The Other of Climate Change Andrew Baldwin,2022-08-31 If the predictions are correct climate change will force millions of people from their homes threatening a future of humanitarian crises political violence and strife In The Other of Climate Change Andrew Baldwin intervenes in the international political debate about climate change and human migration to tell a different story He argues that international attempts to govern those who stand to be displaced by climate change are as much or more to do with resuscitating European humanism at a moment in which geophysical phenomena like climate change and the Anthropocene threaten to extinguish the human altogether Through detailed interpretations of the figure of the climate migrant refugee Baldwin traces the contours of an emerging form of planetary racial rule racial futurism unfolding in the context of the climate change crisis He shows how racial futurism takes shape as a political response to the crisis of humanism that is said to lay at the heart of the climate change crisis Along the way he examines numerous themes that are at the forefront of contemporary thinking about climate change and politics including the political humanism sovereignty neoliberalism the international and race Ultimately the book is a plea for scholars activists and policymakers to take seriously the way race and racism are bound up with the political discourse on climate change and migration and to ask what this means for the wider political debate about climate change and the future
