European Gas Markets Challenge And Opportunity In The 1990s:

The Development of European Gas Markets Javier Estrada, Arild Moe, Kåre Dahl Martinsen, 1996-05-01 This volume studies the driving forces behind the development of the European gas market and the uncertainties facing the industry in Europe There is widespread consensus within Europe about the advantages of natural gas to reduce air pollution and to enhance energy supply diversification Thus taking into account these most fundamental prerequisites for increased gas demand this volume addresses the more immediate question of how the conglomeration and organisation of European gas industries will be influenced by this latent demand potential The purpose of this book is to focus both on the analysis of evolutionary organisational processes within the gas industry and the pressures for change provoked by external forces such as interfuel competition environmental imperatives and new trends in European economic policies The potential for structural change in the organisation of the European gas industry is discussed as well as the political economic and commercial factors affecting its progress With the present uncertainty as to whether the gas industry will take advantage of the obvious market opportunities that are opening up this book takes a close look at the European gas industry at this time of change and analyses how this process may develop and the possible implications this will have on the gas industry

European Gas Markets Jonathan P. Stern, 1990      The New Politics of Energy Security in the European Union and Beyond Andrea Prontera, 2017-05-18 Combining theoretical reflections and empirical insights from paradigmatic case studies in the area of external energy governance pipeline politics Liquefied Natural Gas development and offshore petroleum policy and politics this ground breaking study demonstrates that a distinctive and new politics of energy security is definitively emerging in the European Union Innovative not only in regard to the case studies presented which include the Caspian region the Baltic Meditterrean countries Central Asia and EU Russia relations but also in regard to the analytical framework adopted an International Political Economy approach informed by an historical institutional perspective the book challenges the common view of the de politicisation of energy security supported by the mainstream market approach and the power politics and zero sum game view supported by the geopolitical perspective This book places the study of EU energy politics in the broader evolving context of global energy markets and explores the complex interactions between EU and national political dynamics and between energy security and environmental concerns at the local level      Reshaping European Gas and Electricity Industries Dominique Finon, Atle Midttun, 2004-12-02 A unique and thorough investigation of the shift towards Europe wide energy regulation markets and business strategies and the extent to which energy systems have become more liberalised over this period Reshaping of European Gas and Electricity Industries analyses the key issues facing the European energy industry from a regulatory market and business perspective Current challenges within the field are also reviewed including competitive and environmental issues Liberalization Delivers timely insights into the changes facing the European energy industry in the face of deregulation Competition A direct look at business and marketing strategies in response to the influx of competition from across the globe Environment Provides powerful insights into the way environmentally based legislation has now become a key driver of the energy industry in Europe

The European Gas Markets Manfred Hafner, Simone Tagliapietra, 2017-08-16 This book explores in detail the challenges which the European gas markets currently face and the opportunities they present Bringing together some of the most prominent gas experts on Europe from both academia and industry this edited volume provides a comprehensive analysis of the various economic political and technological factors that interact in this sector Featuring a Foreword by Maro ef ovi Vice President of the European Commission in charge of the Energy Union contributions explore a wide range of issues such as the role of gas in decarbonizing Europe the outlook of Europe s gas demand supply and pricing and global LNG dynamics Country specific studies include Russia Norway the Netherlands and Germany with regional studies including North Africa and the Eastern Mediterranean Alongside detailed analysis of this complex sector it also puts forward a set of policy recommendations for the sector s key stakeholders This volume will be of interest to researchers and academics as well as practitioners and professionals within European gas markets

Renewable Energy Strategies for Europe: Foundations and context Michael Grubb, 1995 Examines in details the reasons for interest in renewable energy showing the relative importance of both existing energy structures and markets and crucially of non energy factors

European Gas Markets Jonathan P. Stern, 1990

Beyond the EU Regulatory State Andrea Prontera, 2019-08-16 The EU s growing dependence on natural gas and Russian resources energy security has become a hot discussion topic in academia and in policy circles in Brussels Washington and many European capitals However most of the books on the subject use a very descriptive and or normative approach and very few attempt to theorise EU energy security outside of mainstream conceptualisations of the EU as an international actor This book closes an important gap in the literature and offers a fresh perspective on EU energy studies and it will be an important contribution to the debate on the development of European integration and the EU s role in international relations in the wake of the crisis in EU politics and in light of the EU s increasingly complex external environment Due to its interdisciplinary features the book combines EU studies international affairs political economy and energy studies and the topics covered this book will be of special interest to scholars of the international political economy of energy and to those interested in European politics and EU international relations

