Featuring essays by renowned scholars Michael J Hyde Theodore Kisiel Mark Michalski Otto Poggeler and Nancy S Struever this book provides the definitive treatment of Martin Heidegger's 1924 lecture course Basic Concepts of Aristotelian Philosophy A deep and original interview with philosopher Hans Georg Gadamer who attended the lecture course is also included Conducted over the course of three years just prior to his death in 2002 the interview is Gadamer's last major philosophical statement By carefully considering this lecture course in the context of Heidegger's life and work the contributors compel us to reconsider the history and theory of rhetoric as well as the history of twentieth century continental philosophy

Sites of Vision David Michael Kleinberg-Levin, 1999 The fourteen contributors to Sites of Vision explore the hypothesis that the nature of visual perception about which philosophers talk must be explicitly recognized as a discursive construction indeed a historical construction in philosophical discourse In recent years scholars from many disciplines have become interested in the construction of the human senses in how the human environment shapes both how and what we perceive Taking a very different approach to the question of construction Sites of Vision turns to language and explores the ways in which the rhetoric of philosophy has formed the nature of vision and how in turn the rhetoric of vision has helped to shape philosophical thought The central role of vision in relation to philosophy is evident in the vocabulary of the discipline in words such as speculation observation insight and reflection in metaphors such as mirroring perspective and point of view and in methodological concepts such as reflective detachment and representation Because the history of vision is so pervasively reflected in the history of philosophy it is possible for both vision and thought to achieve a greater awareness of their genealogy through the history of philosophy The fourteen contributors to Sites of Vision explore the hypothesis that the nature of visual perception about which philosophers talk must be explicitly recognized as a discursive construction indeed a historical construction in philosophical discourse

Sylvia Wynter Katherine McKittrick, 2015-02-02 The Jamaican writer and cultural theorist Sylvia Wynter is best known for her diverse writings that pull together insights from theories in history literature science and black studies to explore race the legacy of colonialism and representations of humanness Sylvia Wynter On Being Human as Praxis is a critical genealogy of Wynter's work highlighting her insights on how race location and time together inform what it means to be human The contributors explore Wynter's stunning reconceptualization of the human in relation to concepts of blackness modernity urban space the Caribbean science studies migratory politics and the interconnectedness of creative and theoretical resistances The collection includes an extensive conversation between Sylvia Wynter and Katherine McKittrick that delineates Wynter's engagement with writers such as Frantz Fanon W E B DuBois and Aimé Césaire among others the interview also reveals the ever extending range and power of Wynter's intellectual project and elucidates her attempts to rehistoricize humanness as praxis

The Concept of Woman Prudence Allen, 2006-01-26 The culmination of a lifetime's scholarly work this study by Sister Prudence Allen traces the concept of woman in relation to man in Western thought from ancient times to the present This volume is the second in her study in which she explores claims about sex and gender identity in the works of over fifty philosophers both men and women in the late medieval and early Renaissance periods

Hermeneutics and Phenomenology Saulius Geniusas, Paul Fairfield, 2018-09-20 The relationship between these two central theoretical and philosophical approaches which we thought we knew is more complex and interesting than our standard story might suggest It is not always clear how hermeneutics that is post Heideggerian hermeneutics as articulated by Hans Georg Gadamer Paul Ricoeur and a large number of thinkers working under their influence regards the phenomenological tradition be it in its Husserlian or various post Husserlian formulations This volume inquires into this issue both in general conceptual terms and through specific analyses into questions of ontology and metaphysics science language theology and imagination With a substantial editors introduction the volume contains 15 chapters from some of the most significant scholars in this field covering the essential questions about the history present and future of these two disciplines The volume will be of interest to any philosopher or student with an interest in developing a sophisticated and nuanced understanding of contemporary hermeneutics and phenomenology

Descartes's Imagination Dennis L. Sepper, 1996-01-01 A work of major importance for the interpretation of Descartes's development and for the understanding of the function of the imagination in Descartes's early works Descartes's Imagination will be a must in Descartes and imagination studies It is long overdue Eva T H Brann author of The World of Imagination Sum and Substance A significant contribution to our understanding of the development of Descartes's philosophy William R Shea author of The Magic of Numbers and Motion The Scientific Career of Rene Descartes

The Cambridge Companion to Existentialism Steven Crowell, 2012-02-16 These essays demonstrate the contemporary vitality of existential thought engaging critically with the main concepts and figures of existentialism

