

WHAT IS PSYCHO-EDUCATIONAL ASSESSMENT EXACTLY?

Jordan is in the 3rd grade. He is struggling academically. He appears to be bright, but clearly isn't reaching his potential. On the surface the symptoms include a lack of focus and understanding, and a general lack of interest, but his mom is unsure why. While the problem goes unidentified, Jordan is losing confidence. He's feeling inferior, so why try?

Psychological assessment provides a comprehensive picture of how a person thinks and feels. Understanding how a child learns best entails understanding the child.

- Is Jordan following the main idea of the lesson or getting caught up in details?
- Is Jordan using study strategies that work best for him?
- Are social or emotional factors distracting him?

Educational assessment provides detailed information regarding how a person performs on academic tasks. Understanding academic strengths and weaknesses is the key to providing personalized instruction.

- Is Jordan reading material but not really comprehending it?
- Does Jordan seem to know his math facts but doesn't do well when there is a time constraint?
- Is Jordan only writing a minimal amount instead of elaborating on his ideas?

Psycho-educational assessment provides a complete picture and helps drive the most appropriate interventions. Jordan may just need some helpful organizational tools, or he may need to learn some stress-reduction strategies, or he may require academic accommodations. Don't guess. Psycho-educational assessment provides answers and direction.

PSYCHOLOGICAL ASSESSMENT + EDUCATIONAL ASSESSMENT = PSYCHO-EDUCATIONAL ASSESSMENT
