Helen Dawes Sechelt:

Helen Dawe's Sechelt Helen Dawe, 1990 As we enter the 1990s we mark the 100th anniversary of the decade which saw the establishment of a white settlement at Sechelt British Columbia The first of those settlers Thomas John Cook was the grandfather of Helen Dawe who established for herself a reputation as the foremost chronicler of Sechelt history Helen Dawe's Sechelt brings together her work on the founding and development of a community that has since become the hub of the Sunshine Coast The book features a personal and anecdotal view of many of Sechelt's founders both white and Indian and contains over 120 vintage photographs taken from one of the most impressive private collections in the province The result is much more than a local history It is both a case study of how modern British Columbia was built and a personal introduction to some of the people who were its builders

Sub-State Nationalism Helen Catt, Michael Murphy, 2003-09-02 A major feature of the political development of Western democracies is the growth of indigenous ethnic and national groups striving for political self-determination This book analyses the institutional responses individual governments have made to these demands Sub State Nationalism provides a much needed categorization and genuinely comparative analysis of the political voice gained by sub state national groups in multinational democratic communities The book includes international case studies drawn from Canada New Zealand Australia and the USA It covers the empirical question of what voice these groups have and how its institutions are structured and the analytical question of how such knowledge contributes to our theoretical understanding of the politics of group rights and representation
