Eva An Archaic Site:

Eva Thomas McDowell Nelson Lewis, Madeline D. Kneberg Lewis, 1961 Eva, an Archaic Site, by Thomas M.N. Lewis and Madeline Kneberg Lewis Thomas McDowell Nelson Lewis, 1970 Eva Thomas McDowell Nelson Lewis, Madeline D. Kneberg Lewis, 1961 Archaeology in America Linda S. Cordell, Kent Lightfoot, Francis McManamon, George Milner, 2008-12-30 The greatness of America is right under our feet The American past the people battles industry and homes can be found not only in libraries and museums but also in hundreds of archaeological sites that scientists investigate with great care These sites are not in distant lands accessible only by research scientists but nearby almost every locale possesses a parcel of land worthy of archaeological exploration Archaeology in America is the first resource that provides students researchers and anyone interested in their local history with a survey of the most important archaeological discoveries in North America Leading scholars most with an intimate knowledge of the area have written in depth essays on over 300 of the most important archaeological sites that explain the importance of the site the history of the people who left the artifacts and the nature of the ongoing research Archaeology in America divides its coverage into 8 regions the Arctic and Subarctic the Great Basin and Plateau the Great Plains and Rocky Mountains the Midwest the Northeast the Southeast the Southwest and the West Coast Each entry provides readers with an accessible overview of the archaeological site as well as books and articles for further research North American Projectile Points Wm Jack Hranicky RPA, 2011-06-09 This book provides a single source for projectile points in the literature of American archeology Its purpose is to provide a quick lookup for point types the user then utilizes the basic references that are provided for more research information point comparisons data distributions etc Archaeology of Prehistoric Native America Guy E. Gibbon, 2022-01-26 First published in 1998 Did prehistoric humans walk to North America from Siberia Who were the inhabitants of the spectacular Anasazi cliff dwellings in the Southwest and why did they disappear Native Americans used acorns as a major food source but how did they get rid of the tannic acid which is toxic to humans How does radiocarbon dating work and how accurate is it Written for the informed lay person college level student and professional Archaeology of Prehistoric Native America An Encyclopedia is an important resource for the study of the earliest North Americans including facts theories descriptions and speculations on the ancient nomads and hunter gathers that populated continental North America Beliefs and Rituals in Archaic Eastern North America Cheryl Claassen, 2015-06-15 Claassen's work focuses on the American Archaic period marked by the end of the Ice Age approximately 11 000 years ago and a geographic area bounded by the edge of the Great Plains Newfoundland and southern Florida This period and region share specific beliefs and practices such as human sacrifice dirt mound burial and oyster shell middens This interpretive guide serves as a platform for new interpretations and theories on this period For example Claassen connects rituals to topographic features and posits the Pleistocene Holocene transition as a major stimulus to Archaic beliefs She also expands the interpretation of existing data previously understood in economic or environmental terms to include how this same data may also reveal spiritual and symbolic practices Similarly Claassen interprets Archaic culture in terms of human agency and social constraint bringing ritual acts into focus as drivers of social transformation and ethnogenesis McIntyre Site Richard B.

Johnston,1984-01-01 Consists of five papers which provide new detailed perspectives on the interrelated cultural and natural aspects of a major component of the Late Archaic of southern Ontario Includes a description and analysis of the archaeological evidence from hearth pit features and artifacts collected identification of plant and faunal remains recovered from pit fill and reconstruction of the regional vegetation history based primarily upon pollen and lithologic data contained in sediment cores lifted from Rice Lake adjacent to the McIntyre site Published in English Landscapes of Ritual

Performance in Eastern North America Cheryl Claassen,2023-02-23 In the long history of documenting the material culture of the archaeological record meaning and actions of makers and users of these items is often overlooked The authors in this book focus on rituals exploring the natural and made landscape stages the ritual directors including their progression from shaman to priesthood and meaning of the rites They also provide comments on the end or failure of rites and cults from Paleoindian into post DeSoto years Chapters examine the archaeological records of Cahokia the lower Ohio Valley Aztalan Wisconsin Vermont Florida and Georgia and others scan the Eastern US investigating tobacco datura color symbolism deer symbolism mound stratigraphy flintknapping stone caching cults and their organization and red ochre These authors collectively query the beliefs that can be gleaned from mortuary practices and their variation from mound construction from imagery from the choice of landscape setting While some rituals were short lived others can be shown to span millennia as the ritual specialists modified their interpretations and introduced innovations Eva Palmer Sikelianos Artemis
