Black Women Taking Charge Emete Wanogho,1997 The Other Side of Empathy Jade E. Davis,2023-06-30 In The Other Side of Empathy Jade E Davis contests the value of empathy as an affective or critical tool Whether focusing on technology colonialism or racism she shows how empathy can obscure relationships of dominance control submission and victimization arguing that these histories taint the whole concept of empathy Drawing on digital archives of photographs memoirs newspapers interviews and advertisements regarding nineteenth century ethnographic museums and human zoos Davis shows how empathetic responses erase culpabilities from those institutions that commodify difference She also contends that empathy s mediation through digital technology cannot lead to more ethical actions as technology only connects representations of people rather than the people themselves In empathy s place Davis proposes mutual recognition as a way to see and experience others beyond colonial modes of empathy Davis illustrates that moving beyond empathy allows for a more nuanced understanding of the colonial past and its ongoing impact while providing for a more meaningful affective engagement with the world