The Routledge Companion to Network Industries Matthias Finger, Christian Jaag, 2015-11-19 In recent decades network industries around the world have gone through periods of de and re regulation With vast amounts of sometimes conflicting research carried out into specific network industries the time has come for a critical over arching assessment of this entire industry in order to provide a platform of understanding to aid future research and practice This comprehensive resource provides an orientation for academics policy makers and managers as to the main economic regulatory and commercial challenges in the network industries The book is split into sections covering market policy regulation management perspectives whilst all of the key network industries are covered including energy transport water and telecommunications Overseen by world class Editors and experts in the field this inter disciplinary resource is essential reading for students and researchers in international business industrial economics and the industries Energy Structures and Environmental Futures Torleif Haugland, Helge Ole Bergesen, Kjell Roland, 1998 This book examines the history and prospects of the European energy sector for the last twenty five and the next twenty five years The authors analysis is rooted in a careful examination of the factors that have shaped energy in Europe over the last quarter century its regulatory systems its corporate structures and its regulatory and environmental structures They conclude that whatever major changes may occur the structures of the twentieth century are not going to yield easily to economic internationalization nor to political environmentalism The European Union's Foreign Policy in Comparative Perspective Ingo Peters, 2015-11-19 This ground breaking volume provides a new perspective on the EU s foreign policy and offers a reconstruction of EU research that extends beyond narrow minded concepts of power and actorness Focusing on two intertwined research questions it presents a more sustainable base for studying EU foreign policy What is the EU s foreign policy quality in terms of actorness and power compared to other types of actors in international relations and global politics What factors influence the EU s foreign policy performance in comparison to states and international organizations This guiding principle and application of a grounded theory or heuristic case study approach allows the book to deliver a structured comparative analysis of EU foreign policy comparing findings across policy fields different legal foundations and respective policy modes of governance This book will be of key interest to students and scholars of European Union studies European Union foreign policy studies international relations and security policy studies

Prospects and Strategies for Nuclear Power Peter Beck, 1994 Examining the global strategic energy issues raised by the use of nuclear power this study argues that uncertainties about future electricity needs and constraints make the option of nuclear power a clear necessity However the author points out the problems posed by existing stockpiles of waste and plutonium as well as the dismantling of old power stations and states that a new generation of technologies must be produced to reduce these problems Energy Security Sanam S. Haghighi, 2007-08-31 This book offers the first comprehensive assessment of the various internal and external measures undertaken by the European Union to guarantee security of oil and gas supply It sets out and analyses in a coherent and thorough manner those aspects of EU external policy that are relevant in establishing a framework for guaranteeing energy security for the Union What makes the book unique is that it is the first of its kind to bridge the gap between EU energy and EU external policy The book discusses EU policy towards the major oil and gas producing countries of Russia the Mediterranean and the Persian Gulf at the bilateral as well as regional and multilateral level It brings together not only the dimensions of trade and investment but also other important aspects of external policy namely development and foreign policy The author argues that the EU s energy security cannot be achieved through adopting a purely internal approach to energy issues but that it is necessary to adopt a holistic approach to external policy covering efficient economic relations as well as development co operation and foreign policies towards energy producing countries The book will be a valuable resource for students of EU law WTO law or international energy law as well as scholars and practitioners dealing with energy issues      Making Policy in Europe Svein S Andersen,Kjell A

Eliassen,2001-01-26 This Second Edition of Making Policy in Europe is fully revised and expanded to provide the most up to date introduction to the study of policymaking in the European Union EU The first part of the book introduces the different perspectives to study of the EU as a political system and provides a framework for the study of the main actors and institutions in the decision making process from transnational lobbying within Brussels to the implementation of EU law in national member states Part two introduces each of the main sectoral policy areas The common market is introduced and reviewed before students are provided with detailed studies of policies and policy making in telecommunications the environment energy education immigration and policing In each case the complex interaction between different interests and actors at different levels in the EU apparatus is richly illustrated and the future prospects for further integration fully examined The final part of the book looks at the future economic and political structure of the EU and the direction of contemporary studies of the EU and European integration A completely new chapter reviews European monetary union another looks at the important enlargement question and finally the editors review the wider implications for Europe and the EU political system This book will be essential reading for another generation of students of the EU European public policy and European integration In each case the complex interaction between interests and actors at different levels in the EU apparatus is richly illustrated and the future prospects for further integration are examined      The Bridge Thane

