Geo-Narratives of a Filial Son Elizabeth Kindall,2020-05-11 Huang Xiangjian a mid seventeenth century member of the Suzhou local elite journeyed on foot to southwest China and recorded its sublime scenery in site specific paintings Elizabeth Kindall s innovative analysis of the visual experiences and social functions Huang conveyed through his oeuvre reveals an unrecognized tradition of site paintings here labeled geo narratives that recount specific journeys and create meaning in the paintings Kindall shows how Huang created these geo narratives by drawing upon the Suzhou place painting tradition as well as the encoded experiences of southwestern sites discussed in historical gazetteers and personal travel records and the geography of the sites themselves Ultimately these works were intended to create personas and fulfill specific social purposes among the educated class during the Ming Qing transition Some of Huang s paintings of the southwest together with his travel records became part of a campaign to attain the socially generated title of Filial Son whereas others served private functions This definitive study elucidates the context for Huang Xiangjian s painting and identifies geo narrative as a distinct landscape painting tradition lauded for its naturalistic immediacy experiential topography and dramatic narratives of moral persuasion class identification and biographical commemoration Writing and Materiality in China Judith T. Zeitlin,2020-10-26 Speaking about Chinese writing entails thinking about how writing speaks through various media In the guises of the written character and its imprints traces or ruins writing is more than textuality The goal of this volume is to consider the relationship of writing to materiality in China s literary history and to ponder the physical aspects of the production and circulation of writing To speak of the thing ness of writing is to understand it as a thing in constant motion transported from one place or time to another one genre or medium to another one person or public to another Thinking about writing as the material product of a culture shifts the emphasis from the author as the creator and ultimate arbiter of a text's meaning to the editors/publishers/collectors and readers through whose hands a text is reshaped, disseminated and given new meanings. By yoking writing and materiality, the contributors to this volume aim to bypass the tendency to oppose form and content, words and things, documents and artifacts, to rethink key issues in the interpretation of Chinese literary and visual culture.

Imagining Tibet Thierry Dodin, Heinz Rother, 2001. In the past century, the Western view of Tibet has evolved from an exotic Shangri-la filled with golden idols and the promise of immortality to a peaceful land with an enlightened society now ravaged by outside aggression. Providing an historical background to the West's ever-changing relationship with Tibet, Donald Lopez, Jeffrey Hopkins, Jamyang Norbu and other noted scholars explore a variety of topics from Western perceptions of Tibetan approaches to violence, monastic life and life as a nation in exile to representations of Tibet in Western literature, art, environmentalism and the New Age movement.
