Evangelism In The Reformed Tradition:

Reformed Theology and the Style of Evangelism (Stapled Booklet) John H. Leith, 2010-07-01 The responsibility to bear witness to the gracious presence of God in Jesus Christ in Jerusalem and in all Judea and Samaria and to the end of the earth has been the perennial task of the Christian community from the beginning But the style and form of evangelism has varied according to time and place There is no one way of evangelism as the history of Christians witnessing and confessing their faith makes very clear The life of the Christian community has been and is enriched by a variety of evangelistic styles and by multiple theological confessions There is however a limit to possible Christian theologies and the preeminent theological task of the church is to test its proclamation by the word of God in Jesus Christ as attested in scripture to see that it is within the boundary There is also a limit to the legitimate styles of evangelism Some styles of evangelism corrupt and others strengthen the witness but more significantly style always betrays the real content There is an intimate but seldom seen connection between a person's thought and his style which Alfred North Whitehead defined precisely as the ultimate morality of mind The purpose of this paper is to relate Reformed theology to the form and style of evangelism The paper presupposes that evangelism as shaped by Reformed theology is a valid and effective form of evangelism but it does not presuppose that such form of evangelism is the only form that has validity or effectiveness It is hoped that the proposal will be the occasion for self criticism in the work of evangelism and for renewal of theological and ecclesiastical life in the Reformed tradition How Shall We Witness? Milton J. Coalter, Virgil Cruz, 1995-01-01 Witness has long been recognized as an essential task of Christ's disciples But the question of how to evangelize responsibly has often confused and divided the Christian community How Shall We Witness is an account of one Christian family seeking to heed Christ's commission to witness in and to the world

Evangelism in the Reformed Tradition Arnold Lovell, 1990-11-01 Reformed Theology and the Style of Evangelism John H. Leith, 1973* Reformed Means Missional Samuel T. Logan, Jr., World Reformed Fellowship, 2013-08-12 Christians are not on a mission for God his church is on his mission Being on God's mission means following Jesus into the darkest places of the world to bring the good news of the total redeeming work of Christ Leading reformed thinkers including Tim Keller Thomas Schirrmacher P J Buys Diane Langberg John Leonard Basyle Tchividjian Many Voices, One God Shirley C. Guthrie, Walter Brueggemann, George W. Stroup, 1998-01-01 Pluralism presents both promises and challenges for Christian theology in the next millennium Here biblical scholars religious ethicists and theologians reflect on the meaning and abiding relevance of the Christian revelation for communities of faith and the life of the church Evangelism Renewed Henry H. Knight, 2025-04-08 Evangelism has entered a new day From the 1980s to the present a vast array of new forms of evangelism have emerged shaped and informed by theological reflection on the good news of Jesus Christ and the mission of God Rejecting the reduced and formulaic forms of evangelism typical of most of the twentieth century these newer approaches speak more of the reign and love of God relationship and community and both personal and social transformation They are very diverse but each has something to contribute to how we understand and practice evangelism This book is a doorway into these theologies of evangelism and their fresh and dynamic ways of sharing the good news Equipping/empowering Clergy and Educators to Do Evangelism in the Reformed Tradition Ben Campbell Johnson,Mary Bettis Love,1988 The Church Transforming Michael Jinkins,2012-06-25 In this book theologian and author Michael Jinkins probes the present state and future of the Reformed faith Addressing increasing division over scriptural authority ordination and marriage of gay and lesbian people and other social issues Jinkins looks at some of the hallmarks of the Reformed faith and discusses how these can be viewed anew Topics covered include scriptural interpretation the place of Christ living in community the life of the mind unity versus schism and spirituality and mystery He concludes by showing how the Reformed faith is not a castle to be defended but a living treasure of great gifts Acronym for Evangelism Willie Woodson,2014-12-10 Evangelism is the spreading of the Gospel of Jesus Christ by sharing our faith In this instructional book Reverend Dr Willie Woodson captures the importance purpose and intent of using our faith in God to evangelize the world Reverend Dr Willie Woodson was the recipient of Verizon s Humanitarian Award in 2008 and participated in the Summer Collegiums for Small Churches at Virginia Seminary 2007 He also participated in a Week Seminar on Evangelism sponsored by Billy Graham Crusade in November 2006 and March 2007 and in The Institute For Reformed Theology Colloquy for 2006 Race and the Reformed Tradition Pilgrimage of a Presbyterian John H. Leith,2001-01-01 Though probably best known for his scholarship on John Calvin Leith s work in the church and the academy has earned him honors in many areas The collection of writings reveals some of his areas of expertise including not only Calvin but the history of the Presbyterian Church civil rights and integration a Christ centered faith theological education issues of sexuality and the nature of the church Pilgrimage of a Presbyterian is a through representation of the diversity of Leith s accomplishments and includes photographs and a complete bibliography of his writings The Continuing Conversion of the Church Darrell L. Guder,2000-03-20 Western society is now a very different very difficult mission field In such a situation the mission of evangelism cannot succeed with an attitude of business as usual This volume builds a theology of evangelism that has its focus on the church itself Darrell Guder shows that the church s missionary calling requires that the theology and practice of evangelism be fundamentally rethought and redirected focused on the continuing evangelization of the church so that it can carry out its witness faithfully in today s world In Part 1 Guder explores how under the influence of reductionism and individualism the church has historically moved away from a biblical theology of evangelism Part 2 presents contemporary challenges to the church s evangelical ministry especially those challenges that illustrate the church s need for continuing conversion Part 3 discusses what a truly missional theology would mean for the church including sweeping changes in its institutional structures and practices Written for teachers church leaders and students of evangelism this volume is vital reading for everyone engaged in mission work Symposium on Evangelism (JCR Vol. 07 No. 02) R. J. Rushdoony,Kenneth Gentry Jr.,Herbert Bowsher,Lewis Bulkeley,Donovan