Gustafson,2020-01-07 A Marginal Revolution Best Book of the Year Winner of the Shulman Book Prize A noted expert on Russian energy argues that despite Europe s geopolitical rivalries natural gas and deals based on it unite Europe s nations in mutual self interest Three decades after the fall of the Berlin Wall and the breakup of the Soviet empire the West faces a new era of East West tensions Any vision of a modern Russia integrated into the world economy and aligned in peaceful partnership with a reunited Europe has abruptly vanished Two opposing narratives vie to explain the strategic future of Europe one geopolitical and one economic and both center on the same resource natural gas In The Bridge Thane Gustafson an expert on Russian oil and gas argues that the political rivalries that capture the lion s share of media attention must be viewed alongside multiple business interests and differences in economic ideologies With a dense network of pipelines linking Europe and Russia natural gas serves as a bridge that unites the region through common interests Tracking the economic and political role of natural gas through several countries Russia and Ukraine the United Kingdom Germany the Netherlands and Norway The Bridge details both its history and its likely future As Gustafson suggests there are reasons for optimism but whether the gas bridge can ultimately survive mounting geopolitical tensions and environmental challenges remains to be seen      Investment Opportunities in Russia and the CIS David A. Dyker,1995 The collapse of communist power in the Soviet Union and subsequent measures to establish a private sector have created opportunities for both foreign and domestic private capital in Russia and the non Russian republics of the Commonwealth of Independent States CIS This volume which contains revised papers originally published by the Post Soviet Business Forum at the Royal Institute for International Affairs provides a sober long term assessment of investment priorities in the former Soviet Union and the problems that potential investors will encounter and their prospects for success The contributors neither exaggerate nor underestimate the difficulties facing potential investors many of whom have been attracted by the region s enormous wealth of natural resources William Butler assesses the issues involved in creating the legal structure necessary to facilitate private investment paying particular attention to issues of ownership investment and company law David Humphreys analyzes the specific problems of investment in the mining and metals industries in the CIS and the prospects for integrating these industries with the world economy Jonathan Stern assesses the prospects for investment in the Russian oil and gas sector over the next decade Julian Cooper addresses the lessons emerging from the conversion of the former Soviet defense industry to civilian production Sergei Manezhev analyzes the specific problems of investment in the Russian Far East a region that is rich in natural resources and provides a study of the operation of free economic zones in the region David Dyker provides an overall assessment of the prospects for investment in Russia and the CIS Post Soviet Business Forum Collection Energy and Power Stephen G. Gross,2023 In Energy and Power Stephen G Gross offers the first comprehensive history of German energy and climate policy from World War II to the present He shows how debates over energy profoundly shaped the course of German history and influenced the landmark developments that define modern Europe Moving beyond conventional economic theory this book gives a novel explanation for why energy transitions happen Further it provides a powerful lens to move beyond conventional debates on Germany s East West divide or its postwar engagement with the Holocaust to explore how this nation has shaped the contemporary world in other important ways

Third Party Access in European Gas Industries Jonathan P. Stern,1992 This work presents in detail the European Commission proposals to introduce third party access TPA into natural gas industries and the response from the European gas companies Proponents of TPA believe it would allow consumers greater choice and lower prices by introducing gas to gas competition into European gas markets opponents believe it would increase prices reduce security of supply delay the introduction of large investment projects and introduce massive regulatory complexity and bureaucracy Greenhouse Gas Control Technologies B. Eliasson,P. Riemer,A. Wokaun,1999-05-20 These proceedings contain 270 papers outlining ideas and contributions to the new scientific technical and political discipline of Greenhouse Gas GHG Control The contributions were presented at the 4th International Conference on Greenhouse Gas Control Technologies GHGT 4 It was the largest gathering of experts active in this new and fast developing field GHGT 4 was different from its predecessors in that it included all greenhouse gases not only CO<sub>2</sub> and all issues which could contribute to the mitigation of the greenhouse problem technical economic and political The main focus was on practical solutions and real demonstrations of mitigation technology being planned and implemented today It also addressed ways to increase the efficiency of power production and utilisation and looked at proposals to encourage the development of renewable energy sources During the Opening Session 10 keynote addresses were heard from prominent personalities in government industry and academia To tackle this very interdisciplinary problem and to achieve acceptable solutions it is essential for industry and government to initiate intense dialogue and cooperation Conferences like this can provide the opportunity for a meeting of minds between engineers and politicians in the face of global challenge The primary attributes of this global challenge are manifold the problem is global and international it is interdisciplinary both in substance and approach it covers technical political and economic issues and involves government science industry and academia it is complex and non linear and it will take the efforts of all parties involved to solve the problem These proceedings contain ideas for starting demonstration projects and for making better use of the power and flexibility of market measures They also show it is a problem we can influence and that there is a wealth of ideas The challenge now is to find the right partners to put these ideas into action      European Gas Market J.
