Max Klinger's radierungen, stiche und steindrucke Hans Wolfgang Singer, 1909 Klinger Max Klinger, 1912 Eva und die Zukunft Hamburger Kunsthalle, 1986 Westermanns illustrierte deutsche Monatshefte , 1892

Westermanns Monatshefte , 1892 Etchings, engravings and lithographs, 1878-1903 Hans Wolfgang Singer, Max Klinger, 1991

Max Klinger 1857 1920 was Germany's most important fin de siècle symbolist fusing romantic themes with classical imagery in a manner similar to that of his French counterparts Moreau and Redon In his graphic work he gave a painterly impression to the image by his use of aquatint achieving effects previously attained only by Goya Because of his ability to depict dreamlike states with astounding clarity Klinger was a major influence on such later artists as de Chirico and Dali Although Klinger was also a painter and sculptor it is his more than 400 graphic works that constitute his most impressive accomplishment Most of these are grouped within 14 portfolios to which he assigned opus numbers and they are often referred to as his cycles or series The musical allusion of the word opus is not accidental Klinger conceived of the series as iconographic symphonies He was personally associated with the great composers of his time notably Brahms and Richard Strauss and he created art projects related to their work of Brahms Fantasies Opus XII Singer 183 223 The first edition of Singer's complete catalogue of Klinger's etchings engravings and lithographs appeared in 1909 and covered all the works completed or in progress up to 1903 illustrating some 331 works and describing them in all their various states The original publisher Amsler Ruthardt of Berlin has authorized this new edition which adds a complete English translation as well as several new illustrations

Westermann's Jahrbuch der illustrierten deutschen Monatshefte , 1892 The Rhetoric of Topics and Forms Gianna Zocco, 2021-01-18

The fourth volume of the collected papers of the ICLA congress The Many Languages of Comparative Literature includes articles that study thematic and formal elements of literary texts Although the question of prioritizing either the level of content or that of form has often provoked controversies most contributions here treat them as internally connected While theoretical considerations inform many of the readings the main interest of most articles can be described as rhetorical in the widest sense given that the ancient discipline of rhetoric did not only include the study of rhetorical figures and tropes such as metaphor irony or satire but also that of topoi which were originally viewed as the places where certain arguments could be found but later came to represent the arguments or intellectual themes themselves Another feature shared by most of the articles is the tendency of undeclared thematology which not only reflects the persistence of the charge of positivism but also shows that most scholars prefer to locate themselves within more specific often interdisciplinary fields of literary study In this sense this volume does not only prove the ongoing relevance of traditional fields such as rhetoric and thematology but provides contributions to currently flourishing research areas among
