Encyclopedia of Literary Translation Into English: A-L O. Classe, 2000 Patient X David Peace, 2019-08-20 In these twelve interconnected tales David Peace acclaimed author of the Red Riding Quartet Occupied City and Tokyo Year Zero weaves fact and fiction as he takes up the brief but fiercely lived life of the early twentieth century Japanese writer Ryunosuke Akutagawa Unique and offbeat Patient X delves into Akutagawa's rich and complicated private life his fears and battles with mental illness his complex reaction to the Westernization of Japan his exacting creative process and his suicide weaving these facets into a hauntingly evocative portrait But Patient X is more than a paean to one remarkable writer it is also an incandescent exploration of the act and obsession of writing itself and of the role of the artist in times that darkly mirror our own Touching the Unreachable Fusako Innami, 2025-09-30 Fusako Innami offers the first comprehensive study of touch and skinship relationality with the other through the skin in modern Japanese writing The concept of the unreachable that is the lack of characters' complete ability to touch what they try to reach for provides a critical intervention on the issue of intimacy Touch has been philosophically addressed in France but literature is an effective or possibly the most productive venue for exploring touch in Japan as literary texts depict what the characters may be concerned with but may not necessarily say out loud Such a moment of capturing the gap between the felt and the said the interaction between the body and language can be effectively analyzed by paying attention to layers of verbalization or indeed translation by characters utterances authors depictions and readers interpretations Each of the writers discussed in this book starting with Nobel prize winner Kawabata Yasunari Tanizaki Jun'ichirō Yoshiyuki Junnosuke and Matsuura Rieko presents a particular obsession with objects or relationality to the other constructed via the desire for touch In Touching the Unreachable phenomenological and psychoanalytical approaches are cross-culturally interrogated in engaging with literary touch to constantly challenge what may seem like the limit of transferability regarding concepts words and practices The book thereby not only bridges cultural gaps beyond geographic and linguistic constraints but also aims to decentralize a Eurocentric hegemony in its production and use of theories and brings Japanese cultural and literary analyses into further productive and stimulating intellectual dialogues Through close readings of the authors' treatment of touch Innami develops a theoretical framework with which to examine intersensorial bodies interacting with objects and the environment through touch The Closed Hand Rebecca Riger Tsurumi, 2012-06-15 In her book The Closed Hand Images of the Japanese in Modern Peruvian Literature Rebecca Riger Tsurumi captures the remarkable story behind the changing human landscape in Peru at the end of the nineteenth century when Japanese immigrants established what would become the second largest Japanese community in South America. She analyzes how non-Japanese Peruvian narrators unlock the unspoken attitudes and beliefs about the Japanese held by mainstream Peruvian society as reflected in works written between 1966 and 2006. Tsurumi explores how these Peruvian literary giants including Mario Vargas Llosa, Miguel Gutiérrez, Alfredo Bryce Echenique, Carmen Oll, Pilar Dughi, and Mario Bellatín invented Japanese characters whose cultural differences fascinated and confounded their creators. She compares the outsider views of these Peruvian narrators with the insider perceptions of two Japanese Peruvian poets, Jos Watanabe and Doris Moromisato, who tap personal experiences and memories to create images that define their identities. The book begins with a brief sociohistorical overview of Japan and Peru, describing the conditions in both nations that resulted in Japanese immigration to Peru and concluding in contemporary times. Tsurumi traces the evolution of the terms Orient and Japanese Oriental and the depiction of Asians in Modernista poetry and in later works by Octavio Paz and Jorge Luis Borges. She analyzes the images of the Japanese portrayed in individual works of modern Peruvian narrative, comparing them with those created in Japanese Peruvian poetry. The book concludes with an appendix containing excerpts from Tsurumi's interviews and correspondence in Spanish with writers and poets in Lima and Mexico City.

Sleepless Marie Darrieussecq, 2023-09-05. A restless inquiry into the cultural and psychic sources of insomnia by one of contemporary French literature's most elegant voices. Plagued by insomnia for twenty years, Marie Darrieussecq turns her attention to the causes, implications, and consequences of sleeplessness, a nocturnal suffering that culminates at 4 a.m. and then defines the next day. Insomniac mornings are dead mornings; she observes. Prevented from falling asleep by her dread of exhaustion the next day, Darrieussecq turns to hypnosis, psychoanalysis, alcohol pills, and meditation. Her entrapment within this spiraling anguish prompts her inspired, ingenious search across literature, geopolitical history, psychoanalysis, and her own experience to better understand where insomnia comes from and what it might mean. There are those she writes in Rwanda whose vivid memories of genocide leave them awake and transfixed by complete horror; there is the insomnia of the unhoused who have nowhere to put their heads down. The hyperconnection of urban professional life transforms her bedroom from a haven to a dormant, electrified node. Ranging between autobiography, clinical observation, and criticism, Sleepless is a graceful, inventive meditation by one of the most daring, inventive novelists writing today.

Imperial Genus Travis Workman, 2016. A free ebook version of this title is available through Luminos University of California Press's open access publishing program for monographs. Visit www.luminosoa.org to learn more. Imperial Genus begins with the turn to world culture and ideas of the generally human in Japan's cultural policy in Korea in 1919. How were concepts of the human's genus being operative in the discourses of the Japanese empire? How did they inform the imagination and representation of modernity in colonial Korea? Travis Workman delves into these questions through texts in philosophy, literature, and social science. Imperial Genus focuses on how notions of human generality mediated uncertainty between the transcendental and the empirical, the universal and the particular and empire and colony It shows how cosmopolitan cultural principles the proletarian arts and Pan Asian imperial nationalism converged with practices of colonial governmentality It is a genealogy of the various articulations of the human s genus being within modern humanist thinking in East Asia as well as an exploration of the limits of the human as both concept and historical figure Encyclopedia of Life Writing Margaretta Jolly,2013-12-04 First published in 2001 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company The Chauffeur Howard Norman,2002-04-06 Bringing together eight previously published stories the bestselling author of The Bird Artist explores the lives of a range of characters who share a sense of loneliness and obsession In the title story Tokyo born Mrs Moro is driven every day by her chauffeur Tuttle Albers so that she can walk the beach in hope of seeing white pelicans while her driver reads the Japanese authors she lends him and falls in love with a zoologist in Jenny Aloo an Eskimo woman believes her missing son s soul is trapped inside a jukebox and in Kiss in the Hotel Joseph Conrad the narrator keeps track of a woman by whom he once spurned for nearly a decade while everything around him changes Noguchi East and West Dore Ashton,1993-09 An art history professor and author or editor of 30 books on art and culture maps the life of Japanese American sculptor and designer Isamu Noguchi 1904 1988 and his spiritual journey both in the events of his life and in the milestones of his art the sculptures gardens public spaces and stage decors that gained force and significance from Noguchi s double heritage Photographs The Essential Akutagawa Ryūnosuke Akutagawa,1999 Eastern and Western Ancient and Modern Masculine and Feminine collapse in his extraordinarily innovative and lucid prose BOOK JACKET The Columbia Anthology of Modern Japanese Literature J.
