Eh Paesan Being Italian In Toronto:

Eh, Paesan! Nicholas DeMaria Harney, 1998 Eh, Paesan! , 1998 Eh, Paesan! Nicholas De Maria Harney, 1998-01-01 Today s Italian Canadians face different images than previous generations An exploration of the reproduction of cultural heritage in a global economy of rapid international communication Forgotten Italians Konrad Eisenbichler, 2019-01-02 Scholarship on Italian emigration has generally omitted the Julian Dalmatians a group of Italians from Istria and Dalmatia two regions that in the wake of World War Two were ceded by Italy to Yugoslavia as part of its war reparations to that country Though Italians by language culture and traditions it seems that this group has been conveniently excised from history And yet Julian Dalmatians constitute an important element in twentieth century Italian history and represent a unique aspect of both Italian culture and emigration This ground breaking collection of articles from an international team of scholars opens the discussion on these forgotten Italians by briefly reviewing the history of their diaspora and then by examining the literary and artistic works they produced as immigrants to Canada Forgotten Italians offers new insights into such celebrated authors as Diego Bastianutti Mario Duliani Caterina Edwards and Gianni Angelo Grohovaz as well as visual artists such as Vittorio Fiorucci and Silvia Pecota Profoundly marked by the experience of being uprooted and forced into exile by life in refugee camps and by the encounter with a new culture first generation Julian Dalmatians in Canada used art and writing to come to terms with their anguished situation and to rediscover their cultural roots Truly Human Scott E. Simon, 2023-04-28 The Sediq and Truku Indigenous peoples on the mountainous island of Formosa today called Taiwan say that their ancestors emerged in the beginning of time from Pusu Qhuni a tree covered boulder in the highlands Living in the mountain forests they observed the sacred law of Gaya seeking equilibrium with other humans the spirits animals and plants They developed a politics in which each community preserved its autonomy and sharing was valued more highly than personal accumulation of goods or power These lifeworlds were shattered by colonialism capitalist development and cultural imperialism in the twentieth century Based on two decades of ethnographic field research Truly Human portrays these peoples lifeworlds teachings political struggles for recognition and relations with non human animals Taking seriously their ontological claims that Gaya offers moral guidance to all humans Scott E Simon reflects on what this particular form of Indigenous resurgence reveals about human rights sovereignty and the good of all kind Truly Human contributes to a decolonizing anthropology at a time when all humans need Indigenous land based teachings more than ever Writing and Colonialism in Northern Ghana Sean Hawkins, 2002-12-15 This book presents a new perspective on colonialism in Africa Drawing on work from a variety of subjects and disciplines from the ancient Mediterranean to colonial Spain and from anthropology to psychology the author argues that colonialism in Africa needs to be understood through the medium of writing and the particular world it belonged to Focusing on the LoDagaa of northern Ghana and their relationship with British colonialism Hawkins describes colonialism as an encounter between a world of experience a world of knowledge practice and speech and the world on paper a world of writing rules and a linear concept of history The various ways in which the world on paper affected the LoDagaa are examined thematically The first four chapters explore how writing imposed a form of historical consciousness on different aspects of LoDagaa culture identity politics and religion that was alien to them The second half of the book examines how both the British colonial state and its postcolonial successor the Ghanaian state attempted to regulate indigenous forms of knowledge gender relations and social reckoning through courts This ambitious and richly detailed book will appeal to scholars and general readers interested in African history British colonialism and cultural and postcolonial studies

Wrapping Authority Joseph Hill, 2018-10-11 Since around 2000 a growing number of women in Dakar Senegal have come to act openly as spiritual leaders for both men and women As urban youth turn to the Fay a Tij niyya Sufi Islamic movement in search of direction and community these women provide guidance in practicing Islam and cultivating mystical knowledge of God While women Islamic leaders may appear radical in a context where women have rarely exercised Islamic authority they have provoked surprisingly little controversy Wrapping Authority tells these women's stories and explores how they have developed ways of leading that feel natural to themselves and those around them Addressing the dominant perceptions of Islam as a conservative practise with stringent regulations for women in particular Joseph Hill reveals how women integrate values typically associated with pious Muslim women into their leadership These female leaders present spiritual guidance as a form of nurturing motherhood they turn acts of devotional cooking into a basis of religious authority and prestige they connect shyness concealing clothing and other forms of feminine self wrapping to exemplary piety hidden knowledge and charismatic mystique Yet like Sufi mystical discourse their self presentations are profoundly ambiguous insisting simultaneously on gender distinctions and on the transcendence of gender through mystical unity with God
