Perceptions of African American Women About Their Dietary Habits Christine Dial-Benton, 2012-08-29 Recent years have seen a tremendous growth in scientific knowledge of the relationship between diet and health This increase in knowledge has informed dietary recommendations to promote health It has also started a campaign to educate Americans on more healthful eating habits Guthrie Derby and Levy 1994 American consumers show a high level of awareness of the relationship between their diets and serious diseases such as heart disease and cancer Derby and Fein 1995 Public health campaigns along with growing media attention to diet and health topics have raised awareness among less educated as well as the more educated consumers Ippolito and Mathios 1996 This study will provide an up to date picture of the degree to which three groups of African American women are meeting dietary recommendations The women in the study will be grouped according to age income and education They will complete a survey concerning their dietary habits This study was designed in hopes that it would contribute to the evolving literature concerning the factors that promote general poor health among African American women

The African American Experience in Cyberspace Abdul Alkalimat, 2003-12-20 The World Wide Web is the greatest source of information used by students and teachers media and library professionals as well as the general public There is so great a flow of information that it is necessary to have a tool for guiding one to the best and most reliable sources This important new guide to the African American experience in cyberspace fills this need for people in all areas of Black Studies and Multiculturalism There is no search engine list that can match the quality of sites to be found in this book Alkalimat provides an easy to use directory to the very best websites that deal with the African American Experience The first section covers every aspect of African American history while a second section deals with a diverse set of topics covering society and culture Each chapter has a brief essay extensively annotation on the five best sites for each topic and then a group of good sites and a short bibliography This book is designed for a course at the high school or college level This book should be kept near every home computer that people use to surf the web for Black content Most people have found out that the major corporations and governments have been the dominant uploaders of information into cyberspace This volume is different because it is a serious introduction to the full democratic use of the web These websites will introduce people to the people who are serious about ending the digital divide because they are busy uploading information about the most excluded and marginalized people the African American community Many of these sites are being established by Black Studies academic programmes as well as community based organizations and institutions

Food Choice and Obesity in Black America Eric J. Bailey, 2006-05-30 Anthropologist Eric Bailey uses a cultural and holistic analysis of African American food preferences to show how black Americans generally perceive health body image food dieting physical fitness and exercise As is true of Americans overall black Americans are becoming more overweight and obese than ever before So too they are seeing the consequences heart attacks strokes hypertension and Type II diabetes at earlier and earlier ages Bailey offers a new cultural diet for black Americans and a prescription for working collectively not only to understand this critical health issue but also to establish a lifestyle strategy that will be both effective and manageable

Encyclopedia of Race and Crime Helen Taylor Greene, Shaun L. Gabbidon, 2009-04-14 The organization of the reader's guide especially the groupings of landmark cases race riots and criminology theories is impressive Other related titles lack the breadth detail and accessibility of this work Recommended for all libraries essential for comprehensive social studies collections Library Journal As seen almost daily on local and national news race historically and presently figures prominently in crime and justice reporting within the United States in the areas of hate crimes racial profiling sentencing disparities wrongful convictions felon disenfranchisement political prisoners juveniles and the death penalty and culturally specific delinquency prevention programs The Encyclopedia of Race and Crime covers issues in both historical and contemporary context with information on race and ethnicity and their impact on crime and the administration of justice These two volumes offer a greater appreciation for the similar historical experiences of varied racial and ethnic groups and illustrate how race and ethnicity has mattered and continues to matter in the administration of American criminal justice
