by related subfields such as agricultural history demographic history business history and the histories of technology migration and transportation The articles all written and signed by international contributors include scholars from Europe Latin America Africa and Asia Covering economic history in all areas of the world and segments of economies from prehistoric times to the present The Oxford Encyclopedia of Economic History is the ideal resource for students economists and general readers offering a unique glimpse into this integral part of world history

Technology in Modern German History Karsten Uhl, 2022-01-27 People often associate postwar Germany with technology and with its products of mass consumption such as luxury cars Even pop music most notably Kraftwerk literally power station with songs such as Autobahn Radioactivity or We are the Robots disseminates the stereotype of a close link between German culture and technology Technology in Modern German History explores various forms of technology in 200 years of German history and explains how technology has been fundamental to the shaping of modern Germany The book investigates the role technology played in transforming Germany's culture society and politics during the 19th and 20th centuries Key topics covered include the different stages of industrialization the growth of networked cities and the triumph of a teleological narrative of technology as progress Moreover it provides a critical revision of the history of high technology which reveals how high tech euphoria determined certain paths in history regardless of whether the respective technology proved to be successful In its second part the volume introduces new avenues in scholarship Karsten Uhl examines neglected areas such as rural technologies or the often overlooked importance of everyday technologies How did consumers or workers use new technologies How did they appropriate and modify them Lastly the book considers the final decades of the 20th century and asks if they provided a significant new quality of technological change To what degree and effects did computerization transform professional and private life in Germany In culture and politics reinforced by the German variety of environmentalism the idea of progress was challenged as the once prevailing vision of progress gave way to new apprehensions of uncertainty evident to this day Technology in Modern German History brings fascinating insight into a much neglected area of German history for students and scholars alike

Ties That Bind Charles Jacobson, 2017-03-13 In the early days of utility development municipalities sought to shape the new systems in a variety of ways even as private firms struggled to retain control and fend off competition In scope and consequence some of the battles dwarfed the contemporary one between local jurisdictions and cable companies over broadband access to the Internet In this comparative historical study Jacobson draws upon economic theory to shed light on relationships between technology market forces and problems of governance that have arisen in connection with different utility networks over the past two hundred years He focuses on water electric and cable television utility networks and on experiences in four major American cities Boston Seattle San Francisco and Pittsburgh arguing that information and transactions costs have played decisive roles in determining how different ownership and regulatory arrangements have functioned in different situations Using primary sources and bold conceptualizations Jacobson begins his study by examining the creation of centralized water systems in the first half of the nineteenth century moves to the building of electric utilities from the 1880s to the 1980s and concludes with an analysis of cable television franchising from the 1960s to the 1980s Ties That Bind addresses highly practical questions of how to make ownership regulatory and contracting arrangements work better and also explores broader concerns about private monopoly and the role of government in society
