School Improvement Through Performance Feedback A.J. Visscher, R. Coe, 2013-10-08 Internationally there is an increasing trend to publish and feed back information to schools and teachers on their functioning School improvement is often the central goal though accountability and the promotion of parental student school choice also play an important role Practical initiatives and research in this field have often failed to recognize the full complexity of improving schools through school performance feedback Relevant questions are for example to what extent the information fed back to schools is valued and understood by them the school performance feedback enables appropriate diagnosis and remediation to take place in schools the use of the feedback generates conflicts and tensions for teachers and administrators the features of the implementation process and school organization influence the utilization of school performance feedback systems schools do actually improve as a result of performance feedback and the feedback systems have unintended effects This book fills the gap by including a thorough conceptualization of school feedback as a performance enhancing mechanism and the prerequisites for utilizing this information in schools a typology of school performance indicators a review of the research on the impact of feeding back performance information to individuals and to organizations evidence on the process problems and impact of school performance feedback from an international variety of contexts Australia the Netherlands United Kingdom USA and reflections on these experiences within the theoretical framework leading to recommended strategies for school improvement through performance feedback

The Cost-Effectiveness of 22 Approaches for Raising Student Achievement Stuart S. Yeh,2011-03-01 As a consequence of the federal No Child Left Behind NCLB law there is tremendous pressure on school principals teachers school superintendents district staff state departments of education and governors to maximize the increase in student achievement that is obtained with every dollar of expenditure Currently teachers are forced to rely on extremely inefficient approaches that take enormous amounts of time both during the school day and throughout the K 12 learning years This is experienced in terms of the reduced time that is available to teach subjects other than math and reading as schools resort to double periods of math double periods of reading and enormous amounts of remedial instruction that directly reduce the time available for other subjects including science art and music In contrast this book suggests that student achievement may be increased in a way that is not only cost effective in dollar terms but efficient in the sense that it does not rely on unusual investments in the time required to obtain results The book draws upon a wealth of cost effectiveness data to dispel common notions about what works in addressing the achievement gap increased expenditure per pupil charter schools voucher programs increased educational accountability class size reduction comprehensive school reform increased teacher salaries more selective teacher recruitment the use of value added methods to measure and reward teacher performance the use of National Board teacher certification to identify high performing teachers and a host of other approaches
