Hector's Inheritance Horatio Alger, 2015-07-19 Excerpt from Hector's Inheritance Or the Boys of Smith Institute Moreover I employ competent teachers and guarantee rapid progress when the student is of good natural capacity and willing to work I think you will agree with me that it is unwise to economize when the proper training of a youth is in question and that a cheap school is little better than no school at all I have only to add that I shall be most happy to receive your young nephew if you decide to send him to me and will take personal pains to promote his advancement I remain dear sir your obedient servant Dionysus Radix Mr Roscoe threw the letter down upon the desk with an impatient gesture Five hundred dollars a year he exclaimed What can the man be thinking of Why when I went to school twenty five years since less than half this sum was charged The man is evidently rapacious Let me see what this other letter says The second letter was contained in a yellow envelope of cheap texture and was much more plebeian in appearance than the first Again we will look over Mr Roscoe s shoulder and read what it contains It was postmarked Smithville and the envelope was disfigured by a blot About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Hector's
