Merali, Valerie Oosterveld, 2011-07-07 The Universal Declaration of Human Rights arguably the founding document of the human rights movement fully embraces economic social and cultural rights as well as civil and political rights within its text However for most of the fifty years since the Declaration was adopted by the General Assembly of the United Nations the focus of the international community has been on civil and political rights This focus has slowly shifted over the past two decades Recent international human rights treaties such as the Convention on the Rights of the Child and the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination Against Women grant equal importance to protecting and advancing nonpolitical rights In this collection of essays Isfahan Merali Valerie Oosterveld and a team of human rights scholars and activists call for the reintegration of economic social and cultural rights into the human rights agenda The essays are divided into three sections First the contributors examine traditional conceptualizations of human rights that made their categorization possible and suggest a more holistic rights framework that would dissolve such boundaries In the second section they discuss how an integrated approach actually produces a more meaningful analysis of individual economic social and cultural rights Finally the contributors consider how these rights can be monitored and enforced identifying ways international human rights agencies NGOs and states can promote them in the twenty first century

Music and Cultural Rights Andrew N. Weintraub, Bell Yung, 2024-04-22 Framing timely and pressing questions concerning music and cultural rights this collection illustrates the ways in which music as a cultural practice a commercial product and an aesthetic form has become enmeshed in debates about human rights international law and struggles for social justice The essays in this volume examine how interpretations of cultural rights vary across societies how definitions of rights have evolved and how rights have been invoked in relation to social struggles over cultural access use representation and ownership The individual case studies many of them based on ethnographic field research demonstrate how musical aspects of cultural rights play out in specific cultural contexts including the Philippines China Hawaii Peru Ukraine and Brazil Contributors are Nimrod Baranovitch Adriana Helbig Javier F Leon Ana Mar a Ochoa Silvia Ramos Helen Rees Felicia Sandler Amy Ku uleialoha Stillman Ricardo D Trimillos Andrew N Weintraub and Bell Yung

Grossman, Fernando Carrillo-Flórez, 2001-01-01 The International Dimension of Human Rights includes extracts of judgments reports and opinions of international supervisory organs and domestic judicial tribunals as well as the work of scholars in this subject This casebook has been divided into seven chapters that deal with the following topics basic notions of international law the relationship between international law and domestic law the right to an effective remedy the right to liberty and security of persons and the right not to be tortured the right to a fair trial economic social and cultural rights and other aspects of international protection of human rights such as the rights of women the rights of indigenous peoples and environmental rights The casebook also includes the most relevant international treaties on human rights adopted by the Inter American universal and European systems

Equal in Law, Unequal in Fact Timo Makkonen, 2012-01-06 An intriguing paradox characterises international and European action against discrimination On the one hand equality and the right to non discrimination are key human rights and protected by an impressive line of legal documents On the other hand empirical studies show that discrimination is still rampant today This book maps the gap between the rights and the reality and examines the causes consequences and extent of discrimination in Europe today as well as the international and European legal response to it On the basis of this analysis the study explains why anti discrimination law fails to deliver and what can be done about it The result is of interest to scholars students civil society politicians and anyone interested in equality and making it a reality Human Rights and Budgets in India, 2009 Papers presented at the conference held at Shimla in India from 28-30 May 2008 Cultural Heritage and Human Rights Helaine Silverman, D. Fairchild Ruggles, 2008-10-14 Is there a universal right to the free expression and preservation of cultural heritage and if so where is that right articulated and how can it be protected No corner of today's world has escaped the effects of globalization for better or worse This volume addresses a deeply political aspect of heritage preservation and management as it relates to human rights Collective Rights and the Cultural Identity of the Roma Claudia Tavani, 2012-09-03 Is the use of mechanisms that only focus on the protection of individual human rights sufficient to protect the cultural identity of minorities Much more can be achieved by adopting a system that applies the principles of equality and non discrimination and encompasses the recognition of a collective right to cultural identity Culture and cultural identity are indeed important for the identification of groups and ethnicity But are the Roma an ethnic group Are they a minority In answering these questions Italy is used as a case study to illustrate the limits of non discrimination provisions and the need to recognise the collective right to cultural identity The Human Right to Health Eduardo Arenas Catalán, 2021-06-25 This timely book offers a fresh perspective on how to effectively address the issue of unequal access to healthcare It analyses the human right to health from the underexplored legal principle of solidarity proposing a non commercial understanding of the positive obligations inherent in the right to health Compilation of Selected Adjudication on Housing Rights, The Idea of Home in Law Lorna Fox O'Mahony, James A. Sweeney, 2016-03-03 The Idea of Home in Law Displacement and Dispossession explores an important set of legal and policy issues surrounding the concepts of home and homelessness taking a growing area of legal scholarship into the new arena of human rights and international law The collection considers the ideas concerning home both in the sense of the dwelling place as a special type of property and territorial claims to homeland which underpin many contemporary legal problems by examining a range of contexts where people are displaced or dispossessed from their homes. The essays focusing on dispossession consider themes ranging from mortgage and rent arrears in the UK to responses to the foreclosure crisis in the USA and from eviction for the purposes of economic development in South Africa to the exclusion of asylum seekers from the UK's social housing and welfare provision and within the framework of the European Convention on Human Rights. The displacement theme meanwhile examines transnational home issues from the experiences of exiles and refugees in areas of conflict to the impact of the broader context of economic social and cultural rights on attempts to protect housing and home through international law. At the heart of each essay the contributors experts from across the fields of law policy and housing rights examine the circumstances in which displacement and dispossession take place and reconsider how law and policy respond to such circumstances with a particular focus on the impact of loss of home for the human person. At a time of particular and increasing concern about security of tenure and the role of law and policy in protecting people who are vulnerable to forced eviction The Idea of Home in Law presents a bold opportunity to raise questions about the rights and norms associated with housing and home and to generate new insights for scholarship and for national and international policy debates concerning displacement and dispossession.

Gender, Nutrition, and the Human Right to Adequate Food
 Anne C. Bellows, Flavio L.S. Valente, Stefanie Lemke, María Daniela Núñez Burbano de Lara, 2015-12-07 This book introduces the human right to adequate food and nutrition as evolving concept and identifies two structural disconnects fueling food insecurity for a billion people and disproportionately affecting women children and rural food producers the separation of women's rights from their right to adequate food and nutrition and the fragmented attention to food as commodity and the medicalization of nutritional health. Three conditions arising from these disconnects are discussed structural violence and discrimination frustrating the realization of women's human rights as well as their private and public contributions to food and nutrition security for all many women's experience of their and their children's simultaneously independent and intertwined subjectivities during pregnancy and breastfeeding being poorly understood in human rights law and abused by poorly regulated food and nutrition industry marketing practices and the neoliberal economic system's interference both with the autonomy and self-determination of women and their communities and with the strengthening of sustainable diets based on democratically governed local food systems. The book calls for a social movement led reconceptualization of the right to adequate food toward incorporating gender women's rights and nutrition based on the food sovereignty framework.

The Interface of Intellectual Property Law with other Legal Disciplines Christophe Geiger, 2025-05-14 This incisive book explores the interactions between intellectual property IP laws and other legal disciplines examining potential policy implications raised by the growing influence of various legal frameworks on IP principles. Illustrating these issues the book analyzes how they have shaped our understanding of IP laws and doctrines. Leading specialists debate the intersection of different areas of private public and criminal law with intellectual property rights drawing some forward looking conclusions on the implications at legislative judicial and theoretical level
