Conflict and Stability in Scottish Society, 1700-1850 Tom M.

Devine, 2001-01-01 Between the early eighteenth and the middle decades of the nineteenth century Scottish society was transformed by industrialisation urbanisation and major changes in agriculture and rural society The rate of town and city growth was among the fastest in western Europe migration and emigration accelerated and the traditional way of life in the Highland and Lowland countryside was brought to an end through the pressures of market demand and landlord strategy Such a major upheaval created increased social tension

Conflict and Stability in Scottish Society challenges the previously accepted view that this major upheaval in Scottish life did not stimulate much unrest and that a modern industrial society developed relatively smoothly The papers here given at the Scottish Historical Studies Seminar at Strathclyde University in 1988 89 suggest that protest was more common more enduring and more diverse than is usually supposed
