Economic Trends No610 Sept 2004:

Economic Trends, 2006 Essays on the Theory and Practice of Index Numbers Kam Yu, 2010-03 Economic measurement has over the years become an important subject in academic and policy researches. Debates in the development of macroeconomic theory and public policy rely on accurate feedback of aggregate data. This book fills the gap between the theory and practice in index numbers. It reviews and explores several important topics which lead to improvement in measuring price and output indices. These include econometric problems in hedonic regression, treatment of seasonal goods in the CPI, output and productivity measurement of government services, efficiency analysis of the health care sector and a novel approach in calculating the cost of living indices for products involving risk and uncertainty. The book serves as a valuable reference for academic economists, policy analysts and economic statisticians. United Kingdom Input-output

Analyses, 2005 OECD Economic Surveys: Spain 2005 OECD, 2005-03-20 This 2005 edition of OECD's periodic survey of Spain's economy opens with a broad assessment of economic challenges and includes chapters covering macroeconomic stability and competitiveness, raising productivity, growth and job creation, public sector decentralisation and pension system reform. OECD Economic Surveys Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, 2005 Economic

Trends No.610 September 2004 Office for National Statistics, Office for National Statistics Staff, 2004-09-01 This monthly compendium of statistics and articles on the UK economy contains data on UK economic accounts, prices, labour market output and demand indicators, selected financial statistics, gross domestic product, consumer and wholesale price indices, households, final consumption expenditure, final expenditure, prices index, visible and invisible trade balance, earnings and regional and international economic indicators. Includes articles on national accounting, trade, wider economic issues, research and development statistics and international comparisons. From October 1998 the national accounts data in Economic Trends is consistent with the European System of Accounts (ESA 95). Trade Performance and Regional Integration of the CIS Countries Lev M. Freinkman, Evgeny Polyakov, Carolina Revenco, 2004-01-01 This paper sets out a detailed quantitative analysis based on standard econometric models of the trade trends in the CIS countries, focusing on its low income members as well as examining the nature of the existing CIS intra-bloc trade. Findings include that overall progress in the trade area was slower in the low income economies (CIS 7) than in the higher income CIS members, reflected in lower overall export level and slower export growth, a higher trade deficit and a lower share of manufacturing exports. On balance the CIS free trade area is a beneficial trade facilitating bloc, although the potential benefits of CIS trade integration remain badly underutilised.

International Maritime Transport Costs Gordon Wilmsmeier, 2016-04-22 Based on in-depth empirical research, this book develops our understanding of maritime transport costs, the maritime industry and the competitiveness of regions in a global market environment through a geographical lens. Further, the book uses a unique set of data that gives an extensive insight into Latin American international maritime transport costs and its determinants. This is a clear call for policy makers and port authorities to strengthen transnational cooperation in order to improve the development of the whole system of maritime transport focusing on the causes that put regions at risk of becoming peripheral and uncompetitive
