The Hollywood Renaissance Yannis Tzioumakis,Peter Krämer,2018-06-28 In December 1967 Time magazine put Bonnie and Clyde on its cover and proudly declared that Hollywood cinema was undergoing a renaissance For the next few years a wide range of formally and thematically challenging films were produced at the very centre of the American film industry often but by no means always combining success at the box office with huge critical acclaim both then and later This collection brings together acknowledged experts on American cinema to examine thirteen key films from the years 1966 to 1974 starting with Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf? a major studio release which was in effect exempted from Hollywood's Production Code and thus helped to liberate American filmmaking from self censorship Long standing taboos to do with sex violence race relations drugs politics religion and much else could now be broken often in conjunction with extensive stylistic experimentation Whereas most previous scholarship has examined these developments through the prism of auteurism with its tight focus on film directors and their oeuvres the contributors to this collection also carefully examine production histories and processes In doing so they pay particular attention to the economic underpinnings and collaborative nature of filmmaking the influence of European art cinema as well as of exploitation experimental and underground films and the connections between cinema and other media notably publishing music and theatre Several chapters show how the innovations of the Hollywood Renaissance relate to further changes in American cinema from the mid 1970s onwards

Streisand Garrett Stewart, 2022-11-29 A blend of film reading with vocal analysis in appreciation of Barbra Streisand's unmatched contribution to lyric drama on screen At every stage of her career Barbra Streisand's genius finds its fullest measure in screen song first in Emmy winning TV specials then in Hollywood blockbusters from Funny Girl to Funny Lady She goes on as emerging auteur to direct her own musical concepts in A Star Is Born before reconceiving the big screen musical altogether in the writing as well as directing of her own starring role in Yentl: A Film with Music In this intensive reading of the actress who sings Garrett Stewart notes the gender and ethnic stereotypes that Streisand shattered as the first openly Jewish superstar while concentrating not just on the cultural difference she made but on the internal differentials of her unholy vocal gift whose kinetic volatility shapes a kind of cinematic terrain all its own Down through her filmed return to the concert stage Stewart elicits the sinuous phonetic text of Streisand's on screen musical delivery in a keenly attentive mode of audition that puts into fresh perspective the indelible aura of her stardom
