State Agency and the Patenting of Life in International Law Bit Amani, 2009 This important and timely volume considers competing international obligations in relation to the patenting of life offering a pragmatic two step approach to state agency to resolve apparent conflicts between the regulatory options afforded by economic globalization and the need to forge domestic laws that reflect community values

The Reform of International Economic Governance Antonio Segura Serrano, 2016-05-05 The second half of the twentieth century saw the emergence of international economic law as a major force in the international legal system This force has been severely tested by the economic crisis of 2008 Unable to prevent the crisis the existing legal mechanisms have struggled to react against its direst consequences This book brings together leading experts to analyse the main causes of the crisis and the role that international economic law has played in trying to prevent it on the one hand and worsening it on the other The work highlights the reaction and examines the tools that have been created by the international legal field to implement international cooperation in an effort to help put an end to the crisis and avoid similar events in the future The volume brings together eminent legal academics and economists to examine key issues from the perspectives of trade law financial law and investment law with the collective aim of reform of theoretical framework for understanding the regulation of international trade For this purpose it analyses a series of integrated studies of relations between the EU the WTO and China It consists of three main parts Part I introduces the basic concepts It surveys the literature on law and globalisation introduces the concept of sites of governance and the theory of global legal pluralism and sketches the foundations of global legal pluralism It shows that each site of governance has both a structural dimension consisting of institutions norms and dispute resolution processes and a relational dimension comprising its relations with other sites of governance The totality of sites of governance constitutes a new form of global legal pluralism Part II analyses global legal pluralism in action in relations between the EU the WTO and China It examines the construction of relations between sites ways in which relations between sites give rise to new legal concepts or transform the character of rules the tension between regionalism and international integration and the governance of international production networks It emphasises the reciprocal interaction between the structural features and the relational features of sites Part III explores new directions in global legal pluralism It first analyses regional trade agreements as a way of creating new sites of governance focusing on agreements involving China Then it considers how to enhance ethical values in international trade regulation Based on an institutional analysis of relations between the WTO and other sites of governance it proposes ways in which global legal pluralism can be used to reform the WTO today the predominant institution in the regulation of international trade including trade between the EU and China The Social Foundations of World Trade Sungjoon

Cho, 2015 Sungjoon Cho critiques the conventional contract model of the WTO and proposes an alternative notion of community The International Trading System Alice Landau, 2005-02-03 The World Trade Organization WTO is without doubt one of our main instruments of globalization the controversy which is whipped up by this organization is arguably mainly caused by the mystery which surrounds it The International Trade System seeks to remove the clouds of misunderstanding that circle the multilateral commercial system by clearly Trading Fish, Saving Fish Margaret A. Young, 2011-04-14 Numerous international legal regimes now seek to address the global depletion of fish stocks and increasingly their activities overlap The relevant laws were developed at different times by different groups of states They are motivated by divergent economic approaches influenced by disparate non state actors and implemented by separate institutions such as the World Trade Organization and the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization Margaret Young shows how these and other factors affect the interaction between regimes Her empirical and doctrinal analysis moves beyond the discussion of conflicting norms that has dominated the fragmentation debate Case studies include the negotiation of new rules on fisheries subsidies the restriction of trade in endangered marine species and the adjudication of fisheries import bans She explores how regimes should interact in fisheries governance and beyond to offer insights into the practice and legitimacy of regime interaction in international law Governance and International Legal Theory I.F.

Dekker, W.G. Werner, Rijksuniversiteit te Utrecht, 2014-11-14 This book discusses the above mentioned topics from a multidisciplinary perspective Redesigning the World Trade Organization for the Twenty-first Century Debra P. Steger, 2010-05-06 Two high level commissions the Sutherland report in 2004 and the Warwick Commission report in 2007 addressed the future of the World Trade Organization and made proposals for incremental reform This book goes further it explains why institutional reform of the WTO is needed at this critical juncture in world history and provides innovative practical proposals for modernizing the WTO to enable it to respond to the challenges of the twenty first century Contributors focus on five critical areas transparency decision and rule making procedures internal management structures participation by non governmental organizations and civil society and relationships with regional trade agreements Co published with the International Development Research Centre and the Centre for International Governance Innovation
