Great Snafu Fleet:

The Great Snafu Fleet Gerald A. White, Jr., 2001-04 1st Combat Cargo Squadron aka The Great Snafu Fleet and the other Combat Cargo units were formed by General Hap Arnold to answer Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's need for airlift in Burma one of World War II's most primitive theaters From August 1944 they flew C 47's from India air dropping supplies in Burma to Field Marshal William Slim's 14 British Army Going to China in December 1944 they spent the rest of the war there delivering vital supplies and personnel for Gen Chennault's 14th Air Force Flying Tigers and the OSS often behind enemy lines and rescuing POW's before coming home Reorganized in late 1945 as the 326th Troop Carrier Squadron they continue the heritage of citizen airmen today with the C 5 in contingencies around the world They are an almost unknown unit in a forgotten theater whose story is just being told "The Great Snafu Fleet" Gerald A. White, 1995* 'Young Man, You'll Never Die' Merton Naydler, 2006-06-20 A British Royal Air Force pilot recounts fighting over African deserts and Asian jungles during World War II in this military memoir Merton Naydler joined the RAF at the age of nineteen and served for the next six years until May 1946 He flew Spitfires and Hurricanes during a tour of duty that took him to North Africa Burma and Malaya This well written and extremely entertaining memoir portrays wartime life in the desert environment where sand flies life under canvas made living and flying a daunting experience When Naydler was posted to Burma he was filled with a deep and genuine dread After a long uncomfortable trip he joined 11 Squadron and was then faced with Japanese Zeroes in combat over dense tropical jungle rather than Bf 109s over a barren desert terrain Daytime flying was hot as hell the humidity intense the author's description of his new posting that goes on to describe life in Death Valley named because of the likeliness of falling victim to tropical disease rather than enemy aircraft This is the story of a sergeant pilot who learned his trade the hard way in action over Africa and then honed his combat skills in the skies over Japanese held tropical forests where he was eventually commissioned The Hump John D. Plating, 2011-02-08 Chronicling the most ambitious airlift in history Carried out over arguably the world's most rugged terrain in its most inhospitable weather system and under the constant threat of enemy attack the trans Himalayan airlift of World War II delivered nearly 740 000 tons of cargo to China making it possible for Chinese forces to wage war against Japan This operation dwarfed the supply delivery by land over the Burma and Ledo Roads and represented the fullest expression of the U S government's commitment to China In this groundbreaking work the first concentrated historical study of the world's first sustained combat airlift operation John D Plating argues that the Hump airlift was initially undertaken to serve as a display of American support for its Chinese ally which had been at war with Japan since 1937 However by 1944 with the airlift's capability gaining momentum American strategists shifted the purpose of air operations to focus on supplying American forces in China in preparation for the U S's final assault on Japan From the standpoint of war materiel the airlift was the precondition that made possible all other allied military action in the China Burma India theater where Allied troops were most commonly inserted supplied and extracted by air Drawing on extensive research that includes Chinese and Japanese archives Plating tells a spellbinding story in a context that relates it to the larger movements of the war and reveals its significance in terms of the development of military air power The Hump demonstrates the operation s far reaching legacy as it became the example and prototype of the Berlin Airlift the first air battle of the Cold War The Hump operation also bore significantly on the initial moves of the Chinese Civil War when Air Transport Command aircraft moved entire armies of Nationalist troops hundreds of miles in mere days in order to prevent Communist forces from being the ones to accept the Japanese surrender C-47/R4D Skytrain Units of the Pacific and CBI David Isby,2012-11-20 From Pearl Harbor to VJ Day the humble Douglas C 47 R4D carried out missions every bit as strategically important and as dramatic for the aircrew involved as those of the fighters and bombers in the vast Pacific CBI theatres The C 47 s wartime operations paved the way for post war military and civil air transport proving that aircraft could safely conduct routine flights from the USA Australia and India throughout the Pacific and South east Asia The flights also demonstrated how the USAAF was able to invest in and carry out a mission that it had barely prepared for in terms of doctrine pre war In addition to linking theatres the C 47 found itself in the vanguard of combat operations on virtually a daily basis in New Guinea Burma the Philippines the SWPA and China The importance of these missions and the dangers faced by crews tasked with carrying them out is chronicled in numerous first hand accounts from the aircrew involved in this unique volume on the Allies favourite transport aircraft of World War 2 Air Mobility Robert C. Owen,2013 Global air mobility is an American invention During the twentieth century other nations developed capabilities to transport supplies and personnel by air to support deployed military forces But only the United States mustered the resources and will to create a global transport force and aerial refueling aircraft capable of moving air and ground combat forces of all types to anywhere in the world and supporting them in continuous combat operations Whether contemplating a bomber campaign or halting another surprise attack American war planners have depended on transport and tanker aircraft Air Force Magazine ,2001-07

