Over the past few years fashion law has emerged as a vibrant field of inquiry. The legal and policy issues affecting the fashion sector have been investigated with increasing intensity while a growing number of private practice lawyers and in house counsel regard themselves as practising fashion law. But what is fashion law? And what are the specific legal challenges facing the fashion sector as well as related solutions? The Handbook of Fashion Law seeks to answer these questions by bringing together multiple voices, approaches and jurisdictions. Its contributions are organized into four thematic areas. Part I considers the legal infrastructure of the fashion and luxury industries addressing issues related to intellectual property (IP) as well as the demands of the circular economy, protection of cultural heritage and freedom of expression and information. Part II maps the IP dimensions of fashion by reviewing the application of design rights, copyright, trade marks, geographical indications, plant variety rights and trade secrets. Part III analyses specific contractual issues arising in the fashion sector. It examines the application of principles and rules found in regulatory frameworks including those governing advertising, competition, consumer and tax laws. Finally, Part IV dissects and evaluates the role of new and emerging technologies in the fashion sector from a legal perspective. It considers concepts such as e-commerce, 3D printing, counterfeiting, artificial intelligence, non-fungible tokens (NFTs), the metaverse, gaming and wearable technology. The Handbook of Fashion Law offers readers a multidisciplinary and multijurisdictional understanding of legal challenges facing the fashion sector. Bringing together a diverse range of experts, its contributions offer readers an in-depth critical and strategic understanding of the fashion industry's legal intricacies.

The Images of the Consumer in EU Law Dorota Leczykiewicz, Stephen Weatherill, 2016-01-28. This book consists of contributions exploring from different perspectives the images of the consumer in EU law. The images of the consumer form the foundation for various EU policies more or less directly oriented towards the goal of consumer protection. The purpose of the volume is to establish what visions of the consumer there are in different contexts of EU law, whether they are consistent and whether EU law's engagement with consumer-related considerations is sincere or merely instrumental to the achievement of other goals. The chapters discuss how consumers should be protected in EU contract, competition, free movement and trade mark law. They reflect on the limits of the consumer empowerment rationale as the basis for EU consumer policy. The chapters look also at the variety of concerns consumers might have, including the cost of goods and services, access to credit, ethical questions of consumption, the challenges of excessive choice and the possibility to influence the content of regulatory measures and explore the significance of these issues for the EU's legislative and judicial process.
