Specialized Administrative Law of the European Union

Herwig C. H. Hofmann, Gerard C. Rowe, Alexander H. Türk, 2018-11-30 This volume deals with the law governing the administrative implementation of European Union public policy Much of this law is specific to individual policy sectors The volume provides a study of such specialized administrative law for more than twenty sectors This cross sectoral approach allows for detailed comparisons of EU administration in diverse policy fields It identifies situations where legal structures and approaches may be unnecessarily duplicated thus indicating where a comprehensive general system could be advantageous for both Union law and policy achievement The comparative nature of the study also draws attention to policy fields which have proven to be testing grounds for approaches adopted subsequently in other areas In addition the work highlights the distinctive highly networked and strongly cooperative character of EU administration as a reflection of and a foundation for the operative nature of the European Union as a whole

Neolithic Stone Extraction in Britain and Europe Peter Topping, 2021-12-08 This book focuses on the introduction of Neolithic extraction practices across Europe through to the Atlantic periphery of Britain and Ireland The key research questions are when and why were these practices adopted and what role did extraction sites play in Neolithic society Neolithic mines and quarries have frequently been seen as fulfilling roles linked to the expansion of the Neolithic economy However this ignores the fact that many communities chose to selectively dig for certain types of stone in preference to others and why the products from these sites were generally deposited in special places such as wetlands To address this question 168 near global ethnographic studies were analyzed to identify common trends in traditional extraction practices to produce robust statistics about their motivations and material signatures Repeated associations emerged between storied locations the organization of extraction practices long distance distribution of products and the material evidence such activities left behind This suggests that we can now probably identify mythologized storied sites seasonality ritualized extraction and the use life of extraction site products The ethnographic model was tested against data from 223 near global archaeological extraction sites which confirmed a similar patterning in both material records It was used to analyze the social context of 79 Neolithic flint mine and 51 axe quarry excavations in Britain and Ireland and to review their European origins The evidence that emerges confirms the pivotal role played by Neolithic extraction practices in European Neolithization and that the interaction of indigenous foragers with migrant miners farmers was fundamental to the adoption of the new agropastoral lifestyle