Approach to Battle Alan Jeffreys,2017-01-24 The Indian Army was the largest volunteer army during the Second World War Indian Army divisions fought in the Middle East North Africa and Italy and went to make up the overwhelming majority of the troops in South East Asia Over two million personnel served in the Indian Army and India provided the base for supplies for the Middle Eastern and South East Asian theatres This monograph is a modern historical interpretation of the Indian Army as a holistic organisation during the Second World War It will look at training in India charting how the Indian Army developed a more comprehensive training structure than any other Commonwealth country This was achieved through both the dissemination of doctrine and the professionalism of a small coterie of Indian Army officers who brought about a military culture within the Indian Army starting in the 1930s that came to fruition during the Second World War which informed the formal learning process Finally it will show that the Indian Army was reorganised after experiences of the First World War During the interwar period the army developed training and belief for both fighting on the North West Frontier and as an aid to civil power With the outbreak of the Second World War in addition to these roles the army had to expand and adapt to fighting modern professional armies in the difficult terrains of desert jungle and mountain warfare A clear development of doctrine and training can be seen with many pamphlets being produced by GHQ India that were in turn used to formulate training within formations and then used in divisional brigade and unit training instructions thus a clear line of process can be seen not only from GHQ India down to brigade and battalion level but also upwards from battalion and brigade level based on experience in battle that was absorbed into new training instructions Together with the added impetus for education in the army by 1945 the Indian Army had become a modern professional and national army Air University Library Index to Military Periodicals ,1998 Air & Space Power Journal sum 02 , Air & Space Power Journal win 02 , The San Diego Bay Star Fleet ,2007 Parameters ,2001 The Good War's Greatest Hits Philip D. Beidler,1998 The glow of 1945 persists as a kind of beacon for American society symbolic of an era when good and evil were easily defined This image is at the center of Philip D Beidler s entertaining look at the way World War II reshaped American popular culture The legend of the Good War was fostered by wartime propaganda and reinforced in the aftermath of victory through books the news media movies songs and television Beidler captures the aura of the times as he chronicles the production histories of more than a dozen projects with wartime themes examining how books and plays evolved into films how stars were considered and selected technical problems and personality conflicts during production and the public s reactions From the upbeat tempo of the musical South Pacific to the weary disillusionment of The Best Years of Our Lives from the patriotic nostalgia of Life s Picture History of World War II to the moral ambiguity of From Here to Eternity a powerful mythology of the war developed As a consequence the line between fact and fiction has blurred for the war generation and its inheritors and Hollywood s version of the Good War has become enshrined as historical fact in the nation s collective memory The Journal of Military History ,2002 Current contents Arts and Humanities ,2002

Shull,David E. Wilt,2014-05-23 The golden age of animation stretched from the early 1930s to the mid 1950s with movie cartoons reaching an extraordinarily high level of artistry and technique far higher than today s TV cartoons for instance Nearly 1000 cartoons were produced by the seven major animation studios in the U S between January 1 1939 and September 30 1945 the immediate pre World War II period up to the cessation of hostilities More than a quarter of the cartoons substantially refer to the war and thereby are invaluable in helping to understand American attitudes and Hollywood s reflection of them The meat of Doing Their Bit is a filmography with extremely detailed summaries of the 260 or so commercially produced animated war related shorts 1939 1945 There is also a good bit of overall commentary on these films as a group Two chapters wrap up animated cartoons of World War I and the general political tenor of animated talkies
