Npd in Indigenous Chinese Companies and Its Deployment Within the

Chinese Economy Xiaohuan Zhang,2006-11 The thesis aims to examine and explore NPD activities within China and establish whether a Western interpretation of NPD is appropriate to indigenous Chinese companies engaged in an economy which is entering an era of globalisation The research is based on ten case studies undertaken within five industrial sectors lighting light fabrication watches personal consumer products white goods automotive and telecommunications Cases are representative of the differing types of Chinese organisations and include examples of privately collectively and state owned enterprises POEs COEs and SOEs together with international joint ventures IJVs Conceptual approaches are developed to examine organisational background NPD culture technology transfer NPD coordination entrepreneurial behaviour network development and market dynamics within each case study The units of analysis in the framework reflect three main themes of intra extra organisational and strategic issues which are revisited throughout the thesis The case studies are analysed using a mapping process in which each of the cases is described in terms of its engagement with NPD roles and performance and their correlation with economic development compared with Western practice Contingent on this the thesis identifies a series of assumptions within Western literature which are evaluated by assessing the case study findings to establish the transferability of NPD conceptions In addition correlations between differing NPD related issues are identified using repertory grid theory detailed in a separate appendix and complementary to the case study analysis The thesis concludes by proposing models of strategic NPD specific to Chinese organisations at both intra organisational and micro and macro economic levels these provide an overview of distinctive NPD performance in indigenous companies contextualised within the Chinese economy The implication is that the future development of the Chinese economy will necessitate greater engagement with NPD albeit in a differing form

Chinese Economic History up to 1949 (2 vols) Michael

Dillon,2008-08-07 The development of China s economy has long been an enigma to Western historians Did it consist of centuries of stagnation followed by a period of collapse or was it a process of steady development reaching a high point by the eighteenth century What is certain is that China s economic growth never developed into a full industrial revolution and China was overtaken by the West but the reasons for this are highly contested both within and outside China Topics of the Key Papers here include land use and land ownership handicraft industries and early industrialization trade and commerce transport and communication and taxation and finance It begins with papers on the earliest development of the economy in the Qin and Han dynasties but concentrates on the periods of greatest interest and most significant development namely the commercial revolution of the Song dynasty the industrial and commercial expansion of the mid Ming and the impact of Western and Japanese trade and investment in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries

Chinese Economists on Economic Reform - Collected Works of Wang Mengkui Wang Mengkui,2013-12-04 This book is part of a series which makes available to English speaking audiences the work of the individual Chinese economists who were the architects of China's economic reform. The series provides an inside view of China's economic reform revealing the thinking of the reformers themselves unlike many other books on China's economic reform which are written by outside observers. Wang Mengkui, 1938, has been Director of the Research Office under the State Council and was President of the State Council's Development Research Centre from 1998 to 2007. A member of the Party since 1956, he has been responsible for drafting many key Chinese Communist Party documents including Report on the Work of the Government presented to the National People's Congresses. The book is published in association with China Development Research Foundation, one of the leading economic and social think tanks in China where many of the theoretical foundations and policy details of economic reform were formulated.

Chinese Economic Journal and Bulletin, 1927

The Chinese Economic Bulletin, 1926

Institutions and Chinese Economic Development Li Tan, 2021-11-10 China's rise as an economic power has posed some challenging questions how did China achieve GDP growth that was even faster than the Four Asian Tigers Is the Chinese model superior Why hasn't the rapid economic growth lead to democracy in the country as many observers expected And can China sustain its rapid economic growth with its existing social system

Institutions and Chinese Economic Development A Comparative Historical Approach explores these questions by studying the historical relationship between institutions and economic development in China drawing comparisons with England Japan and other Asian economies as appropriate The investigation focuses on several junctures in China's economic development the starting point of the divergence between China and the West the externally provoked industrial development in the late 19th century and the contemporary Chinese Miracle The analysis foregrounds the role played by Chinese institutions and examines their effects on both the country's failure to industrialize in the past and its economic achievements in recent time The book also asks whether without reform to the existing state institutions China might still be subject to the historical dynastic cycles today despite its recent economic success This work is of great interest to students and scholars of the Chinese economy economic history and institutional economics as well as comparative history and Chinese studies more broadly

Chinese Dream and Practice in Zhejiang - Economy Changhong Pei, Jianfeng

Xu,2019-07-03 The theme of this book is economic transitions of Zhejiang Province under the guidance of China Dream policy. It reviews the economic development of Zhejiang Province during the last 10 years and concludes with the experiences and achievements of the local government. As Zhejiang is one of the most economically successful regions in China, the challenges concerning economic transition for the government are a higher priority. This book describes the endeavors and practices that are accomplished by the local administration in system reforms, private sectors, industrial transition and upgrading, ecological harmony, new urbanization, marine economy and open policies. Case studies, live examples and detailed policy interpretations and conclusions are presented throughout this book. The book will assist scholars and policy makers in discovering how the major statecraft has guided and influenced Chinese economy.
