Ecopoetry J. Scott Bryson, 2002 The essays are uniformly thoughtful perceptive and readable and engage the current scholarship gracefully without pretense or pedantry Each chapter is stuffed with insights John Tallmadge The West Side of Any Mountain J. Scott Bryson, 2005-04-01 In contrast to nature poets of the past who tended more toward the bucolic and pastoral many contemporary nature poets are taking up radical environmental and ecological themes In the last few years interesting and evocative work that examines this poetry has begun to lay the foundation for studies in ecopoetics Informed in general by current thinking in environmental theory and specifically by the work of cultural geographer Yi Fu Tuan The West Side of Any Mountain participates in and furthers this scholarly attention by offering an overarching theoretical framework with which to approach the field One area that contemporary theorists have found problematic is the dualistic civilization wilderness binary that focuses on the divisions between culture and nature thereby increasing the modern sense of alienation Tuan's place space framework offers a succinct vocabulary for describing the attitudes of ecological poets and other nature writers in a way that avoids setting up an adversarial relationship between place and space Scott Bryson describes the Tuanian framework and employs it to offer fresh readings of the work of four major ecopoets Wendell Berry Joy Harjo Mary Oliver and W S Merwin The West Side of Any Mountain will be of great interest to scholars and teachers working in the field of contemporary nature poetry It is recommended for nature writing courses as well as classes dealing with 20th century poetry contemporary literary criticism and environmental theory The Routledge Companion to Ecopoetics Julia Fiedorczuk, Mary Newell, Bernard Quetchenbach, Orchid Tierney, 2023-09-29 The Routledge Companion to Ecopoetics offers comprehensive coverage of the vital and growing movement of ecopoetics This volume begins with a general introduction to the field followed by six sections Perspectives broad overviews engaging fields such as biosemiosis kinship praxis and philosophical approaches Experiments formal innovations developed by poets in response to planetary crises Earth and Water explorations of poetic entanglement with planetary chemical and biological systems Waste Toxicity Precarity poetics addressing the effects of pollution and climate change Environmental Justice and Activism examinations of poetry as an engine of political and cultural change Region and Place an international array of traditional and contemporary geographically focused responses to ecosystems and environmental conditions and Subjectivities Affects Sexualities investigations of gender ethnicity and race as they intersect with ecological concerns Each section includes an overview and summary addressing the specific essays in the section These previously unpublished essays represent a wide variety of nationalities backgrounds perspectives and critical approaches exploring the interdisciplinary field of ecopoetics Contributions from leading scholars working across the globe make The Routledge Companion to Ecopoetics a landmark textbook and reference for a variety of researchers and students Han Shan, Chan Buddhism and Gary Snyder's Ecopoetic Way Joan Qionglin Tan, 2009-05-07 Presents a comparative study of the ninth century Chinese poet and recluse

Ecopoetics Enaiê Mairê Azambuja, 2023-12-22 This book is the first comprehensive study investigating the cultural affinities and resonances of Zen in early twentieth century American poetry and its contribution to current definitions of ecopoetics focusing on four key poets William Carlos Williams Marianne Moore Wallace Stevens and E E Cummings Bringing together a range of texts and perspectives and using an interdisciplinary approach that draws on Eastern and Western philosophies including Zen and Taoism posthumanism and new materialism this book adds to and extends the field of ecocriticism into new debates Its broad approach informed by literary studies ecocriticism and religious studies proposes the expansion of ecopoetics to include the relationship between poetic materiality and spirituality It develops cosmopoetics as a new literary theoretical concept of the poetic imagination as a contemplative means to achieving a deeper understanding of the human interdependence with the non human Addressing the critical gap between materialism and spirituality in modernist American poetry The Zen of Ecopoetics promotes new forms of awareness and understanding about our relationship with non human beings and environments It will be of interest to scholars researchers and students in ecocriticism literary theory poetry and religious studies

