

The Great Leap Backward

- Great Leap Forward

- Launched in 1958, its goal was massive stimulation of the workforce to produce incredible agricultural and industrial output
- Characterized by collectivized farms and small, backyard furnaces to create steel
- Ended in economic disaster and famine

- Great Leap Backward

- No incentive for peasants in collectivization; many rebelled
- Emphasis on backyard steel production produced millions of pounds of useless, weak metal

The Great Leap Backward Robert Green,1968 China Business Guide 2006 Graham Earnshaw,2004 The Great 'leap Backward' United States. Office of Armed Forces Information and Education,1962 The Great Power Competition Volume 2 Adib Farhadi,Anthony Masys,2022-02-01 Even before the outbreak of the COVID 19 pandemic the Central Region faced numerous obstacles to building a stable and prosperous future The region which encompasses the Middle East the Horn of Africa Central Asia and South Asia has been plagued by economic and political uncertainty amidst dramatic shifts in the global power structure With the pandemic now exacerbating the volatility in this already fragile region the U S s strategic objectives are rife for re examination A complicated stew of factors such as weakening of established governance systems the emboldening of extremist individuals and groups through advances in digital technology the humanitarian crises in Afghanistan and Syria and the intensification of the great power competition with China and Russia are creating a fertile environment for the growth of violent extremist organizations VEOs Such organizations take advantage of vulnerable aggrieved and traumatized populations to fuel radicalization recruitment and unrest which further undermine stability and the potential for peace and prosperity While it is still early to fully understand how the ongoing response to the COVID 19 pandemic will impact U S policy this book provides a timely analysis of relevant dynamics such as popular radicalization digital information ecosystems networks of influence and new capabilities to recognize and prepare for other such black swan events in the region The Great Leap Backward Lingchei Letty Chen,2019 It is now forty years after Mao Zedong s death and the end of the Cultural Revolution and more than fifty years since the Great Leap Forward and the Great Famine During this time the collective memory of these events has been sanitized reduced to a much diluted version of what truly took place Historical and sociological approaches cannot fully address the moral failure that allowed the atrocities of the Mao era to take place Humanist approaches such as literary criticism have a central role to play in uncovering and making explicit the testimonies of both victims and perpetrators in memory writing in order to recover the truth of China s history In this unprecedented study memory work such as fiction memoirs autobiographies and documentary films that have surfaced since Mao s death are examined to uncover the many aspects of the forces underlying remembering and forgetting These are significant for they also embody the politics of writing and publishing traumatic historical memories in contemporary China and beyond Beginning with a scar literature classic and ending with popular Cultural Revolution memoirs that appeared early in the twenty first century this study provides us with another important way through which memory studies can help us grapple with traumatic histories Managing the China Challenge Kenneth G. Lieberthal,2013-03-19 Summarizes key challenges businesses face in doing business in China discusses the roles of the state including the Communist Party and local officials in business ventures and frames issues related to corporate strategy such as branding human resources government relations product development marketing corporate social responsibility and risk mitigation Provided by the

Montgomery, 2010-07-15 Thirty years ago our global energy landscape did not look remarkably different from what it does today Three or four decades from now it certainly will dwindling oil reserves will clash with skyrocketing demand as developing nations around the world lead their citizens into the modern energy economy and all the while the grave threat of catastrophic climate change looms ever larger Energy worries are at an all time high just how will we power our future With The Powers That Be Scott L Montgomery cuts through the hype alarmism and confusion to give us a straightforward informed account of where we are now and a map of where we re going Starting with the inescapable fact of our current dependence on fossil fuels which supply 80% of all our energy needs today Montgomery clearly and carefully lays out the many alternative energy options available ranging from the familiar like water and solar to such nascent but promising sources as hydrogen and geothermal power What is crucial Montgomery explains is understanding that our future will depend not on some single wondrous breakthrough instead we should focus on developing a more diverse adaptable energy future one that draws on a variety of sources and is thus less vulnerable to disruption or failure An admirably evenhanded and always realistic guide Montgomery enables readers to understand the implications of energy funding research and politics at a global scale At the same time he doesn t neglect the ultimate connection between those decisions and the average citizen flipping a light switch or sliding behind the wheel of a car making The Powers That Be indispensable for our ever more energy conscious age Dialectic of Defeat Russell

