

The background of the cover is a photograph of a garden. In the center, there is a small, calm pond. A small, dark-colored boat with a wooden interior is moored in the pond. The water reflects the surrounding greenery and the boat. The garden is filled with various plants, including tall green leaves and numerous small yellow flowers, possibly irises, which are in bloom. The overall atmosphere is peaceful and natural.

Wild about Cornwall David Chapman, 2007-03 This publication is a celebration of the natural history of Cornwall and the Isles of Scilly featuring 40 sites where flora and fauna may be seen in a variety of habitats suggested walks and some 580 species Old World and New World Perspectives in Environmental Philosophy Martin Drenthen, Jozef Keulartz, 2014-07-28 This is the first collection of essays in which European and American philosophers explicitly think out their respective contributions and identities as environmental thinkers in the analytic and continental traditions The American European as well as Analytic Continental collaboration here bears fruit helpful for further theorizing and research The essays group around three well defined areas of questioning all focusing on the amelioration management of environmentally historically and traditionally diminished landscapes The first part deals with differences between New World and the Old World

perspectives on nature and landscape restoration in general the second focuses on the meaning of ecological restoration of cultural landscapes and the third on the meaning of the wolf and of wildness It does so in a way that the strengths of each philosophical school continental and analytic comes to the fore in order to supplement the other's approach This text is open to educated readers across all disciplines particularly those interested in restoration adaptation ecology the cultural construction of place and landscape the ongoing conversation about wilderness the challenges posed to global environmental change The text may also be a gold mine for doctoral students looking for dissertation projects in environmental philosophy that are inclusive of continental and analytic traditions This text is rich in innovative approaches to the questions they raise that are reasonably well thought out The fact that the essays in each section really do resonate with one another directly is also intellectually exciting and very helpful in working out the full dimensions of each question raised in the volume Wild Solveig Bøe, Hege Charlotte Faber, Eivind Kasa, 2022-10-20 In this interdisciplinary work philosophers from different specialisms connect with the notion of the wild today and interrogate how it is mediated through the culture of the Anthropocene They make use of empirical material like specific artworks films and other cultural works related to the term wild to consider the aesthetic experience of nature focusing on the untamed the boundless the unwieldy or the unpredictable in other words aspects of nature that are mediated by culture This book maps out the wide range of ways in which we experience the wildness of nature aesthetically relating both to immediate experience as well as to experience mediated through cultural expression A variety of subjects are relevant in this context including aesthetics art history theology human geography film studies and architecture A theme that is pursued throughout the book is the wild in connection with ecology and its experience of nature as both a constructive and destructive force Creating Competitive Advantage Kevin Uphill, 2016-02-03 The economic environment is global highly sophisticated and in continuous fast flux The challenge for business leaders executives and strategists is to read and respond agilely to trends and underlying movements to stay ahead of dynamic market flow and change Creating Competitive Advantage sets out a compelling case for the business benefits of better market anticipation and provides tools and approaches to develop a forward looking strategy that will deliver these Through theory case studies and practical insights the book demonstrates how better analysis of market trends and scanning of the environment combined with business model change and confident leadership can gain and maintain competitive advantage With the right approach game changing strategy can be highly accessible for all business strategists and owners rather than as today the almost exclusive reserve of a few brave and instinctive entrepreneurs With tools assessments and models to get more value out of the business data you already have and take your strategy to the next level through analytically supported intuition Creating Competitive Advantage gives business leaders and strategists the toolkit to move from a responsive mindset to a leading one Online supporting resources for this book include downloadable figures and tables from the book The Garden, 2006 BBC Wildlife, 2004 Lonely Planet Devon & Cornwall Lonely Planet, Oliver