Unnatural Ecopoetics Sarah Nolan, 2017-04-28 What constitutes an environment in American literature is an issue that has undergone much debate across environmental humanities in the last decade In the field some have argued that environments are markedly natural or wild sites while others contend literary spaces can be both wild and urban or even cultural Yet few of the works produced to date have addressed the pronounced influence the author of a text has on a literary environment Despite exciting work on materiality and culture in conceptions of environments critics have not yet fully examined the contributions of poetry s language form and self awareness in rethinking what constitutes an environment By approaching environments in a new way Nolan closes this gap and recognizes how contemporary poets employ self reflexive commentary and formal experimentation in order to create new natural cultural environments on the page She proposes a radical new direction for ecopoetics and deploys it in relation to four major American poets Working from literal to textual spaces through the contemporary poetry of A R Ammons s Garbage Lyn Hejinian s My Life Susan Howe s The Midnight and Kenneth Goldsmith s Seven American Deaths and Disasters the book presents applications of unnatural ecopoetics in poetic environments ones that do not engage with traditional ideas of nature and would otherwise remain outside the scope of ecocritical and ecopoetic studies Nolan proposes a new practical approach for reading poetic language Ecocriticism is a very fluid and evolving discipline and Nolan s pioneering new book pushes the boundaries of second wave ecopoetics the fundamental issue being what is nature natural and how does poetic language particularly self conscious contemporary poetic agency contribute to and complicate that question

Finding the Weight of Things George Hart, 2022-02-22 A critical study of the poetry of Larry Eigner through the lens of both disability studies and ecopoetics forming the basis of an ecrippoetics

This Impermanent Earth Douglas Carlson, Soham Patel, 2021-09-01 With its thirty three essays This Impermanent Earth charts the course of the American literary response to the twentieth century s accumulation of environmental deprivations Arranged chronologically from 1974 to the present the works have been culled from The Georgia Review long considered an important venue for nonfiction among literary magazines published in the United States The essays range in subject matter from twentieth century examples of what was then called nature writing through writing after 2000 that gradually redefines the environment in increasingly human terms to a more inclusive expansion that considers all human surroundings as material for environmental inquiry Likewise the approaches range from formal essays to prose works that reflect the movement toward innovation and experimentation The collection builds as it progresses later essays grow from earlier ones This Impermanent Earth is more than a historical survey of a literary form however The Georgia Review s talented writers and its longtime commitment to the art of editorial practice have produced a collection that is as one reviewer put it incredibly moving varied and inspiring It is a book that will be as at home in the reading room as in the classroom

Placing John Haines James Perrin Warren,2017-02-15 John Haines arrived in Alaska fresh out of the Navy in 1947 and established a homestead seventy miles southeast of Fairbanks He stayed there nearly twenty five years learning to live off the country hunting trapping fishing gathering berries and growing vegetables Those years formed him as a writer the interior of Alaska and especially its boreal forest marking his poetry and prose and helping him find his unique voice Placing John Haines the first book length study of his work tells the story of those years but also of his later itinerant life as his success as a writer led him to hold fellowships and teach at universities across the country James Perrin Warren draws out the contradictions inherent in that biography that this poet so indelibly associated with place and authentic belonging spent decades in motion and also sets Haines s work in the context of contemporaries like Robert Bly Donald Hall and his close friend Wendell Berry The resulting portrait shows us a poet who was regularly reinventing himself and thereby generating creative tension that fueled his unforgettable work A major study of a sadly neglected master Placing John Haines puts his achievement in compelling context

The Rhetoric of Topics and Forms Gianna Zocco,2021-01-18 The fourth volume of the collected papers of the ICLA congress The Many Languages of Comparative Literature includes articles that study thematic and formal elements of literary texts Although the question of prioritizing either the level of content or that of form has often provoked controversies most contributions here treat them as internally connected While theoretical considerations inform many of the readings the main interest of most articles can be described as rhetorical in the widest sense given that the ancient discipline of rhetoric did not only include the study of rhetorical figures and tropes such as metaphor irony or satire but also that of topoi which were originally viewed as the places where certain arguments could be found but later came to represent the arguments or intellectual themes themselves Another feature shared by most of the articles is the tendency of undeclared thematology which not only reflects the persistence of the charge of positivism but also shows that most scholars prefer to locate themselves within more specific often interdisciplinary fields of literary study In this sense this volume does not only prove the ongoing relevance of traditional fields such as rhetoric and thematology but provides contributions to currently flourishing research areas among them literary multilingualism literature and emotions and ecocriticism The