Jacoby, 2002-05-16 Observing that for both revolutionaries and capitalists nothing succeeds like success Russell Jacoby asks us to reexamine a loser of Marxism the unorthodox Marxism of Western Europe The author begins with a polemical attack on conformist or orthodox Marxism in which he includes structuralist schools He argues that a cult of success and science drained this Marxism of its critical impulse and that the successes of the Russian and Chinese revolutions encouraged a mechanical and fruitless mimicry He then turns to a Western alternative that neither succumbed to the spell of success nor obliterated the individual in the name of science In the nineteenth century this Western Marxism already diverged from Russian Marxism in its interpretation of Hegel and its evaluation of Engels orthodox Marxism The author follows the evolution of this minority tradition and its opposition to authoritarian forms of political theory and practice

Degrees of Difficulty Georgia Cervin, 2021-06-15 How the Cold War era changed the trajectory of women's gymnastics Electrifying athletes like Olga Korbut and Nadia Comaneci helped make women's artistic gymnastics one of the most popular events in the Olympic Games But the transition of gymnastics from a women's sport to a girl's sport in the 1970s also laid the foundation for a system of emotional physical and sexual abuse of gymnasts around the world Georgia Cervin offers a unique history of women's gymnastics examining how the high stakes diplomatic rivalry of the Cold War created a breeding ground for exploitation Yet a surprising spirit of international collaboration arose to decide the social values and image of femininity demonstrated by the sport Cervin also charts the changes in style equipment training and participants that transformed the sport as explosive athleticism replaced balletic grace and gymnastics dominance shifted from East to West Sweeping and revelatory Degrees of Difficulty tells a story of international friction unexpected cooperation and the legacy of abuse and betrayal created by the win at all cost attitudes of the Cold War

What Does China Think? Mark Leonard, 2008-04-29 We know everything and nothing about China We know that China is changing so fast that the maps in Shanghai need to be redrawn every two weeks We know that China has brought 300 million people from agricultural backwardness into modernity in just thirty years and that its impact on the global economy is growing at unprecedented speed We have an image of China as a dictatorship a nationalist empire that threatens its neighbors and global peace But how many people know about the debates raging within China What do we really know about the kind of society China wants to become What ideas are motivating its citizens We can name America's neo-cons and the religious right but cannot name Chinese writers thinkers or journalists what is the future they dream of for their country or for the world Because China's rise like the fall of Rome or the British Raj will echo down generations to come these are the questions we increasingly need to ask Mark Leonard asks us to forget everything we thought we knew about China and start again He introduces us to the thinkers who are shaping China's wide open future and opens up a hidden world of intellectual debate that is driving a new Chinese revolution and changing the face of the world

Real Leadership Dean Williams, 2005-10-10 Too many organizations today play follow the leader the commander articulates a vision and people uncritically go along with it But this type of leadership what Dean Williams calls counterfeit leadership generates an unhealthy dependence on an authority figure and relies on dominance control and group seduction to get things done By hampering people's ability to anticipate and react to changing circumstances it creates a self-limiting cycle And if the leader's vision is flawed the entire organization suffers The true task of a leader Williams argues is to get people to face the reality of any situation themselves and develop strategies to deal with problems or take advantage of opportunities Real leaders don't dictate they help people face their challenges and make adjustments in their values habits practices and priorities to ensure the enterprise is given its best chance to succeed Williams details how to apply this new approach to the challenges every organization or community faces Throughout he demonstrates the practical application of real leadership in the real world through examples from his own experiences working with organizations as diverse as the government of Singapore Aetna Life and Casualty and the nomadic Penan tribe in Borneo as well as historical examples and the insights gleaned from his many interviews with presidents prime ministers and business leaders At a time when so many visionary leaders have led their organizations to disaster Real Leadership offers a needed proven alternative
