguished themselves by ideas that have modified the life of mankind or which comes to the same thing have been pioneers in fresh fields of action The greater the spiritual gain a nation has brought to the rest of the world the longer and more steadily its life has flowed in the channels it was the first to make the longer is its history told among them The nations of history are those which have put forward in one fashion or another their claim to the dominion of the world Thus we may fitly ask what claim it is that is made upon our interest by the history of the Jewish nation And the answer will be that nothing which excites our attention or stirs us to admiration or imitation in the history of other nations is here present in any large measure Israel was always a small nay a petty nation settled in a narrow space never of any considerable importance in the political history of the East it never brought forth a Ramses II a Sargon an Esarhaddon an Assurbanapal a Nebuchadrezzar or a Cyrus to bear its banner into distant lands Yet for all this the history of Israel has for us an interest quite different from that of those other nations of antiquity And if as we see Israel is far surpassed in martial glory by the peoples of the great empires and by the Romans in their influence on the development of law there are yet other points in which it must yield unquestioned precedence to other nations of antiquity We do not find in Israel the same feeling for beauty as among the Greeks who like no nation before them or after showed forth the laws of beauty in every sphere of intellectual life and to this day in such matters stand forth in a perfection which has never again been attained far less excelled Among the Hebrews there is nothing analogous nothing comparable to what we admire in the Hellenic people It has no epic nothing that can be compared with the Iliad and the Odyssey against which the Germans set the Nibelungen Lied and the Finns the Kalewala it has not the slightest rudiments of a drama the Song of Songs and Job are not dramas There is a school of lyrical poetry unsurpassed for all time and the music that corresponds to it But the bent towards science which actuates the Greeks is wholly lacking wholly lacking the bent towards 2 philosophy Nor was it ever eminent in ancient days in the walks of commerce enterprise and invention by which also a nation may conquer the world its intellectual life is absolutely one sided a one sidedness that produces on us the effect of extreme singularity But the attraction it has for us does not lie in this singularity It is due rather to the circumstance that this small nation has exerted a far greater influence over the course of the history of the whole human race than the Greeks or Romans that to us it has become typical in many more respects than they Our present modes of thought and feeling our lives and actions are far more profoundly influenced by the world of thought and feeling which Israel brought to the birth than by that of Greece or Rome Our whole civilisation to day is saturated with tendencies and impulses which have their origin in Israel To be continue in this ebook

Morgan, 2005-08-17 Dividing his work into 24 essays with sections on New Englanders Southerners and Revolutionaries Morgan examines the history of the American colonies from the arrival of the first settlers in 1607 to the radical changes brought forth by the American Revolution

The Thinking Historian Eric W. Sager, 2025-01-27 What is history What are historians doing when we create our histories The need for answers is more urgent than ever We live in an era when history is often rejected or ignored and when all teachers of history confront formidable challenges In the culture of screen capitalism and social media historical knowledge is evaded in an expanding present minded consciousness How can history be defended and what is it that we are defending This book argues that history is a mode of thinking a form of imaginative reasoning with its own informal logic In non technical language and using examples from important works of history the book defines core elements in historical thinking These include contingency complexity temporality parts and wholes consilience perspectives analogy and abduction These elements are subsumed into the concept of imaginative reasoning The overall argument echoes the work of hermeneutic philosophers History is a disciplined imagination tempered and empowered by its forms of reasoning It embraces ethical imperatives that the historian has a duty to declare Equipped with such understanding historians may answer the many rejections of history and secure its place in our shared futures

Encyclopedia of Historians and Historical Writing Kelly Boyd, 2019-10-09 The Encyclopedia of Historians and Historical Writing contains over 800 entries ranging from Lord Acton and Anna Comnena to Howard Zinn and from Herodotus to Simon Schama Over 300 contributors from around the world have composed critical assessments of historians from the beginning of historical writing to the present day including individuals from related disciplines like Jürgen Habermas and Clifford Geertz whose theoretical contributions have informed historical debate. Additionally the Encyclopedia includes some 200 essays treating the development of national regional and topical historiographies from the Ancient Near East to the history of sexuality. In addition to the Western tradition it includes substantial assessments of African Asian and Latin American historians and debates on gender and subaltern studies.