The Other Renaissance Rocco Rubini, 2014-12-22 A natural heir of the Renaissance and once tightly conjoined to its study continental philosophy broke from Renaissance studies around the time of World War II In The Other Renaissance Rocco Rubini achieves what many have attempted to do since bring them back together Telling the story of modern Italian philosophy through the lens of Renaissance scholarship he recovers a strand of philosophic history that sought to reactivate the humanist ideals of the Renaissance even as philosophy elsewhere progressed toward decidedly antihumanist sentiments Bookended by Giambattista Vico and Antonio Gramsci this strand of Renaissance influenced philosophy rose in reaction to the major revolutions of the time in Italy such as national unity fascism and democracy Exploring the ways its thinkers critically assimilated the thought of their northern counterparts Rubini uncovers new possibilities in our intellectual history that antihumanism could have been forestalled and that our postmodern condition could have been entirely different In doing so he offers an important new way of thinking about the origins of modernity one that renews a trust in human dignity and the Western legacy as a whole

Dante's Hermeneutics of Salvation Christine O'Connell Baur, 2007-01-01 Widely considered one of the greatest works produced in Europe during the Middle Ages Dante's La Divina Commedia The Divine Comedy has influenced countless generations of readers yet surprisingly few books have attempted to explain the philosophical relevance of this great epic Dante's Hermeneutics of Salvation takes on this ambitious project Turning to Heidegger to provide a theoretical framework for her study Christine O'Connell Baur illustrates how Dante's poem invites its readers to undertake their own existential hermeneutic journey to freedom As the pilgrim progresses in his journey she argues he moves beyond a merely literal infernal self interpretation that is grounded on present attachments to things in the world If we readers accompany the pilgrim in this hermeneutic conversion we will see that our own existential commitments can help disclose the meaning of our world and our own finite freedom A work of considerable importance both for and teachers and students of Dante studies Dante's Hermeneutics of Salvation will also prove useful to scholars working in medieval studies philosophy and literary theory

A Religious Foundation for Global Business Ethics Cristiano Ciappei, Giacomo Mininni, 2025-03-25 This book aims to draft a viable path for establishing a business ethics model based on the wisdom traditions of nine of the world's great religions: Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Hinduism, Buddhism, Taoism, Confucianism, Zoroastrianism, and Animism. In light of the failure of many models based on various philosophies, we turn to the only cultural and anthropological realities that have proven to withstand the test of time and move the consciences of billions of people throughout history: religions. By exploring sacred texts and wisdom traditions, we investigate how religions contribute to the ongoing ethical debate in business environments with the aim of sparking academic and public interest in the potential of establishing a truly effective religion-based business ethics model.

Humanism and Religion Jens Zimmermann, 2012-01-26

The question of who we are and what vision of humanity we assume in Western culture lies at the heart of hotly debated questions on the role of religion in education, politics, and culture in general. The need for recovering a greater purpose for social practices is indicated, for example, by the rapidly increasing number of publications on the demise of higher education, lamenting the fragmentation of knowledge and university culture's surrender to market-driven pragmatism. The West's cultural rootlessness and lack of cultural identity are also revealed by the failure of multiculturalism to integrate religiously vibrant immigrant cultures. A main cause of the West's cultural malaise is the long-standing separation of reason and faith. Jens Zimmermann suggests that the West can rearticulate its identity and renew its cultural purpose by recovering the humanistic ethos that originally shaped Western culture. In tracing the religious roots of humanism from patristic theology through the Renaissance into modern philosophy, we find that humanism was originally based on the correlation of reason and faith. In this book, the author combines humanism, religion, and hermeneutic philosophy to re-imagine humanism for our current cultural and intellectual climate. The hope of this recovery is for humanism to become what Charles Taylor has called a social imaginary: an internalized vision of what it means to be human. This vision will encourage once again the correlation of reason and faith in order to overcome current cultural impasses such as those posed, for example, by religious and secularist fundamentalisms.

