

HOW HELICOPTER WORK

MAIN ROTOR

The main rotor is the primary lifting device of the helicopter. It consists of a hub with several blades attached. The blades are connected to the hub by a system of hinges that allow them to flap up and down as the helicopter moves forward. This flapping action creates a lift that counteracts the weight of the helicopter, allowing it to hover. The main rotor is driven by the engine through a transmission system.

TAIL ROTOR

The tail rotor is a smaller rotor located at the rear of the helicopter. Its primary function is to counteract the torque produced by the main rotor, which would otherwise cause the fuselage to rotate in the opposite direction. The tail rotor is driven by the engine through a tail drive shaft and a gearbox. It can also be used to provide additional lift and to maneuver the helicopter in a hover.
