Rotberg, 2010-04-16 In Balancing Change and Tradition in Global Education Reform Rotberg brings together examples of current education reforms in sixteen countries written by insiders This book goes beyond myths and stereotypes and describes the difficult trade offs countries make as they attempt to implement reforms in the context of societal and global change In some countries reforms are a response to major political or economic shifts in others they are motivated by large upsurges in immigration and increased student diversity Irrespective of the reasons for education reform all countries face decisions about resource allocation equality of educational opportunity across diverse populations access to higher education student testing and tracking teacher accountability school choice and innovation The essays in this volume reveal the policy choices about the school reforms made by countries throughout the world the consequences associated with these choices the role that societal values historical antecedents and political structures play in facilitating or constraining reform Balancing Change and Tradition in Global Education Reform is an invaluable resource for policymakers faculty students and anyone interested in how decisions made about the education system ultimately affect the quality of education educational access and social justice History of the Young Ladies' Mutual Improvement Association of the Church of Jesus Christ of L.D.S., from November 1869 to June 1910 Susa Young Gates, 1911 Bridging Educational Leadership, Curriculum Theory and Didaktik Michael Uljens, Rose M. Ylimaki, 2017-10-04 This book is open access under a CC BY 4.0 license This volume argues for the need of a common ground that bridges leadership studies curriculum theory and Didaktik It proposes a non-affirmative education theory and its core concepts along with discursive institutionalism as an analytical tool to bridge these fields It concludes with implications of its coherent theoretical framing for future empirical research Recent neoliberal policies and transnational governance practices point toward new tensions in nation state education These challenges affect governance leadership and curriculum involving changes in aims and values that demand coherence Yet the traditionally disparate fields of educational leadership curriculum theory and Didaktik have developed separately both in terms of approaches to theory and theorizing in USA Europe and Asia and in the ways in which these theoretical traditions have informed empirical studies over time An additional aspect is that modern education theory was developed in relation to nation state education which in the meantime has become more complicated due to issues of globalopolitanism This volume examines the current state of affairs and addresses the issues involved In doing so it opens up a space for a renewed and thoughtful dialogue to rethink and re-theorize these traditions with non-affirmative education theory moving beyond social reproduction and social transformation perspectives European Perspectives on Professional Development in Teacher Education Ken Jones, Jim O'Brien, 2016-01-08 This collection focuses on the ways in which policy relating to professional development and professional learning in teacher education is changing across Europe The chapters

Transnational Policy Flows in European Education Andreas Nordin, Daniel Sundberg, 2014-05-12 International comparisons of educational achievements have come to play a crucial role in understanding the educational field today This book provides an in depth analysis of the development of international large scale assessments The lives and achievements of transnational educational experts who paved the way for these assessments are discussed as well as the rise of institutions specialising in the making and managing of educational statistics such as the International Association for the Evaluation of Educational Achievements IEA and the Programme for International Student Assessment PISA supported by the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development OECD Emerging transnational policy spaces and their effect on national education policy are also problematised using the concept of Europeanisation as a theoretical reference By bringing together historical and contemporary comparisons using different methodological approaches the goal of this book is to contribute to a widened understanding of educational policy making as an open ended and complex process that cannot be reduced to a rational process of linear implementation or a deduction of world models of education Instead the result of this book shows that transnational policy flows in many directions in European education today and is being negotiated translated interpreted or even contested when recontextualised in different national and or local arenas This book addresses crucial questions on how the landscape and its borders of educational knowledge and policy making have changed over time and place and how the map is currently redrawn in the contemporary globalised educational context It provides important navigational knowledge for students teachers and researchers as well as policy makers at different levels Methodological Concepts

Martyn Hammersley, 2023-02-21 Methodological Concepts A Critical Guide clarifies many key terms and issues in social research methodology It outlines the conventional meanings of these terms but also addresses their contentious character The aim is to offer interpretations of them that provide a coherent conception of the nature of social science This book is premised on the idea that more clarity about the meaning of major methodological concepts is essential and that the disagreements which pervade the field must be addressed Numerous key terms are discussed across 13 chapters including methodology method inquiry research science truth fact rigour bias objectivity data evidence induction deduction abduction understanding explanation reflexivity triangulation theory and researcher integrity These concepts have been implicated in fundamental divisions among social scientists exemplified by the paradigm wars of the past few decades The chapters of this book provide an overview of the various meanings given to these terms whilst also offering distinctive interpretations
