Humphrey,1993 Thomas M Humphrey has made many significant contributions to the theories of money banking and inflation This book presents his most important work on the application of the history of economic thought to the analysis of current policy problems Money Banking and Inflation focuses on such traditional central banking concerns as money stock control price level stabilization interest rates smoothing exchange rate targeting lender of last resort responsibilities limitations imposed by short run trade offs and non neutralities and appropriate responses to supply shocks Three of the essays however digress from these themes to focus on geometrical diagrams employed in price theory and the theory of commercial policy Virtually all the essays take an historical doctrinal perspective which besides showing how these theories developed over time allows them to be ranked according to their effectiveness in monetary controversies old and new This authoritative and enlightening volume will be welcomed not only as a supplement to money and banking texts which fail to emphasize the historical doctrinal development of their subject but also as a corrective to the tendency in history of economic thought research towards non monetary rather than monetary doctrines      The Economics of Money and Banking Mosad Zineldin,1990 This study deals with one of the most remarkable phenomena in the Middle East financial world the absolute prohibition of interest charges or payments a system which distinguishes it from their Western counterparts Islamic economics and finance which has been apparent during the last four decades What has been missing up to now is a comprehensive empirical investigation that analyzes the performance of Islamic banks and evaluates their successes and failure in the light of their conformity to Islamic ideologies and principles on Islamic banking in order to narrow the gap between Muslim economists and scholars and Western economists alike The book should also be of interest to anyone wishing to build their background knowledge of Islamic and Western banking services financial services generally and the historical development of money and banking
