Ruth,Karen M. Samuels, Lee A. Weidner,2015-07-06 Before the first European settlers arrived in the Saucon Valley the local Native American tribe the Lenape named the 17 mile eastern Pennsylvania creek Saucon meaning at the mouth of the creek Saucon Valley refers to the area drained by the Saucon Creek a tributary of the Lehigh River The valley includes Hellertown and Lower Saucon Township in Northampton County Lower Saucon Township was chartered in 1743 when it was still a part of Bucks

County The township also included South Bethlehem until 1865 and Hellertown until 1872 Before becoming a borough in 1872 Hellertown was the largest village in Lower Saucon Township for many years Even though the two municipalities remain separate it is today impossible to disunite the families culture and history that have been interwoven through the years

Lower Saucon Township Lee A. Weidner, Karen M. Samuels, Barbara J. Ryan, Lower Saucon Township Historical Society, 2005-07-27 Lower Saucon Township provides a unique glimpse of the regions many diverse villages and the German immigrant population Towns including Wassergass Shimersville Polk Valley Redington and Bingen were settled largely because of the areas fertile soil abundant water and many iron and limestone deposits which contributed to surrounding communities such as Bethlehem and Hellertown both socially and economically These rare family photographs depict a blend of lives that influenced the area before and after the industrial revolution

Hellertown Lee A. Weidner, 2002-12-01 Nestled in the Saucon Valley Hellertown lies just south of Bethlehem bordered on the west by the Saucon Creek While the creek derives its name from the Native American word sakunk meaning place where a small stream enters into a larger stream the town inherited its name from Christopher Heller and his descendants who settled the area in the mid 1700s The 1800s brought a wave of Deutsch German immigrants to this corner of Pennsylvania Dutch Deutsch country During the latter years of the nineteenth century and the first half of the twentieth century Hellertown resembled any small town in America Residents participated in world wars and suffered through the Great Depression while keeping their faith in democracy Hellertown tells the story of these residents through more than two hundred photographs that have been donated to the Hellertown Historical Society during the last century It shows the long gone train station Wagner s Grist and Saw Mill and the Thomas Iron Company Hellertown also offers snapshots of Big Bertha the 1920 Dewey Fire Company No 1 in action a Sears home the Hellertown girls croquet team of the early 1900s and some of the most influential residents from the past one hundred fifty years