Courville, Jefferson Duckett, P. Richard Flinn, James Jordan, Francis Mahaffy, Tommy W. Rogers, What's wrong with Reformed evangelism? Something certainly appears to be wrong. When we look at the growth of Arminian Baptist churches and compare this growth with the various Reformed Baptist and Presbyterian denominations, the numbers are very discouraging. When J. Gresham Machen left the old Presbyterian Church of the USA, he believed that his newly formed Presbyterian Church of America would grow rapidly as a result of its commitment to biblical inerrancy and the fundamentals of the faith. Instead, it suffered a split the next year, June 1937, and the two new denominations, the Bible Presbyterians and Orthodox Presbyterians, have not grown much in membership since 1937. Much the same has been true of the various Dutch-based Reformed denominations. They grow only if the birth rate increases and the death rate decreases within the respective groups. As I noted at age 21, the Dutch churches seem to have substituted procreation for a Board of Home Missions. I wasn't tactful in my youth the way I am today. So what's the problem? As you might expect, there is more than one problem. There is a whole pile of problems, such as:

1. not systematic evangelism programs
2. imitation Arminian evangelism programs
3. ineffective evangelism programs
4. a message geared to confrontation, not conquest
5. the humanism of our era
6. lack of capital
7. lack of confidence
8. lack of past successes to serve as precedents
9. seminaries that don't emphasize evangelism
10. too much concern for the rigors of theological speculation and not enough for the demands of applied theology
11. an inability to recognize and emphasize the strong points of the Reformed heritage
12. relevance, concrete answers for social problems, scholarship, organization
13. fatalism regarding stagnation and defeat
14. ignorance of the warfare between Christianity and humanism
15. compromised apologetic methodology, rationalism
16. a constricted view of the Kingdom of God
17. incompetence in the area of communication
18. a failure to tithe

One of the criticisms that has been aimed at the Christian reconstructionist movement is that it has not been concerned with evangelism. An odd charge coming from pastors who have never demonstrated that they have had any grasp of evangelism techniques, given their tiny churches and invisibility in their communities. The Christian reconstruction movement is less than a decade old. It has little capital. Yet despite its youth and its lack of capital, it has been influential enough to become a force in American thought and culture. When Newsweek identified the source of the religious right's ideas, it listed Chalcedon and only Chalcedon, Feb. 2, 1981, p. 60. But this is not evangelism in the eyes of the critics. This doesn't count. So what does count? Not sheer numbers, certainly. The critics cannot point to their own success using this criterion. What is the nature of legitimate evangelism? The latest issue of The Journal of Christian Reconstruction addresses itself to this important question. But more than this, it offers specific, affordable suggestions to struggling congregations about how they can grow, become more influential, and count for something within their communities. We need both a theory of evangelism and a practical program for evangelism. The Symposium on Evangelism offers both. There has been an enormous waste in virtually all popular programs of evangelism. They have not been cost-effective. They have not targeted their audiences properly. They have not been geared to repeated contacts. They have not been structured in terms of long range objectives objectives stretching out two or more generations The evangelism programs popular if that word can even be used in Reformed circles have generally been warmed over versions of Arminian evangelism These techniques have not worked for Reformed churches yet the pastors have not been willing to scrap them and rethink the whole question Is there a distinctively Reformed evangelism Are its techniques fundamentally different from those employed by Arminian churches Is there a distinctively Christian reconstructionist evangelism a type of evangelism unavailable to the majority of Arminian denominations and congregations The answer to all three questions is the same Yes The Journal provides the evidence Far from being unconcerned with evangelism the Chalcedon movement is vitally concerned with evangelism It is a small movement at present and it needs capital How can it expect to become a world wide force for social change if it neglects evangelism How can its perspective spread to the decision makers of this age except by evangelism Everyone needs evangelism the Arminians the introspective Reformed groups the traditional conservatives the Roman Catholics the universities the heathen seats of power the media the Iron Curtain nations and all points in between But the average pastor faces more immediate problems He has to build up his struggling congregation He needs to take the first steps That s why we have devoted an issue of the Journal to evangelism What distinguishes the Chalcedon movement s view of evangelism from the rival varieties that are common today is the scope of evangelism We are convinced that no evangelism program can hope to succeed unless it is driven by a vision of universal conquest The three strongest political forces in the world today are Marxism militant Islam and modern science All three are predestinarian All three are officially optimistic All three believe that they possess the key which will unlock the door of history All three believe that they have access to the true law structure which will give them power over the world All three see themselves as agents of historical and social change All three see the whole world as their proper and required domain Until Christians can match them doctrine for doctrine vision for vision we will sit on the sidelines of history cheering for no one in particular Waiting for the game to end so that we can go home That s what most Christians are doing now This produces an ineffective evangelism It produces a socially irrelevant witness It produces the kind of witness the Roman emperors would have preferred to see the early church proclaim The emperors of our day can live with this sort of witness too It is time to change both our strategy and our tactics Gary North

The Study of Evangelism Paul W. Chilcote,Lacey C. Warner,2008-02-13 Christians and communities of faith today are rediscovering evangelism as an essential aspect of the church s mission Many of the resulting books in the marketplace however have a hands on orientation often lacking serious theological engagement and reflection Bucking that how to trend The Study of Evangelism offers thirty groundbreaking essays that plumb the depths of the biblical and theological heritage of the church with reference to evangelistic practice Helpfully organized into six categories these broad diverse writings lay a solid scholarly foundation for meaningful dialogue about the church s practice of evangelism A Living Tradition:
