Growing up Indigenous: Developing Effective Pedagogy for Education and Development R.M. Nichol,2011-07-23 This is a fascinating account of traditional socialisation and Indigenous forms of learning in Australia and Melanesia It draws from rich ethnographic historical and educational material There has never been a greater need for a socially and historically informed yet critical account of the mismatch between traditional ways realities of life in Indigenous communities villages and enclaves and the forms of education provided in schools Raymond Nichol a specialist in Indigenous education and pedagogy surveys the links too often disparities between ethnographic detail of life on the ground and the schooling provided by nation states in this vast region Most importantly he explores and suggests ways community developers and educators Indigenous and non Indigenous may work to bridge the gaps in social rights educational and economic development This is relevant for all Indigenous communities their survival and development Many vexed issues are discussed such as race ethnicity identity discrimination self determination development and relevant effective pedagogical learning and schooling strategies      Sex, Drugs and Young People Peter Aggleton, Andrew Ball, Purnima Mane, 2013-09-13 Sexual practices and drug use among the young are examined in this book calling into question mainstream assumptions about adolescence Bringing together a range of cross cultural and cross national contributions the book reveals both similarities and important differences that mark sexuality and drug use among young in different social and cultural settings In doing so it allows the reader to build up a clearer understanding of the challenges that must be faced in public health and education if we are to develop programs and interventions that really serve the needs of young people The book will be of interest to professionals working with young people and is suitable for a wide range of multidisciplinary courses covering areas such as human sexuality sex education public health and social work      Crime in Rural Australia Elaine Barclay, 2007 Crime in Rural Australia brings together leading academics who examine the major dimensions of crime and justice in rural and regional Australia      Dog Ear Cafe Andrew Stojanovski, 2018-11-01 Dog Ear Cafe is a true life adventure story about how one Aboriginal community beat the odds and defeated petrol sniffing It tells of the Mt Theo Petrol Sniffing Program a story of culture clash of two lines of fire that meet in the desert night of partnerships that cross Australia's racial divide Woven throughout are humour taboos bush mechanics hope and tragedy In a colloquial and narrative manner this book invites the reader to a deeper analysis of the assumptions behind white and black economics indigenous alcoholism welfare dependency and the failure of well intended policy and programs Hidden in the subtext is a mud map for reproducing successful partnerships with indigenous Australians The Mt Theo Program was founded in 1994 when half the teenage population of Yuendumu were sniffing Eight years later no one sniffed and ex sniffers had become youth leaders and community workers The elders of Mt Theo used their traditional bush knowledge to turn lives around      Indigenous Australian Youth Futures Kate Senior, Richard Chenhall, Victoria Burbank, 2021-07-08 Adolescents are at a critical life stage where they will soon be able to contribute to the wellbeing of humankind or do it great harm Consequently it is vital that the challenges and possibilities of adolescence be well understood and addressed In Australia such understanding is urgently needed with respect to Aboriginal adolescents Not only must they adjust to their changing bodies and minds but they must negotiate these changes within a context usually characterised by racism and poverty They must also do this within intercultural environments that include the disparate and sometimes incompatible beliefs and practices of their multicultural populations The chapters in this collection address these challenges to Aboriginal adolescents in the Northern Territory and the intercultural contexts in which they take place Their discussions include the adolescents experiences with health and health care education and the criminal justice system They also address their hopes dreams plans and politics engagement with social media food preferences and nutrition engagement with language family and changing mores affecting sexual behaviour and marriage The book aims to provide readers with a greater understanding of the day to day lives of Aboriginal adolescents and some of the adults who care for or neglect them It seeks to provide readers with a better understanding of the circumstances processes and factors that affect adolescent health wellbeing and future prospects in their intercultural environments and glimpse the multiplicity of these circumstances processes and factors and the complexity of their interaction

Experiments in self-determination Nicolas Peterson, Fred Myers, 2016-01-21 Outstations which dramatically increased in numbers in the 1970s are small decentralised and relatively permanent communities of kin established by Aboriginal people on land that has social cultural or economic significance to them In 2015 they yet again came under attack this time as an expensive lifestyle choice that can no longer be supported by state governments Yet outstations are the original and most striking manifestation of remote area Aboriginal people s aspirations for self determination and of the life projects by which they seek and have sought autonomy in deciding the meaning of their life independently of projects promoted by the state and market They are not simply projects of isolation from outside influences as they have sometimes been characterised but attempts by people to take control of the course of their lives In the sometimes acrimonious debates about outstations the lived experiences motivations and histories of existing communities are missing For this reason we invited a number of anthropological witnesses to the early period in which outstations gained a purchase in remote Australia to provide accounts of what these communities were like and what their residents aspirations and experiences were Our hope is that these closer to the ground accounts provide insight into and understanding of what Indigenous aspirations were in the establishment and organisation of these communities This volume will be a great addition not only to the origins and history of outstations but in light of the closing of over 100 Aboriginal communities in Western Australia it should be a required bedtime reading for all politicians across Australia The contributors do not simply concentrate on the so called outstations movement of the 1970s but rather help the reader understand why in the 1930s 40 50s and 60s Aboriginal people moved away from cattle stations missions and settlements to reconstruct their moral compass in settings which made more contemporaneous sense not only to them but often to the whites who were there as well Professor Françoise Dussart University of Connecticut

The Resisting Muse: Popular Music and Social Protest Ian Peddie, 2017-09-29 Popular music has traditionally served as a rallying point for voices of opposition across a huge variety of genres This volume examines the various ways popular music has been deployed as anti establishment and how such opposition both influences and responds to the music produced Implicit in the notion of resistance is a broad adversarial hegemony against which opposition is measured But it would be wrong to regard the music of popular protest as a kind of dialogue in league against the establishment Convenient though they are such as and their arguments bespeak a rather shop worn stance redolent of youthful rebellion It is much more fruitful to perceive the relationship as a complex dialectic where musical protest is as fluid as the audiences to which it appeals and the hegemonic structures it opposes The book s contemporary focus largely post 1975 allows for comprehensive coverage of extremely diverse forms of popular music in relation to the creation of communities of protest Because such communities are fragmented and diverse the shared experience and identity popular music purports is dependent upon an audience collectivity that is now difficult to presume In this respect The Resisting Muse examines how the forms and aims of social protest music are contingent upon the audience s ability to invest the music with the appropriate political meaning Amongst a plethora of artists genres and themes highlights include discussions of Aboriginal rights and music Bauhaus Black Sabbath Billy Bragg Bono Cassette culture The Capitol Steps Class The Cure DJ Spooky Drum and Bass Eminem Farm Aid Foxy Brown Folk Goldie Gothicism Woody Guthrie Heavy Metal Hip hop Independent home publishing Iron Maiden Joy Division Jungle Led Zeppelin Lil Kim Live Aid Marilyn Manson Bob Marley MC Eiht Minor Threat Motown Queen Latifah Race Rap Rastafarianism Reggae The Roots Diana Ross Rush Salt n Pepa 7 Seconds Roxanne Shant Siouxsie and the Banshees The Sisters of Mercy Michelle Shocked Bessie Smith Straight edge Sunrize Band Bunny Wailer Wilco Bart Willoughby Wirrinyga Band Zines Growing Up in Central Australia Ute Eickelkamp,2011-06-01 Surprisingly little research has been carried out about how Australian Aboriginal children and teenagers experience life shape their social world and imagine the future This volume presents recent and original studies of life experiences outside the institutional settings of childcare and education of those growing up in contemporary Central Australia or with strong links to the region Focusing on the remote communities roughly 1 200 across the continent the volume includes case studies of language and family life in small country towns and urban contexts These studies expertly show that forms of consciousness have changed enormously over the last hundred years for Indigenous societies more so than for the rest of Australia yet equally notable are the continuities across generations
