Statistical Sources for Social Research on Western Europe 1945-1995 Franz Rothenbacher, 2013-11-11 The intention of this book is to give a picture of the complex material that has been published in the field of social and economic statistics in Western Europe Although there are many guides bibliographies and reference books on special topics of this broad theme a general overview has been missing With this book I hope to fill this gap The frame of reference is a scientific one enabling and facilitating comparative social research on Western Europe In some respect this book enlarges and updates the bibliography written by Peter Flora Quantitative Historical Sociology published in Current Sociology in 1975 In principle this guide is an annotated bibliography of the most important printed material in the field of official statistics The legitimacy of such an approach lies in the fact that even today printed statistics are the most important form of dissemination of statistical results although microcomputers CD ROMs and the Internet have changed this situation In any case a special section on statistical databases is included for every country describing the main databases of the statistical offices Furthermore the Internet address of each international or national statistical institute is provided in the introductory paragraph This enables the reader to get fast access to online databases and supplementary online information on statistics via the Internet process of transition transferring the focus of attention from labour demand to labour supply with a view to clarifying how the transitional recession has affected households and in turn how these changes modified the supply of labour Paolo Verme examines how the dynamic of the reallocation of labour between state and private enterprises has been drastically altered by the growth of self employment and also takes a much needed look at the contribution of other factors offering an original explanation of this most important economic phenomenon Meganet Wilson P Dizard Jr,2021-11-28 So Paulo Brazils largest city has more mobile phones than does Paris The largest phone system in Kampuchea is cellular In the next twenty years within one generation everyone on earth will be able to place a phone call to anyone else anywhere This Meganet is a patchwork of networks big and small local and global primitive and high tech that fit together because they share compatible technologies Wilson Dizards Meganet is a report on the progress and setbacks in expanding Meganet resources to everyone on earth He examines not only the advantages from toll free numbers and credit cards but the downsides from the potential invasions of privacy to the question of who will and who should control Meganet Dizard describes the likely players from the oil and utility companies who own desirable rights of way to Silicon Valley to emerging innovators in Chile and Germany

Bavoso,2024-11-11 Debt capital markets have been at the heart of regulatory and policy debates since the global financial crisis of 2008 In this work Vincenzo Bavoso explores the role financial markets and products have in fuelling episodes of crises and financial instability Focussing on the law and regulation but also drawing on current economics and finance scholarship Debt Capital Markets examines both the pre 2008 regulatory environment and the framework that has emerged from post crisis regulatory corrections since Charting the evolution of debt capital markets and the transformation and liberalisation of the financial markets throughout the 1980s and 1990s the book outlines how debt capital markets from bonds to more sophisticated forms of securitised credit have become engines of private debt creation excessive levels of leverage and inevitably financial instability It covers all the main channels of debt intermediation in capital markets bonds commercial paper covered bonds securitisation collateralised debt obligations collateralised loan obligations and explains relevant synergies with adjacent markets and products such as credit derivatives repurchase agreements or FinTech lending Bavoso argues that the regulatory response after the 2008 global financial crisis has been insufficient so that debt capital markets remain the main locus of financial instability today His book provides a complex analysis of financial markets that accounts for theoretical practical and regulatory aspects It provides a multifaceted and contextual appraisal of the role of debt capital markets together with the legal and regulatory challenges posed by their development Consumer Mexico, 1996 Euromonitor PLC.,1996 This statistical reference provides data on market trends in Mexico Coverage of each market sector provides data on market volume 1990 95 market value 1990 95 market share where available 1995 per capita volume for major product sectors 1990 1995 and expert forecasts to 2000 for each product sector Authoritative market size data are provided for more than 150 consumer products ranging from hot drinks and shampoo to automobiles and televisions Six years of data are provided for each sector in standardized tables allowing easy comparison and trend identification

Marketing Issues in Transitional Economies Rajeev Batra,2012-12-06 As the markets in transitional economies open and grow major challenges and opportunities arise for multinational firms entering these markets local firms facing these new competitors and policymakers seeking to increase the ability of all firms to compete fairly and efficiently Yet despite the important questions transition economies pose for policymakers and companies seeking to enter and compete in these new markets there has been a relative absence of systematic research on these concerns This book seeks to fill a gap in the existing literature by offering a pioneering and comprehensive examination of issues that have developed as markets in transitional economies become more deregulated and open The countries discussed include China the Czech Republic Hungary India Poland Romania Russia South Africa and South Korea The topics covered are divided into five main sections and the individual chapters are written by some of the world's leading academic experts on these issues Most of the authors draw from freshly collected data in new studies of consumers and or firms in transitional economies After an opening section which discusses the marketing issues and challenges multinational and local firms face in transitional economies the next three sections offer detailed treatments of changing consumer behavior measuring and improving the marketing orientation of firms and implementing and managing distribution channels The fifth and final section is devoted to firm strategies and tactics examined variously from the perspective of multinational firms entering these new markets from the viewpoint of existing local firms facing new competitive challenges from global entrants and from the perspective of local firms seeking to establish themselves in foreign markets where they have not previously competed Most of the individual chapters are revised versions of papers originally presented at a conference sponsored by the William Davidson Institute which focuses on research related to emerging and transitional economies and have not previously appeared in published form Thus the book is a unique collection of cutting edge scholarship on the various aspects of marketing in transitional economies It will prove valuable reading to academics policymakers and international business strategists USITC Publication ,1997
