A Passion for Learning Philip A. Cusick, 2005-04-03 In his engaging new book Philip Cusick puts the personal back into education by examining the educational experiences of seven eminent Americans Benjamin Franklin Abraham Lincoln Jane Addams W E B Du Bois Eleanor Roosevelt J Robert Oppenheimer and Dorothy Day Devoting a chapter to each Cusick describes what they learned how they learned what they called their education and how they used education to establish their place in the world More than providing just a series of personal histories Cusick argues that the discourse about education has turned into a discourse about educational institutions But his descriptions show that one can talk about education without talking about schools talk about learning without talking about the state curriculum talk about achievement without talking about test scores and talk about accountability without talking about teacher preparation

Relentless Pursuit Noliwe Rooks,2024-07-23 An intimate and searching account of the life and legacy of one of America s towering educators a woman who dared to center the progress of Black women and girls in the larger struggle for political and social liberation When Mary McLeod Bethune died tributes in newspapers around the country said the same thing she should be on the Mount Rushmore of Black American achievement Indeed Bethune is the only Black American whose statue stands in Statuary Hall in the US Capitol and yet for most she remains a marble figure from the dim past Now seventy years later Noliwe Rooks turns Bethune from stone to flesh showing her to have been a visionary leader with lessons to still teach us as we continue on our journey toward a freer and more just nation Any serious effort to understand how the Black civil rights generation found role models vision and inspiration during their midcentury struggle for political power must place Bethune at its heart Her success was unlikely the fifteenth of seventeen children and the first born into freedom Bethune survived brutal poverty and caste subordination to become the first in her family to learn how to read and to attend college She gave that same gift to others when in 1904 at age twenty nine Bethune welcomed her first class of five girls to the Daytona Florida school she had founded and which would become the university that bears her name to this day Bethune saw education as an essential dimension of the larger struggle for freedom vitally connected to the vote and to economic self sufficiency and she enlisted Eleanor Roosevelt Harry Truman Franklin D Roosevelt and many other powerful leaders in her cause Rooks grew up in Florida in Bethune s shadow her grandmother trained to be a teacher at Bethune Cookman University and her family vacationed at the all Black beach that Bethune helped found in one of her many community empowerment projects The story of how Bethune succeeded in a state with some of the highest lynching rates in the country is in Rooks s hands a moving and astonishing example of the power of a mind and a vision that had few equals Now when the stakes of the long struggle for full Black equality in this country are particularly evident and centered on the state of Florida it is a gift to have this brilliant and lyrical reckoning with Bethune s journey from one of our own great educators and away from the tyranny of the British Empire to build a nation based on the principles of freedom equal rights and opportunity for all men But life in the United States today is vastly different from anything the original Founders could have imagined in the late 1700s The notion of an African American president of the United States or a woman such as Condoleezza Rice or Hillary Clinton as Secretary of State would have been unimaginable to the men who wrote the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution or who ratified the Constitution or the Bill of Rights Among the modern day pioneers Williams writes about in this compelling new book are the passionate conservative President Reagan the determined fighters for equal rights Thurgood Marshall and Martin Luther King Jr the profound imprint of Rev Billy Graham s evangelism on national politics the focus on global human rights advocated by First Lady Eleanor Roosevelt the leaders of the gay community who refused to back down during the Stonewall Riots and brought gay life into America s public square the re imagined role of women in contemporary life as shaped by Betty Friedan Williams reveals how each of these modern day founders has extended the Founding Fathers original vision and changed fundamental aspects of our country from immigration to the role of American labor in the economy from modern police strategies to the importance of religion in our political discourse America in the 21st Century remains rooted in the Great American experiment in democracy that began in 1776 For all the changes our economy and our cultural and demographic make up there remains a straight line from the first Founders original vision to the principles and ideals of today s courageous modern day pioneers
