Developments James R. Alliston, 1962 This bibliography is a guide to the voluminous literature recently published about the benefits and problems of automation and related technological changes Because changes in technology underlie many critical manpower developments public interest has been greatly intensified in the progress and implications of these innovations Implications of Automation and Other Technological Developments United States. Bureau of Labor Statistics, 1962 Spatial Implications and Planning Criteria for High-Speed Rail Cities and Regions José Maria de Ureña, Chia-Lin Chen, Anastasia Loukaitou-Sideris, Roger Vickerman, 2021-03-30 Spatial Implications and Planning Criteria for High speed Rail Cities and Regions evaluates the varied experiences that HSR systems have brought about to different station cities and their regional territories around the world with an eye towards better future planning and policy of such systems This edited volume draws from examples of high speed rail operations in different cities in Europe and Asia to depict the various impacts of this major transportation infrastructure It attempts to distinguish the short and long term impacts described in the literature classifying them into regional and inter urban effects urban effects and wider economic impacts Planning challenges appear at two major points 1 during the initial planning stage that includes the route and location of stations and 2 during the development process that follows The case studies in the book concentrate on a variety of topics from the impact of high speed rail on population growth in some station cities to the regional economic impacts that an HSR system can bring about to the larger territories it passes through to the potential of station cities to better attract firms or to experience increases in tourism and commerce They also assess planning strategies and experiences from station cities to draw lessons for future HSR planning policies The Chapters in this book were originally published in a special issue of European Planning Studies Inward Investment, Technological Change and Growth N. Pain, 2000-12-06 This collection of papers from the NIESR conference at the British Academy identifies the channels through which inward investment can affect host economies and provides quantitative evidence on the extent to which inward investment has acted to shape the size and structure of industrialised economies over the last decade Leading authors in the fields of international investment and the behaviour of national and multinational firms combine innovative methodologies and firm level data to enable empirical evaluation of the impact of inward investment Detailed studies of aspects of inward investment in the UK are put into context through a review of existing literature and by comparison of UK developments to those experienced by French Italian German and US economies Effect of Productivity and Technological Progress on Transport
