Technology Trap Carl Benedikt Frey, 2020-09-22 From the Industrial Revolution to the age of artificial intelligence Carl Benedikt Frey offers a sweeping account of the history of technological progress and how it has radically shifted the distribution of economic and political power among society's members As the author shows the Industrial Revolution created unprecedented wealth and prosperity over the long run but the immediate consequences of mechanization were devastating for large swaths of the population These trends broadly mirror those in our current age of automation But just as the Industrial Revolution eventually brought about extraordinary benefits for society artificial intelligence systems have the potential to do the same Benedikt Frey demonstrates that in the midst of another technological revolution the lessons of the past can help us to more effectively face the present From publisher description

Privatization and Its Discontents Matthew Titolo, 2023-06-22 In Privatization and Its Discontents Matthew Titolo situates the contemporary debate over infrastructure in the long history of public private governance in the United States Titolo begins with Adam Smith's arguments about public works and explores debates over internal improvements in the early republic moving to the twentieth century regulatory state and public interest liberalism that created vast infrastructure programs While Americans have always agreed that creation and oversight of infrastructure is a proper public function Titolo demonstrates that public private governance has been a highly contested practice throughout American history Public goods are typically provided with both government and private actors involved resulting in an ideological battle over the proper scope of the government sphere and its relationship to private interests The course of that debate reveals that public and private have no inherent or natural content These concepts are instead necessarily political and must be set through socially negotiated compromise
