European Integration And Housing Policy:

European Integration and Housing Policy Mark Kleinman, Walter Matznetter, Mark Stephens, 2005-07-28 This book presents a series of debates arising from the housing needs of different EU countries The authors address key issues by examining in turn the consequences of European integration for different housing markets the impact of the Maastricht Treaty and other policy documents the social consequences of integration including income distribution homelessness and marginal housing estates current housing policy in the Nordic countries and in Eastern Europe Handbook of Quality of Life in the Enlarged European Union Jens Alber, Tony Fahey, Chiara Saraceno, 2007-10-15 This is a comparative handbook and analysis of the social conditions and institutional contexts in the new and old member states of the enlarged EU 28 EU Cohesion Policy and European Integration John Bachtler, Carlos Mendez, 2016-04-22 EU Cohesion policy accounts for a major share of the EU budget and is central to economic and social development in many European countries This book provides a comprehensive and theoretically informed analysis of how Cohesion policy has evolved over time in particular the budgetary and policy dynamics of the 2007 13 reform In the context of the budgetary politics of the EU the book examines the process by which the reform of Cohesion policy has been shaped it identifies the key factors that explain the allocation of funding assesses the roles of the Member States European Commission and European Parliament and tests whether the process and outcome are consistent with the expectations of EU decision making and integration theories Based on extensive EU wide research over a ten year period the book provides new insights into both the process and outcomes of EU policy reform Presenting original research in an accessible format this book will be of interest to scholars as well as undergraduate and postgraduate students in the fields of European integration and policy studies The EU between Federal Union and Flexible Integration Antonina Bakardjieva Engelbrekt, Per Ekman, Anna Michalski, Lars Oxelheim, 2023-01-24 Against a backdrop of tumultuous events in Europe the EU faces once again the fateful question of moving towards federal union or let flexible integration guide the Union The sixth volume in Interdisciplinary European Studies explores the coexistence of deepening political integration and flexible patterns of integration in the EU The book brings together scholars from economics law and political science to provide insights into issues with a bearing on the future of the EU the crisis of rule of law and political values the move towards a European defence union the power of the new European public prosecutor s office the prospects of financial stability through the Recovery and Resilience facility and the state of European parliamentary democracy The chapters are based on up to date research findings and succinct assessments of the current state of affairs and ongoing debates They conclude with policy recommendations for decision makers on European and national levels Energy Policy Making in the EU Jale Tosun, Sophie Biesenbender, Kai Schulze, 2015-01-05 The book adopts an innovative analytical approach to agenda setting by not only presenting successful cases in which energy issues were addressed by means of public policy but by also analyzing failed attempts to make issues part of the European policy agenda

Another outstanding feature of the book is its use of the latest empirical data on a broad range of energy issues. When are energy issues likely to find their way to the agenda of European policymakers? This is the key research question guiding this collection of empirical studies which will shed light on both successful and unsuccessful attempts to include energy issues in the European agenda. The multi-level political system of the European Union represents a particularly fruitful setting for addressing this question due to the multiple institutional access points it provides for different groups of actors. The book has three key benefits. First, it provides a theory-informed analysis of agenda-setting processes in general and in the European Union in particular. Second, it presents an overview of the most important and emerging dimensions of European energy policy, and third, it helps to develop a research agenda for future research in the field. Handbook of Territorial Governance Giancarlo Cotella, Umberto Janin Rivolin, 2025-08-11. Integrating political, social and technical dimensions of territorial governance, this timely Handbook provides insights into the topic from scholars across urban and regional planning, policy geography and economics. It offers a comprehensive exploration of territorial governance systems across different theoretical perspectives, themes and geographies from Europe to Asia, Africa and beyond. Leading experts discuss territorial governance in relation to concrete spatial policy issues including housing and transportation policies, as well as broader aspects of human existence such as climate change and planetary commons. EU Cohesion Policy and Spatial Governance Rauhut, Daniel, Sielker, Franziska, Humer, Alois, 2021-07-31. Discussing the ongoing and future challenges of EU Cohesion Policy, this book critically addresses the economic, social and territorial challenges at the heart of the EU's policy. It identifies the multifaceted and dynamic nature of the policy, as well as the cohesion's goal interlinkage with other policies and considers unresolved questions of strategic importance in territorial governance: urban and regional inequalities and social aspects and wellbeing. Linking Integration and Residential Segregation Gideon Bolt, A. Sule Özüekren, Deborah Phillips, 2013-09-13. Policy makers tend to view the residential segregation of minority ethnic groups in a negative light as it is seen as an obstacle to their integration. In the literature on neighbourhood effects, the residential concentration of minorities is seen as a major impediment to their social mobility and acculturation, while the literature on residential segregation emphasises the opposite causal direction by focusing on the effect of integration on levels of de-segregation. This volume, however, indicates that the link between integration and segregation is much less straightforward than is often depicted in academic literature and policy discourses. Based on research in a wide variety of western countries, it can be concluded that the process of assimilation into the housing market is highly complex and differs between and within ethnic groups. The integration pathway not only depends on the characteristics of migrants themselves but also on the reactions of the institutions and the population of the receiving society. Linking Integration and Residential Segregation exposes the link between integration and segregation as a two-way relationship involving the minority ethnic groups and the host society, highlighting the importance of historical and geographical context for social and spatial outcomes. This book was originally published as a special issue of

