The Role of Ecological Chemistry in Pollution Research and Sustainable Development Ali Mufit Bahadir, Gheorghe Duca, 2009-08-10 Sustainable Development has become the leading concept of the 21 century It describes a development which agrees with the needs of the present generation but does not endanger the chances of the coming generations to satisfy also their needs Sustainable development has become an important general goal for all fields of life like economy ecology and social balance The development and shaping of our future has been discussed internationally like on the summits of the Conferences in Rio and in Johannesburg But this is also a topic on national base in various countries Leading authorities in various fields of economy and politics have also accepted this concept Although the concept of sustainable development has been generally accepted there are still problems how to achieve and evaluate these general goals It is clear that the definitions about the prime needs vary from man to man from country to country and from continent to continent But pollution does not respect national borders Therefore it is necessary to develop the politics of economy ecology and social demands by a synergistic way that they are strengthened by each other If it is not possible to stop tendencies which threaten the future quality of life the cost demands of societies will dramatically increase and negative tendencies will become irreversible Biosensors for Security and Bioterrorism Applications Dimitrios P. Nikolelis, Georgia-Paraskevi Nikoleli, 2016-03-12 This book offers comprehensive coverage of biomarker biosensor interactions for the rapid detection of weapons of bioterrorism as well as current research trends and future developments and applications It will be useful to researchers in this field who are interested in new developments in the early detection of such The authors have collected very valuable and in some aspects indispensable experience in the area i e in the development and application of portable biosensors for the detection of potential hazards Most efforts are centered on the development of immunochemical assays including flow lateral systems and engineered antibodies and their fragments In addition new approaches to the detection of enzyme inhibitors direct enzymatic and microbial detection of metabolites and nutrients are elaborated Some realized prototypes and concept devices applicable for the further use as a basis for the cooperation programs are also discussed There is a particular focus on electrochemical and optical detection systems including those employing carbon nanotubes quantum dots and metalnanoparticles The authors are well known scientists and most of them are editors of respected international scientific journals Although recently developed biosensors utilize known principles the biosensing devices described can significantly shorten the time required for successful detection and enhance efforts in more time consuming directions e g remote sensing systems and validation in real sample analysis The authors describe advances in all stages of biosensor development theselection of biochemical components their use in biosensor assembly detection principles and improvements and applications for real sample assays
