Surveying the Archaeology of Northwest Mexico Gillian E. Newell, Emiliano Gallaga, 2004 Archaeology in the Southwest is increasingly directing its attention south of the international border as it becomes clear that a picture of the pre hispanic Southwest is incomplete without taking the Mexican Northwest into account

Surveying the Archaeology of Northwest Mexico presents an overview of recent work in Sonora and Chihuahua comprising a sort of professional tour of the area. The chapters offer fresh insights into the formation of centers such as Paquim, Cerro de Trincheras, and the Rio Sonora cabaceras. Contributors explore relations between these centers, individual internal organization of the various identifiable polities, and the relation of the whole northwest Mexican region to better known adjacent ones. The volume underscores that northwest Mexico was not a dependent hinterland but was inhabited by many independent groups throughout prehistory.