Housing Change in East and Central Europe Sasha Tsenkova,2017-05-15 Ten years after the fall of the Berlin Wall patterns of change to the former communist nations of Europe are now discernible in a way that was impossible to see in the initial years This insightful book focuses on the case of changes in housing based on evidence collected from across the Central and Eastern European region The volume adopts a conceptual framework and provides cross regional analysis amongst which is situated a series of more focused case studies Issues examined include the consequences of the rapid privatization of state rental housing including the emergence of super owner occupied countries dramatic changes in urban structure and evidence that housing having been the shock absorber against which wider economic restructuring has occurred now faces a whole series of deferred problems The enthusiasm with which the market economy was initially embraced must now be tempered by a more sober assessment of what in reality has happened American Homelessness

Mary Ellen Hombs,2001-07-23 With 50 percent new material this third edition breaks this complex topic into key elements examining the roots of the problem programs that address it current research and public perceptions of homelessness American Homelessness covers who the homeless are and why they are in such a situation important events that have contributed to the problem and a who's who of homelessness activism including people such as MacArthur Fellow Robert M Hayes the former securities lawyer who filed the landmark New York City right to shelter case in 1979 It also includes a chronology facts and statistics key documents and reports a discussion of the International Bill of Rights a directory of organizations associations and government agencies and an annotated bibliography European Union Security and Defence George Voskopoulos,2020-10-01 This book explores the multilayer nexus among inter related international and regional security parameters that critically define the EU's rapidly changing security environment. In terms of intensity, complexity and urgency, these changes constitute challenges that threaten the very core of European security, both internal and external. In a fluid and transitional international environment of diversified needs and polymorphic threats, the space dimension acquires a novel unified meaning. The book closely examines the EU's current strategic, organisational and defence capabilities regarding global, regional and domestic challenges such as terrorism, systemic instability, global order and a number of crucial hindrances to transatlantic cooperation. The chapters offer not only valuable theoretical insights but also unique perspectives on operational and organisational elements of EU applied policies based on the testimonies of field experts. The combination of theory-based approaches and the demonstration of the EU's operational capabilities and weaknesses as externalized through its global strategy choices provide an overall evaluation of adopted policies and their effects. This is crucial in a global transition period that will define the EU's role and its potential to produce desired outcomes through synergies with its strategic allies.

OECD Economic Surveys: European Union 2021 OECD, 2021-09-10. The COVID-19 pandemic plunged the EU into its worst ever recession and risks increasing inequalities, notably between regions. Thanks to a bold and innovative policy response, including a common instrument to finance national recovery plans, Next Generation EU, growth is rebounding but ambitious reforms will be essential to heal the scars of the pandemic and succeed in the green and digital transitions.

Urban Displacements Susanne Soederberg, 2020-12-30. WINNER of the BISA IPEG Book Prize 2021. <https://www.bisa.ac.uk/members/working-groups/ipeg/articles/ipeg-2021-book-prize-winner-announced/> With an eye to further our understanding of everyday life in global capitalism, Urban Displacements provides the first systemic, critical political economy analysis of low-income rental housing and social dislocations, combining both theoretical advancements and detailed empirical studies centering on Berlin, Dublin and Vienna. Soederberg pushes beyond dominant debates by treating low-rent housing as a unique commodity that provides a necessary place for the societal reproduction of labour power whilst being integrated into the global dynamics of capitalism. She argues that historical and geographical configurations of monetized governance including landlords employers and inter scalar state practices have served to reproduce urban displacements and obfuscate their gendered class and racialized underpinnings The outcome is the everyday facilitation and normalization of urban poverty and social marginalization on one side and capital accumulation on the other Building on Soederberg s previous book Debtfare States and the Poverty Industry this accessible and interdisciplinary text will be useful to academics and students in political science sociology geography urban studies labour studies European studies and gender studies

Social Welfare East and West John Doling,Roziah Omar,2017-11-01 This title was first published in 2000 An exploration of the ways in which social welfare in two countries half a world apart may have similarities Through identification of the differences and similarities of social welfare in Britain and Malaysia the editors hope that we may be able to learn from one another as well as to contribute to debates both in our countries about how to respond to globalization and about global social policy Accordingly the contributors arranged themselves into pairs one Malaysian one British to write reviews of one of each of the six areas of social welfare Along with an opening chapter in which the aim was to identify a number of frameworks and issues that would allow the rest to be put into a context the 12 chapters each restricted to around 5000 words provide a service by service account

The Future of Public Housing Jie Chen,Mark Stephens,Yanyun Man,2013-12-26 Public housing was once an important strand in western housing policies but is seldom seen as a mainstream policy instrument for the future In contrast in many East Asian countries large public housing programs are underway Behind these generalizations there are exceptions too By including perspectives of scholars from across the world this book provides new insights into public housing in its various forms It contains in depth chapters on public housing in five East Asian countries and six Western countries together with three comparative overview chapters
