European Review Of Social Psychology:

European Review of Social Psychology, Volume 12 Wolfgang Stroebe, Miles Hewstone, 2002 This annual series reflects the dynamism of social psychology in Europe and the attention now being paid to European ideas and research. This review will further the international exchange of ideas by providing an outlet for substantial accounts of theoretical and empirical work. The most up to date authoritative view of contemporary social psychology today encompassed in an indispensable reference text. Geographical spread and theoretical diversity of authors to give broad coverage. The series has an experienced editorial board consisting of senior scholars from various European countries and the United States. All chapters are carefully edited to give consistency and accessibility to an international exchange of information. European Review of Social Psychology:

Volume 25 Miles Hewstone, 2017-07-05 The European Review of Social Psychology (ERSP) is an international open submission review journal published under the auspices of the European Association of Social Psychology. It provides an outlet for substantial theory based reviews of empirical work addressing the full range of topics covered by the field of social psychology. Potential authorship is international and papers are edited with the help of a distinguished international editorial board. Articles published in ERSP typically review a programme of the author's own research as evidenced by the author's own papers published in leading peer reviewed journals. The journal welcomes theoretical contributions that are underpinned by a substantial body of empirical research which locate the research programme within a wider body of published research in that area and provide an integration that is greater than the sum of the published articles. ERSP also publishes conventional reviews and meta analyses. All published review articles in this journal have undergone rigorous peer review based on initial screening and refereeing by the Editors and at least two independent expert referees. European Review of Social Psychology: Volume 24 Miles Hewstone, Wolfgang Stroebe, 2017-09-25 The European Review of Social Psychology (ERSP) is an e first journal published under the auspices of the European Association of Social Psychology. ERSP is an international journal which aims to further the international exchange of ideas by providing an outlet for substantial accounts of theoretical and empirical work whose origins may be but need not be European. The emphasis of these contributions is on substantial individual programmes of research and on critical assessment of major areas of research as well as on topics and initiatives of contemporary interest and originality. All articles published by the European Review whether commissioned by the editors assisted by an international board of established scholars or spontaneously submitted by authors are externally reviewed. Publication is subject to a positive outcome of this review process. ERSP now in its 24th year is widely accepted as one of the major international series in social psychology and accessed by all important abstracting and indexing services including the Social Science Citation Index. With its e first publishing model it offers authors an opportunity to participate in a well respected publication and to disseminate their ideas quickly while allowing readers the chance to see individual articles as soon as they are completed without waiting for a whole volume or issue to be prepared. European Review of