After Machiavelli Barbara J. Godorecci, 1993

After Machiavelli is an examination of the triangular relationship of re-writing, a dynamic process encompassing both creative newness and awareness of historical profundity, the hermeneutic attitude, and Machiavelli's poesis. Specifically, it addresses four questions: First, to what degree can we speak of intersection/interaction among this triad? Second, what common ground do all three actually share? Third, in what particular manner do the act of re-writing and the hermeneutic attitude manifest themselves in the writings of Niccolò Machiavelli? And last, what bearing does this have on the reader/heir to Machiavelli's literary legacy? In answering these questions, Godorecci offers a close reading of a cycle of Machiavellian re-writings characterized by three particular cases: Machiavelli's rewriting of the works of others (Plautus's Casina, Terence's Andria, Livy's Ab urbe condita, and Dante's De vulgari eloquentia); his own texts (the story of Vitellozzo Vitelli and the events in Sinigaglia at the court of Cesare Borgia); and the re-writing of him by others (in Gramsci's modern prince, Drawing on Wilhelm Dilthey's ideas on experience, history, and hermeneutics). Godorecci provides insights into Machiavelli's participation in the process of rewriting as an expression of his own hermeneutic attitude which supports the universal validity of interpretation and thus clears space for others who come to take up Machiavelli's thought. The Handbook of Visual Culture Ian Heywood, Barry Sandywell, 2017-04-20 Visual culture has become one of the most dynamic fields of scholarship a reflection of how the study of human culture increasingly requires distinctively visual ways of thinking and methods of analysis Bringing together leading international scholars to assess all aspects of visual culture the Handbook aims to provide a comprehensive and authoritative overview of the subject The Handbook embraces the extraordinary range of disciplines which now engage in the study of the visual film and photography television fashion visual arts digital media geography philosophy architecture material culture sociology cultural studies and art history Throughout the Handbook is responsive to the cross disciplinary nature of many of the key questions raised in visual culture around digitization globalization cyberculture surveillance spectacle and the role of art The Handbook guides readers new to the area as well as experienced researchers into the topics issues and questions that have emerged in the study of visual culture since the start of the new millennium conveying the boldness excitement and vitality of the subject Giambattista Vico and Anglo-American Science Marcel Danesi, 2011-09-12 No detailed description available for Giambattista Vico and Anglo American Science The Routledge Handbook on the Reception of Classical Architecture Nicholas Temple, Andrzej Piotrowski, Juan Manuel Heredia, 2019-11-01 This is the first comprehensive study of the reception of classical architecture in different regions of the world Exploring the impact of colonialism trade slavery religious missions political ideology and intellectual artistic exchange the authors demonstrate how classical principles and ideas were disseminated and received across the globe By addressing a number of contentious or unresolved issues highlighted in some historical surveys of architecture the chapters presented in this volume question long held assumptions about the notion of a universally accepted classical tradition and its broadly Euro centric perspective Featuring thirty two chapters written by international scholars from China Europe Turkey North America Mexico Australia and New Zealand the book is divided into four sections 1 Transmission and re conceptualisation of classical architecture 2 Classical influence through colonialism political ideology and religious conversion 3 Historiographical surveys of geographical regions and 4 Visual and textual discourses This fourfold arrangement of chapters provides a coherent structure to accommodate different perspectives of classical reception across the world and their geographical ethnographic ideological symbolic social and cultural contexts Essays cover a wide geography and include studies in Italy France England Scotland the Nordic countries Greece Austria Portugal Romania Germany Poland India Singapore China the USA Mexico Brazil New Zealand and Australia Other essays in the volume focus on thematic issues or topics pertaining to classical architecture such as ornament spolia humanism nature moderation decorum heresy and taste An essential reference guide The Routledge Handbook on the Reception of Classical Architecture makes a major contribution to the study of architectural history in a new global context Doing Humanities in Nineteenth-Century Germany, 2019-12-09 Doing Humanities in

Nineteenth Century Germany edited by Efraim Podoksik is a collaborative project by leading scholars in German studies that examines the practices of theorising and researching in the humanities as pursued by German thinkers and scholars during the long nineteenth century and the relevance of those practices for the humanities today Each chapter focuses on a particular branch of the humanities such as philosophy history classical philology theology or history of art The volume both offers a broad overview of the history of German humanities and examines an array of particular cases that illustrate their inner dilemmas ranging from Ranke's engagement with the world of poetry to Max Weber's appropriation of the notion of causality

The Aura of the Word in the Early Age of Print (1450–1600) Jessica Buskirk, Samuel Mareel, 2017-07-05 Did the invention of movable type change the way that the word was perceived in the early modern period In his groundbreaking essay The Work of Art in the Age of Mechanical Reproduction the cultural critic Walter Benjamin argued that reproduction drains the image of its aura by which he means the authority that a work of art obtains from its singularity and its embeddedness in a particular context The central question in The Aura of the Word in the Early Age of Print 1450–1600 is whether the dissemination of text through print had a similar effect on the status of the word in the early modern period In this volume contributors from a variety of fields look at manifestations of the early modern word in English French Latin Dutch German and Yiddish as entities whose significance derived not simply from their semantic meaning but also from their relationship to their material support to the physical context in which they are located and to the act of writing itself Rather than viewing printed text as functional and lacking in materiality contributors focus on how the placement of a text could affect its meaning and significance The essays also consider the continued vitality of pre printing press kinds of text such as the illuminated manuscript and how new practices such as the veneration of handwriting sprung up in the wake of the invention of movable type
